"Class History"

On September 6, 1943, thirty-one of the greenest of green freshmen set sail in the little ship of "Dubois" out into the sea of "Knowledge." The ship's Captain was Mr. Beeks, Mr. Jackson was Navigator, Mr. Zehr, Director and Miss McKanna was Storekeeper.

Our crew members were:

Anthony Denu, Jr.	Dorthy Mae Meyer
Josephine Eisenhut	Willis Nigg
Anna Friedman	Ella Mae Pieper
Sara Jane Friedman	Leroy Pieper
Vera Gehlhausen	Lorena Potts
Virginia Gehlhausen	Betty Schepers
Pauline Goodman	Cletus Seger
Bobbie Gene Hall	Ruth Seitz
Janice Hoffman	Helen Seng
Marjorie Huebner	Delores Sermersheim
Walter Kalb	Junior Strotman
Oleavia Kieffner	Shirley Voelkel
Gerald Leistner	Marie Weisheit
Robert Loveall	Sarah Jane Zehr
Leroy Mathies	Robert Himself
Cletus Meyer

Manning the crew were class officers:

President: Gerald Leistner
Vice President: Dorthy Mae Meyer
Secretary: Anna Friedman
Treasurer: Shirley Voelkel

Our class sponsor was Mr. Beeks. The queen attendants were:
Vera Gehlhausen and Dorthy Mae Meyer.

During the year we improved our minds with such tasty dishes as: Algebra, English, Biology, Latin, Health and Safety. On November the 18th we were entertained with an initiation party by the Sophomores. Our journey closed in April and the entire crew were given four months shore leave.

Upon our return to port in September 1944, one crew member, Robert Himself was missing. We had the same officers as before. During this trip we spent our time in such enjoyable pass-time as English, World History, Geometry, Bookkeeping, and General Business.

The class officers were:

President: Anna Friedman
Vice President: Leroy Mathies
Secretary: Ruth Seitz
Treasurer: Janice Hoffmann

Our class sponsor was Mr. Zehr. The queen attendants were:
Anna Friedman and Oleavia Kieffner.

In October we gave the Freshmen an Initiation party. Again in April we enjoyed a four months leave.

When we reported for duty on September 4th, 1945 we were sorry to find that Virginia Gehlhausen, Willis Nigg, Walter Kalb, Delores Sermersheim, Marie Weisheit, and Junior Strotman, did not return, but a new member, Leora Campbell, joined us.

We retained the same officials.

Class officers were:

President: Janice Hoffmann
Vice President: Oleavia Kieffner
Secretary: Leroy Pieper
Treasurer: Sarah Jane Zehr

Our class sponsor was Mr. Jackson. Queen attendants of that year were: Oleavia Kieffner and Leora Campbell.

For past-time we centered our interest in English, U. S. History, Health, Safety, General Business, Arithmetic, Sociology, and Typing.

On April 4th, we entertained the Seniors at the Country Club.

On September 3rd, 1946 after four months leave we again set sail to complete our quest. We now have three new officials in our teaching staff. They are Chief Cook--Mrs. Zehr, Mr. Seger replaces Miss McKanna as Storekeeper, and Mr. Rowekamp has been added.

Lorena Potts did not return but a new mate, Victor Zehr Joined us.

Our time was spent in amusing our mind with Civics, English, Home Economics, Typing, Bookkeeping, Health and Safety, Algebra and Shorthand.

Our class officers are:

President: Leroy Mathies
Vice President: Victor Zehr
Treasurer: Betty Schepers
Secretary: Shirley Voelkel

Our class sponsor is Mr. Zehr. Our motto is "Tonight we Launch, Where Shall We Anchor?"

Our last voyage on the good old U. S. S. Dubois will be ended with commencement exercises on April 29, 1947 on the deck of our Grand Old Ship.

Though we have been striving for the port of "Graduation" for four years, we are sorry we have to leave the U. S. S. Dubois.

CLASS WILL

GERALD BASCH wills his ever lasting second handed lipstick to Dallas Friedman. (Dallas try and watch the lipstick even if Jim couldn't help it.)

LEORA CAMPBELL wills her queen attendance to Norma Lee Sendelweck. (You have the looks Norma Lee, so keep on trying.)

ANTHONY DENU JR. wills his rosy blush and laughing eyes to Robert Schott. (You have the blush, but use more expression in your eyes.)

JOSEPHINE EISENHUT wills her love for reading story books to Junior Seitz. (Seitz it will do you some good to read story books once in a while instead of looking at text books all the time.)

ANNA FRIEDMAN wills her talkativeness to the boys at recess to Juanita Popp. (If it's not the looks Juanita what is the trouble.)

SARAH JANE FRIEDMAN wills her love to be a one man's girl to Doris Ann Schoering. (Doris Ann it's about time you settle down.)

VERA GEHLHAUSEN wills her artistic ability to Norma Jean Stamm. (Norma keep up the good work they will be needing someone like you next year.)

PAULINE GOODMAN wills her quietness to Gloria Ann Basch. (Gloria you will be a senior next year and seniors are supposed to be dignified.)

BOBBIE CENE HALL wills his habits to agree with the girls in class meetings to Bill Fischer. (Fischer this is one way to get on the good side of the girls.)

JANICE HOFFMANN wills her ability to aggravate Mr. Zehr in assemblies to Edgar Joe Munch. (Edgar Joe you have to do more than wink at the girls, why not try talking to them once.)

MARJORIE HUEBNER wills her love for snacks at recess to Mary Ann Hoffmann. (Mary Ann a little weight wouldn't ruin that figure of yours.)

OLEAVIA KIEFFNER wills her "Yell Leadership" to Laura Nolan. (This is good for the figure Laura but you will have to cut down on the calories.)

- GERALD LEISTNER wills his love for staying out late at nights to Paul Baer. (Paul sleep is good for you, but too much also harms the "Brain" get what we mean?")
- ROBERT LOVEALL wills his love to argue with the teachers in class to Charles Schnell. (You're only a Sophomore, Charles but you will learn in a year or two.)
- LEROY MATHIES wills his patience to go with Ann Friedman to Gene Bauer. (Gene just have patience, sooner or late the right one will appear.)
- CLETUS MEYER wills his title of Captain of the basketball team to Richard Pieper. (We're betting on you, Rich.)
- DORTHY MAE MEYER wills her long curly blond hair and laughing spells to Jeannine Huebner. (Jeannine you already have the spells and a permanent may do the trick for the hair.)
- ELLA MAE PIEPER wills her staying home routine over week ends to Geraldine Strotman. (Geraldine this is a good idea once in a while.)
- LEROY PIEPER wills his dark good looks and that slow smile to George Neukam. (George you have the looks, practice on the smile)
- BETTY SCHEPERS wills her study habits to Alva Leistner. (Study and good behavior get you on the honor roll every month, Alva.)
- CLETUS SEGER wills his wavy hair and dimples to Rudy Huebner. (Rudy you have the waves in your hair, but what about the dimples?)
- RUTH SEITZ wills her ability to get a different boy friend every week end to Iona Neukam. (Keep up the work Iona you have a good start.)
- HELEN SENG wills her boyish appearance and straight forwardness to Mary Ann Bair. (Overalls does it every time Mary Ann.)
- SHIRLEY VOELKEL wills her musical knowledge to the Humbert Twins. (A lot of practice and a good teacher will do the trick girls.)
- SARAH JANE ZEHR wills her ability to sew to Laverne Friedman. (You have a good start so keep up the good work and do have plenty of patience.)
- VICTOR ZEHR wills his slow way with women to Vic Teder. (It must be in the name, huh Vic T.?)

"THE CLASS PROPHECY"

Well, it seems that I'm not the only one who went to High School just for nothing. Right after school was out I (Oleavia Kieffner) became a farmer's wife. Yes, I married that farmer, saw miller plus a truck driver by the name of Victor Zehr. While I had to stay home on the farm, Vic was traveling from place to place tending to his business affairs. As I was on the farm now for such a long time, I decided I needed a vacation and thought I'd go to my little home town of Haysville and while there, I'd try and hunt up some of my classmates with whom I had gone to school. I found out that it was quite a difficult thing to do.

While at home I was told my next door neighbor and best friend Janice Hoffman also got married to that farmer (Clarence Sendelweck) with whom she had gone with so many years. While her husband was at home doing the hard work, his wife was taking it easy working at a factory in the nearby city.

While visiting my Aunt I had found out that my cousin the very Miss Dorothy Mae Meyer had her way about taking a business course and is now the Editor of the Indianapolis Star. I know she is well fitted for that job because she had what it took when she was Editor of the Dubois Jeep Echo.

I decided to visit for a day in Dubois and while visiting there I really was surprised to have heard what I did. It could have been gossip too, I guess, but I took it for granted that it was the truth. Well anyway, there were the two Friedman girls, Anna and Sara Jane. Both are married now, too. Sara Jane Friedman (now Striegel) is living on a farm with her in-laws raising Fall and Winter onions. Anna and her husband Leroy Mathies, the owner of a big Chevrolet Garage in Dubois are living very happily together. Anna herself enjoys filling the automobiles up with gas and air, while Leroy does the mechanical work which makes him use his brains quite a bit but he doesn't mind it.

I happened to think about Pauline Goodman and was ready to go and visit her when I was told that she also got hitched after school to Amos Dorsam, the soldier. She is now traveling from coast to coast trying to keep up with her husband at Army Camps. I don't blame her.

I asked some of my friends about Josephine Eisenhut and was a little surprised at what I heard. Josephine didn't get married but is staying at home with her Mama, relieving her of all the hard work. She still has her seven days a week dates with that he-man Richard Lottes. I decided to visit Jo since she didn't live far from Dubois (just across a bridge and a railroad track) and sure enough I found her at home. I asked her about Leora Campbell and she said that she's going to college. I thought to myself, Leora, being a very intelligent young lady, did what her little heart desired. She's going to college and is really learning to be somebody.

Josephine and I were talking over old times and about the Class of '47'. Yes, I figured this of Ella Mae Pieper. She's working in a big city, doing house work for somebody and on her night's off, there is always somebody waiting to take her to a movie or a stroll through the park. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, it's that male with whom she had made friends last year. Another girl doing house work in a city is Sarah Jane Zehr. Heard she can't wait until her nights off, so at night she sneaks out of the house when everybody is sleeping to stroll down the street, hand in hand with her handsome beau beside her.

We were chatting for quite some time when I thought of Bobby Hall and Robert Loveall. I thought maybe Robert Loveall would be a changed person by now but he still seems to be taking life very easy. Heard he walks from his home to a restaurant in Dubois every day for his exercise. Other times while not taking this exercise, he lies in bed reading nothing but True Stories and still thinking of Ruth Seitz. He just can't see where she disappeared to after school was out. Bobby Hall must really be a very quiet boy. How can he do it? No one hardly sees or hears anything of him. Heard once though, he would make a good farmer and a very fine husband for some Dame. Girls should really take advantage of that.

At school we used to call Cletus Seger "Pokey", but Jo said we need not call him that anymore because he has really changed while being a farmer, and I guess most of all when going with girls he knows better than to be "Pokey."

What a shock it was to me when Jo told me that Marjorie Huebner and her husband (Albert Weisheit) now took over the Friendly Tavern at Haysville. Yes, I always knew that Albert thought the Friendly Tavern was more than friendly but I didn't think it would turn out like this and so quick.

I was wondering what happened to the ex-sailor, Gerald Basch. Jo said he still pesters the girls and when he's out with one he usually has the second handed lipstick on his lips for weeks. Seems like that would be embarrassing.

It was getting late in the evening so I decided to go back to Dubois to have my lunch in one of the restaurants. Finally I was tapped on my back by none other than Ruth Seitz. I was really surprised to see her since I hadn't seen her since those "Dear Old School Days." I asked her to join me and she did. She told me she was now a secretary at a firm in Evansville and that she had just come back from New York on a business trip, and had also decided to stop by at Dubois to see some of our classmates. Ruth had also met some of our former "47" classmates and she told me her story as follows: When I (Ruth Seitz) arrived in New York I went to a Hotel and asked for a room. Who should I meet there but Gerald Leistner who owned the Hotel and was now driving a big blue Limousine. After chatting with him awhile, he told me he was married to Dorothy H.

I was escorted to my room and about an hour later, who should come to my room but Betty Schepers who had heard of my arrival from Gerald. She told me of her experiences after she completed high school and she also said that she is now Assistant Editor of the New York Times.

Betty and I decided to go out for the night. Our first stop was at a big night club, the Crockadarool. After being seated, the lights dimmed and the spot light went on and who should appear but Helen Seng in a slinky, black, formal. Betty, then told me that Helen had taken vocal lessons and was now a singer, but that she was tired of singing and was ready to resume her job back at Beckman's dairy.

Finally, I glanced at the orchestra and I thought I saw a familiar looking face and who was it, but Shirley Voelkel, in person now playing in the "Beanie Parker Orchestra". I was rather surprised because I thought she'd keep on working behind the candy counter in the 5 & 10 Cent Store. Maybe it's better this way because people kept wondering why there was a candy shortage.

On our way back to the Hotel, who should we run into but Vera (formerly Gehlhausen) now married to an Artist and they both paint pictures for some magazine and are just rolling in the dough.

Vera then told me of Cletus Meyer who is the world's high scorer on a Professional Basketball Team in New York. Yes, Cletus kept on with basketball and we remember him as a good player on the D. H. S. Team.

Well, this was the end of the story that Ruth told me and I kept thinking that there were more of us in the class of "47", but I couldn't remember whom we could have missed. I finally, thought of Leroy Pieper and asked Ruth about him. She told me he was now married to Mary Ann H. and owned a Barber Shop here in Dubois. Mary Ann didn't like the country so Leroy had to move to town. Poor Leroy: Well we could have told you this yet in school days.

Ruth said that Junior Denu was now a Greyhound Bus Driver. We know he used to like to drive a school bus to haul the good looking girls to school but we didn't know that he lets all the good looking ones ride free on the Greyhound and makes the others pay double. What a shame!!

Now that it was getting late, and we had talked over old times and all we wanted to hear, we decided to journey back to our same old work in this business world. My vacation is now over and I find myself once more back on the farm. I was thinking it all over and just thought how silly the whole class of "1947" turned out to be. Here's hoping the future of the other classes will look much brighter.
