Freshmen Kristen Moore, Brooke Seger, April Schepers, Germany Hassfurth, and Colin Heeke

At the beginning of each year, each student has expectations about the year to come are generally nervous about entering high school. Upperclassmen, homework, and teachers are all things they tend to worry about. Throughout freshmen year you meet new people, creating friendships. You join clubs and sports, and realize and take advantage of your freedom.

Sophomore

year you have a better overall idea of what high school is about and you know what teachers expect of you. You look forward to getting your license and establish your group of friends.

Junior year you begin to prepare for your life after high school by taking vocational classes, the SAT, or ACT. You look forward to your first prom, and begin to take the role of leadership that is expected of you the following year.

Senior

year is the end of the beginning. You start off by worrying about college applications, scholarships, and future plans. As you look forward to prom and graduation, senioritis kicks in as you long for the end of the year. You soon realize that this is your last year with your classmates and begin to treasure your memories and time spent with them.

Each year you anticipate something different,
each year is a

"The first sleepover I went to was at April Schepers' house and it was like 10 girls and we got so scared we locked ourselves into a bathroom because it didn't have any windows."

Freshman Jordan Kleinheiter

"On my first day of high school I remember being nervous about being a freshman and confused about where I was supposed to go. I remember being scared to death of Mr. Schipp."

Junior Nathan Lampert

"My first piercing was my ears for my 9th birthday and I cried and this 3 year old was getting hers done too and she was laughing."

Senior Jaleigh Minton

"My first kiss was with Adam Schroering at the Valentine's Day dance in the 7th grade."

"My first kiss was with Laine Friedman in our 8th grade play."

Juniors Laine Friedman and Ben Gessner

"My first speeding ticket was three days after I got my license and we had an Easter party. When I got ready to leave for work my dad told me to drive slow. Well I was driving down the highway towards Springs Valley, going about 75 mph in a 45 mph zone, jammin' to the Eagles Hotel California in my '89 Beretta. When I spotted a cop coming straight at me. He totally did a U-turn on the highway to turn around and pull me over. I started bawling and when he asked me questions he couldn't understand me. I ended up getting off with a warning. When I turned the car back on, Hotel California was still playing."

Senior Brooke Reuber

FIRST THINGS

"My first vacation was to visit my aunt in Pennsylvania. My mom, my aunt, my brother, and three cousins were in a van together. My aunt was driving and got pulled over. She and my mom thought we were all sleeping so they weren't going to tell anyone, but I ruined it! When we got there I said, 'We'd have gotten here sooner if the ice cream man hadn't pulled us over.' They had to tell everyone then the real reason we were late." Junior Traci Lueken

"I lied about my first date. I told my mom I was just going out, but I went on a double date with Laine Friedman and Brad Schroering." Sophomore Gia Terwiske

"My first concert was Rascal Flatts. I went with my cousin, Liz, my aunt, and a friend. It was awesome except the guy a few rows back spilled his beer and got our new t-shirts that were on the floor soaked!" Sophomore Jill Wagner

"One day I came home from volleyball practice and was feeling pretty crappy. My brother and my dad were sitting in the kitchen getting ready to leave to go hunting. Suddenly, my brother looked up and said 'So do you like your new car?'...My face went blank. Then dad started laughing and told me to look in the garage. I jumped up and darted for the door. There sat my dream car, a Mercury Cougar just waiting for me. I was so excited I jumped on my dad saying 'Thank you' over and over again." Junior Erica Lampert

"Our biggest accomplishment this band season was getting the awards we did because we had a small band, and it was the first year for our new band director."

Senior Leah Norman

"Being the band director has changed every single aspect in my life in every way. I have more responsibilities and I'm working more on my own. It's also different because I'm used to the big city of Indianapolis."

Mr. Conrad

"I decided to play the drums because when I was young I would ride in my dad's truck with him. He would always play music by classic rock bands. We would always act like we were playing the drums, so in middle school when I got involved in band, I decided to play them."

Then & NOW

"The most significant change in the past thirty years in education has been the use of technology, not only in the classrooms but in the administration of schools. There are so many things that are stored on computers such as class scheduling, grading, attendance, all of the reporting for the state, and now our lunch services. If you would have told me fifteen years ago that this would be the case I wouldn't have been able to imagine all the things that are required of us through technology." Mr. Balka

1973

"Unlike years ago, more and more families have both parents working. Many times this leaves the kids unsupervised and left to do their own thing. This lack of supervision and increasing availability of numerous means of communication has contributed (good or bad) to students being more independent. Many more students today have jobs to pay for a car and the gas to get to that job.

Younger people are fighting America's wars today. Students see this ominously looming on their horizons. Technology keeps changing at an accelerating pace. Students learn very quickly today using the technology, but must still master the good reading and mathematics skill, as in the past.

Today's teachers are locked-in to teaching all of the required 'state standards'. As a result some classes are time-wise very regimented. The one constant is that teachers still love helping students learn. Teachers and administrators, although reluctantly, give students 'tough love' when students need that kid of special attention. Kids are still kids but with many more choices and distractions." Mr. Dave Shippey

1975

"The kids are more open and informed about the world today than they were thirty years ago! The teachers are held more accountable for teaching because of state standards." Mr. Betz

1970

"Actually, it sounds a little unconventional, but much has happened and yet so little. The building appears basically the same and the students mirror their parents of 30 years ago. But on the other hand, curriculums, teachers, building additions, losses and wins compound the extreme changes that have taken place." Mrs. Meredith

1974

"To answer the question, 'What has changed in the last 30 years?' I would say EVERYTHING! Names of courses, content of courses, class schedules, buildings, technology, teachers, and students have all changed. Books have been written on all these many changes. I am not an expert on all these so I will stick with what I am most familiar, me. I know I have really changed, also. I have learned so much. My formal education in high school and college allowed me to establish my career, but that was only the beginning. Teaching my content areas has been my most valuable learning experience. Students have been my next valuable experience. Every year, nearly every day, students share knowledge or experiences that are new to me. It has taken me from the 'know it all' college graduate to the 'nothing surprises me' person I am today.

Change is good. Nothing stays the same. You are either moving forward or going backwards. I value change. It is life today more than ever. Embrace it." Mrs. Denbo

"Students seem more apathetic or non-caring now and are willing to settle for less than what I remember 30 years ago. Please keep in mind that not all (students) would fit into such a group." Mr. Mathena

Because this year is the 30th anniversary of our high school, we asked the teachers who have been here since 1976 to give their opinions on what the biggest change in our school has been.

Guess Who!

Can you guess who these juniors are by their eccentric body parts?

This girl's face brightens every summer because her freckles pop out from the sunshine.

This girl is someone who is always flashing a beautiful smile.

This boy was fearless while he got his ear pierced when he was 10 years old.

This boy's eyes are always open, looking for the next fun thing to do.

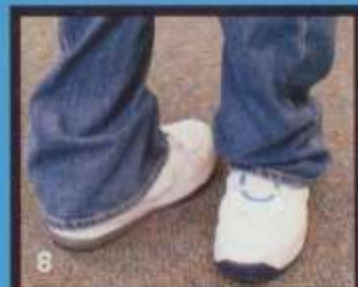

This boy was born with two cowlicks in the back of his head.

This girl loves to be barefoot and loves to have her feet tickled.

This boy can drastically move his adams apple simply by laughing and talking.

This boy is very flexible with his leg because he once broke it as a child.

Answers: 1.) Heather Breeding, 2.) Koryn Heeke, 3.) Aaron Collier, 4.) Darren Crowder, 5.) Nathan Lampert, 6.) Rachel Voegel, 7.) Eric Harrison, 8.) David Childers

"I have been playing varsity first base since my sophomore year and it is by far my favorite position because I love stretching for the ball and being a part of making an out quite often. Also playing with the girls on the team is very enjoyable and having a close bond with each and every one of the them especially my cousin senior Amanda Jones." Junior Kirby Wineinger

"My favorite position is anywhere in the outfield because I like to hustle and run to catch flyballs. Being a freshman is not all that bad because all the upper classmen are pretty nice to us "underdogs". Freshman Vanessa Buechlein

"The hardest part about practice is when Coach Kyle Neukam hits fly balls in the gaps and that still is not even that hard. Also the team gave me the nickname Butter because at the beginning of the year I had a hard time catching fly balls." Sophomore Abby Friedman

Junior Kelli Lueken, Freshman Abby Betz, and Sophomore Jill Reckwirth

"My most embarrassing moment in track is when in long jump, I tripped and fell on my face in front of everyone." Senior Amanda Verkamp

Senior Pat Hasenour

Senior Josh Burger

Senior Amanda Hopster

"My favorite thing about track is that everyone supports and cheers for each other." Sophomore Arielle Piper

"My favorite thing about practice is having an easy practice and getting out early and my least favorite part is having to run ladders." Freshman April Mehringer

"My favorite thing about track is the bus ride home. Mostly because you don't have to worry about anything and every body is jumpy." Junior Ben Gessner

Freshman Kristina Knies

Junior Courtney Backlund

"My favorite thing about track practice is the timed run. My least favorite is running the 300 in the back field." Senior Phil Hasenour

"My most embarrassing moment was at Perry Central. I was running the 300 m intermediate hurdles. When I got to the first hurdle I just plowed it over. Then when I got to the third hurdle I plowed it over too." Freshman Derek Breitwieser

You gave the gift of love and joy to our lives. You are the brightest star. So just follow your dreams and it will take you so very far. You grew up way too fast, and all we have left of your childhood are memories. But you will always be our little girl.

Some lessons stay with you.

From pre-school to high school, you're growing, learning and changing. And each step of the way, the lessons that last a lifetime are the ones that teach you teamwork, integrity, responsibility and community. Northeast Dubois High School is a great place to learn those values, and that's why Old National Bank is a proud supporter of NDHS students, faculty and activities.

High School...

-Somewhere between the procrastination
...And the homework
...And the incessant forwards
...And the friendships
...And the nasty cafeteria food
...And the calls to each other complaining about crushes
...Somewhere between the phone calls to old friends
...And the "I miss you's"
...And the "I love you's"
...And the "What are we doing tonight's?"
...And somewhere between all of the changing & growing

-Somewhere between the classes
...And the skipping classes
...And the studying for tests
...And the pretending to study for tests
...And the downright not studying for tests
-I forgot
...I forgot what high school is all about
...I forgot what it meant to cry
...I forgot that pretending to be happy doesn't make you happy
...And that pretending to be smart doesn't make you smart
...I forgot that you can't just forget the past in fear of the future
...I forgot that you can't control falling in love
...And that you can't make yourself fall in love

-I learned that I can love
...I learned that it's okay to mess up
...And it's okay to ask for help
...I learned it's okay to complain and whine to all your friends for a whole day
...I learned that sometimes the things you want most you just can't have
...It's the friendships which means taking chances
...I learned that sometimes the things we want to forget are the things which we most need to talk about
...I learned that letters from friends are most important thing
...And that sending cards to your friends makes you feel better

-But basically I just learned that my friends
...Both old and new
...Are the most important people to me in the world
...And without them, I wouldn't be who I am today
