Dedication

Two who have served FP students

The 1987 Tracer is dedicated to two teachers who retired at the end of this school year.

Sr. Josepha Book started her teaching career at St. Ferdinand High School when it first opened its doors in 1950. In 1955 she left teaching to work as a nurse for 11 years. Then in 1967 she came back to St. Ferdinand High School. She was a teacher here in 1968 when it became a public school and in 1971 when Ferdinand and Birdseye schools were consolidated. She has taught biology, chemistry, general science, home economics and served as school nurse. She has also helped with the Holiday Ball, made draperies for classrooms, made covers for school equipment and prepared the cookies, coffee and punch for hundreds of meetings and workshops. She retires with 24 years of teaching experience.

Mrs. Alamae Walton began her teaching career in 1950 at Elberfeld where she taught typing, band and shorthand. From 1951 to 1953 she taught band, music and art at English. She was out of education for two years, and then in 1955 she went to Birdseye High School where she taught business and band. She sponsored the first Prom at Birdseye. With the consolidation in 1971 Mrs. Walton came to Forest Park to teach business. At FP she began the program of teaching keyboarding (using a computer keyboard) instead of typing. She retires with 33 years of teaching experience.

Senior memories

Looking back, we wonder
Has it really been twelve years?
Walking down our senior hall
The memories appear.

Thinking back to fun and friends,
Will we leave it behind?
When we go our separate ways
What new things will we find?

The parties we had, the times
Make us smile and reminisce.
So little time to say goodbye
To friends we know we'll miss.

Now, as twelve years have come and gone,
We cherish the times we've spent,
The practices, games and weekends,
Things we did, places we went.

So as we walk out to the world,
Whatever may come to pass,
We'll always hold the memories
Of our '87 senior class.

Marching Rangers

The Forest Park Marching Rangers have been state champs four times in six years, that is an outstanding record that we hope continues in the years to come.

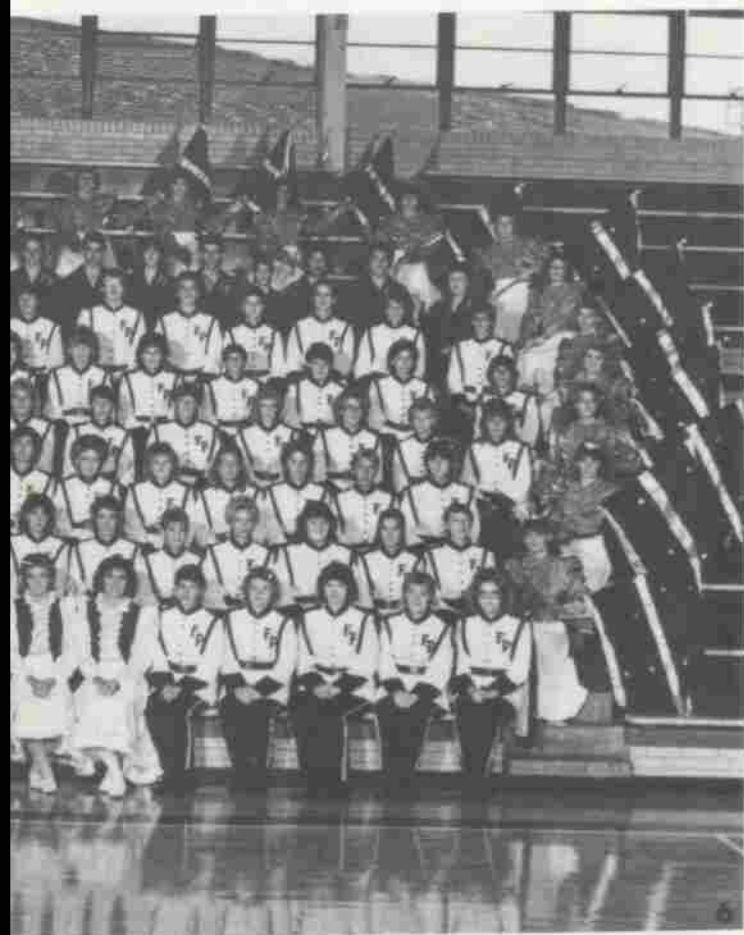

State champs, it is a dream that has come true for us four times in six years. An excellent record we want to continue. What we learn from our music program is that we exist as

1. The field commanders warm up the band before the Jasper contest. 2. The Marching Rangers perform at District. 3. The percussion section warms up before competition. 4. Barb Schnell, Jenny Boeglin and Karla Van Winkle are the 1986-87 field commanders. 5. Jenny Boeglin commands the band during competition at Jasper. 6. The 1986-87 Marching Rangers. 7. The 1986-87 band officers.

are still on top

students of our Band, School and Community and we put forth our best efforts to improve ourselves as much as we can. If we happen to win in the process, all the better. If we don't that doesn't lessen our enjoyment and it doesn't mean we've learned or experienced less; those things no one can take away from us.

Auxiliaries add sparkle and excitement

The drill corps is a very important part of the band. It adds sparkle and excitement while the rest of the band is marching.

This has proven to be a very successful year for the drill corps. They won best color guard and auxiliary awards at Heritage Hills, Princeton, Reitz and Castle. They finished the marching season off with the State Championship in Indianapolis. The drill corps is under the direction of Miss Judy Young, new assistant band director. The drill corps, as well as the band, has proven that it isn't just the directors that make a band State Champs. It is the members who put forth their best efforts.

1. Kris Lueken and Shelley Van Winkle show off their sexy uniforms before competition. 2. Janet Keusch and Tonia King stand proud during warm ups. 3. The 1986-87 drill corps team. 4. Jamie Ruhe, Janet Keusch, Kateri Wessel, Gayla Schue and Deanna Muller are the 1986-87 drill corps captians and co-captians. 5. Kateri Wessel leads the drill corps in warm ups before District. 6. The drill corps practice their routine in the gym.

Chorus puts in long hours of practice

The FP chorus has put in many long hours of practice this year. The FP chorus has put in many long hours of practice this year. In December they participated in the Christmas concert, and they went caroling at the Festival of Lights held at Christmas Lake Village. They also participated in the ISSMA solo and ensemble contest held in Evansville. The chorus also gave a spring concert, and they sang for graduation.

1. Miss Young conducts the chorus. 2. Is Matt Winings asleep on the job? 3. These chorus members really get into their singing.

Jingle Bell Ball is theme for this year's Ball

The Jingle Bell Ball was the name for this year's Holiday Ball. It was held December 14 at the St. Anthony Community Center.

The music for this year's ball was provided by Clear Creek. Robert McCarty Photography was there taking pictures of couples.

The Holiday Ball was sponsored by the Student Council. Refreshments were made by the home economics classes.

1. Tina Shaw and Steve Pancake enjoy the Jingle Bell Ball. 2. Seniors Jan Hubers, Carol Schepers and Lori Steckler take time out from dancing to talk. 3. FP students enjoy a slow dance with their dates at the Holiday Ball. 4. These senior boys seem to be having an enjoyable conversation.

SC voice of student body

The FP student council is the voice of the student body. This year the student council sponsored the traditional Holiday Ball and the MORP. The SC also sponsored a convocation, 1. The 1986-87 SC officers are: Jenny Boeglin, president, Kevin Kluemper, vice-president, Kateri Wessel, secretary, Jeff Hagedorn, treasurer and sponsor, Mr. Larry Tenbarge. 2. These SC members kick back and relax during a meeting. 3. Tammy Kerstines, Glenda Klem and Yvonne Muller are really interested in the meeting.

NaHoSo provides services

The National Honor Society is a club designed for students who have shown ability in leadership, service, character and academics.

The club devotes its energies in trying to provide services for the school, as well as for the students. NaHoSo is totally responsible for running the school bookstore and they also keep the school marquees up to date. NaHoSo also sponsors the intramural basketball leagues. They also act as hosts for the parent-teacher conferences and they also have campus clean-ups.

The National Honor Society sponsor is Mr. Gene Keusch. The NaHoSo officers are Jenny Boeglin, president, Eric Oser, vice-president, Audrey Knust, secretary and Lynn Wagner, treasurer. 1. Lynn Wagner gives a speech at the NaHoSo inductions. 2. Mr. Keusch installs new officers. 3. The 1986-87 NaHoSo members.

Betas are successful at state convention

The big event this year for the FP Beta Club chapter was attending the state convention. The convention was held in Indianapolis on November 7 and 8, 1986. The FP delegation was, as usual, very successful. Janet Keusch was elected state secretary. The scapbook won first place. Senior Greg Kemper won first place in the essay contest. Senior Donna Gish won first place in the short story judging. Junior Janet Keusch won second place in short story.

1. The 1986-87 Beta Club officers are Kim Marks, treasurer, Jenny Boeglin, secretary, Matt Austin, vice-president, and Audrey Knust, president. 2. Sponsor Sr. Rebecca Abel and Audrey discuss state convention. 3. Juniors Paul Hassfurter and Brad Persohn take a load off their feet during a Beta meeting. 4. The 1986-87 Beta Club members.

OEA has successful year

The FP Office Education Association chapter had a very successful year. At the regional contest, Jill Reynolds was elected District 10 president and nine OEA members received the Torch award. Thirteen FP students qualified to compete in the state OEA leadership conference which was held March 20-22, 1987, in Indianapolis. 1. Sponsor Rowena Weyer takes time out of an OEA meeting to pose for a picture. 2. Janice Buschkoetter and Jill Reynolds discuss the state conference. 3. Kristi Reutman thinks that it takes too much effort to raise her hand. 4. The 1986-87 OEA officers are Brenda Lee, secretary, Janice Buschkoetter, historian, Jill Reynolds, vice-president, and Donna Weyer, president.

FFA sells citrus, enters contests

The FP chapter of the Future Farmers of America sold citrus as a fund raiser and participated in contests this year. The FP soil judging team, which advanced to state competition, consisted of Ron Wiseman, Danny Jochem, Phil Ebert and Greg Steckler. Over 75 FFA members and parents attended the club's annual awards banquet on April 22, 1987. The Star Chapter Farmer for the year was Andy Hassfur-ther. The FFA officers were Andy Hassfurther, president, Stan Steckler, vice-president, Darin Blessinger, secretary, Dave Fischer, treasurer, Bryan Fleck, reporter, and Greg Weisman, sentinel. 1. Mark Luebbehusen, David Nord and Jeff Temple give a report to the members. 2. Keith Bachman makes faces at the photographer. 3. FFA Sponsor Rick Allen sits in the back with the club members during a meeting

FHA chapter has a busy year

The FP Future Homemakers of America chapter had a busy year. In November they had a food drive for Thanksgiving. In December they had a Christmas party and made a gingerbread house for the kindergarten class at Ferdinand Elementary School. They worked concessions for the wrestling team and for some boys' basketball games. They also made valentine cards and Easter eggs full of candy for the Special Education students.

1. The 1986-87 FHA officers are Janet Jochem, president, Kris Lueken, vice-president, Lisa Jahn, secretary, and Heather Burger, treasurer. 2. Lisa Ingle seems to be trying to say something. 3. Kris and Janet set a good example through their leadership of FHA. 4. Priscilla Atkins almost smiles at Kris and Janet.

GAC supports girls' sports

This year the Girls' Athletic Club helped sponsor the sports awards program, which was held May 28, 1987, at the St. Anthony Community Center. They also worked concessions at sports events and made a donation to each girls' sport at FP. 1. GAC Sponsor Michelle King talks to the girls about the sports program. 2. Jamie Ruhe, Kelli Recker and Karla Van Winkle find Sue Buechler's comments amusing. 3. Members of the GAC take time out to socialize with each other. 4. Joni Meyer, Sue Sermersheim, Julie Betz and Karen Giesler all refuse to look at the camera and say cheese.

Two special teachers are honored

On May 30, 1987, a retirement breakfast was held to honor the retirement of Sr. Josepha Book and Mrs. Alamae Walton. All Forest Park teachers and administrators feasted on a breakfast of scrambled eggs, sausage, biscuits, gravy and pancakes. A slide presentation showed Sr. Josepha and Mrs. Walton's careers at FP. Then plaques were presented to the two honored retirees.

1. Sr. Josepha and Mrs. Walton fill their plates. 2. Assistant Principal Gene Keusch and Principal Jim Hagedorn congratulate two very special teachers. 3. Superintendent Ron Etienne presents the plaques to Sr. Josepha and Mrs. Walton.

Club encourages study of Spanish

The Spanish Club encourages students to take Spanish and studies the customs and culture of Spanish-speaking countries. Mrs. Vicki Beach sponsored the club.

1. Spanish Club officers Yvonne Hassfurther, Sue Sermersheim and Eric Oser conduct a meeting. 2. Kim Brahm should have told Mrs. Beach to smile for the camera. 3. Everyone (especially Lisa Jasper and Ron Kunkler) seems to be paying close attention to the business at hand.

Encouraging students to choose wisely

The Students Against Drunk Driving club and the All-Stars are two school groups that study and discuss the effects alcohol has on individuals and on society.

The purpose of SADD is to encourage students to make intelligent choices about drinking, to promote understanding between students and parents, and to discourage students from driving if they have been drinking.

The All-Stars is a group of outstanding high school athletes who care about the effects that alcohol has on younger children. The All-Stars give talks to sixth and seventh graders about how the misuse of alcohol can affect them.

1. Smiles seem to be at a premium at this SADD meeting.
2. The 1986-87 All-Stars are Alan Winkler, Ron Kunkler, Greg Laake, Duane Laake, Cindy Wagner, Jill Reynolds, Chris Niehaus, Amy Hagedorn and Lynn Wagner.

Gina crowned queen

On Feb. 13, 1987 Gina Kines was crowned basketball queen. The theme for the crowning was A Night To Remember. Kevin Kluemper crowned the queen. 1. Queen Gina Kines. 2. The queen's court watches the varsity game against Vincennes Rivet. 3. The senior queen candidates.

Ready-R-Not has busy year

This was the eighth year for the Forest Park rock band Ready-R-Not. On January 23, 1987, they played a convocation for all high school students. On April 24, 1987, they played for Pine Ridge Junior High. Later that evening they played during Band X's break during the MORP. Then on April 25, 1987, they presented a concert for the public. On June 18, 1987, they performed for the patients at Evansville State Hospital to end the school year.

1. Members of Ready-R-Not for 1986-87 are, front row, Ron Wiseman, drums, Scott Wiseman, guitar and vocals, Paul Combs, bass guitar, back row, Mr. Ed Walston, sponsor, Monica Smith, vocals, and Jolene Cooper, keyboard and vocals. 2. The members of the group seem pleased with themselves after their spring concert. 3. Scott takes over the bass guitar as Paul sings "Hurts So Good." 4. The girls sing "Keep Your Hands to Yourself."

Bye-Bye-Birdie is spring musical

The musical Bye-Bye-Birdie was presented March 19, 20 and 22, 1987, in the FP auditorium. Miss Judy Young and Mr. Frank Smith were directors. The play is based on Elvis Presley's life story. Presley was a rock and roll singer who was drafted into the U.S. Army in 1959. 1. Conrad Birdie (David Weyer) and some girls from his fan club sing one more song before he leaves for the Army. 2. Miss Young talks to the cast before a performance. 3. Christy Diech and Stacey Burger seem to be having fun at the play. 4. Mr. Walston takes time out of his practicing to give us a smile. 5. These freshman girls sing their little hearts out. 6. Lana Blessinger is doing what she does best.

'Never Say Goodbye'

The 1987 Prom was held May 9 at the Holiday Inn in Jasper. The theme song was "Never Say Goodbye" by Bon Jovi. The colors were royal blue, silver and white.

All the planning for this year's Prom was done by a Prom Board. The members of this board were chosen from the junior class officers and club officers who were juniors.

The money for the prom was raised by the junior magazine sales which were held earlier in the year. Each junior had to sell at least five subscriptions.

The 1987 prom servers, chosen from the sophomore class, were Chris Niehaus, Nancy Bromm, Glenda Klem, Lisa Fleck, Lisa Dilger, Eric Johanneman, Tony Durcholz, Terry Wahl, Matt Brames and Greg Tretter.

1. Matt Niehaus and Jenny Boeglin were crowned king and queen of the 1987 Prom. Matt was crowned by Cindy Wagner and Jenny was crowned by Stan Steckler. 2. Matt and Jenny dance to the theme song of the Prom. 3. Gayla Schue and her date take a rest from dancing and enjoy the food. 4. Chris Bateman has her garter removed by her date during the garter ceremony.

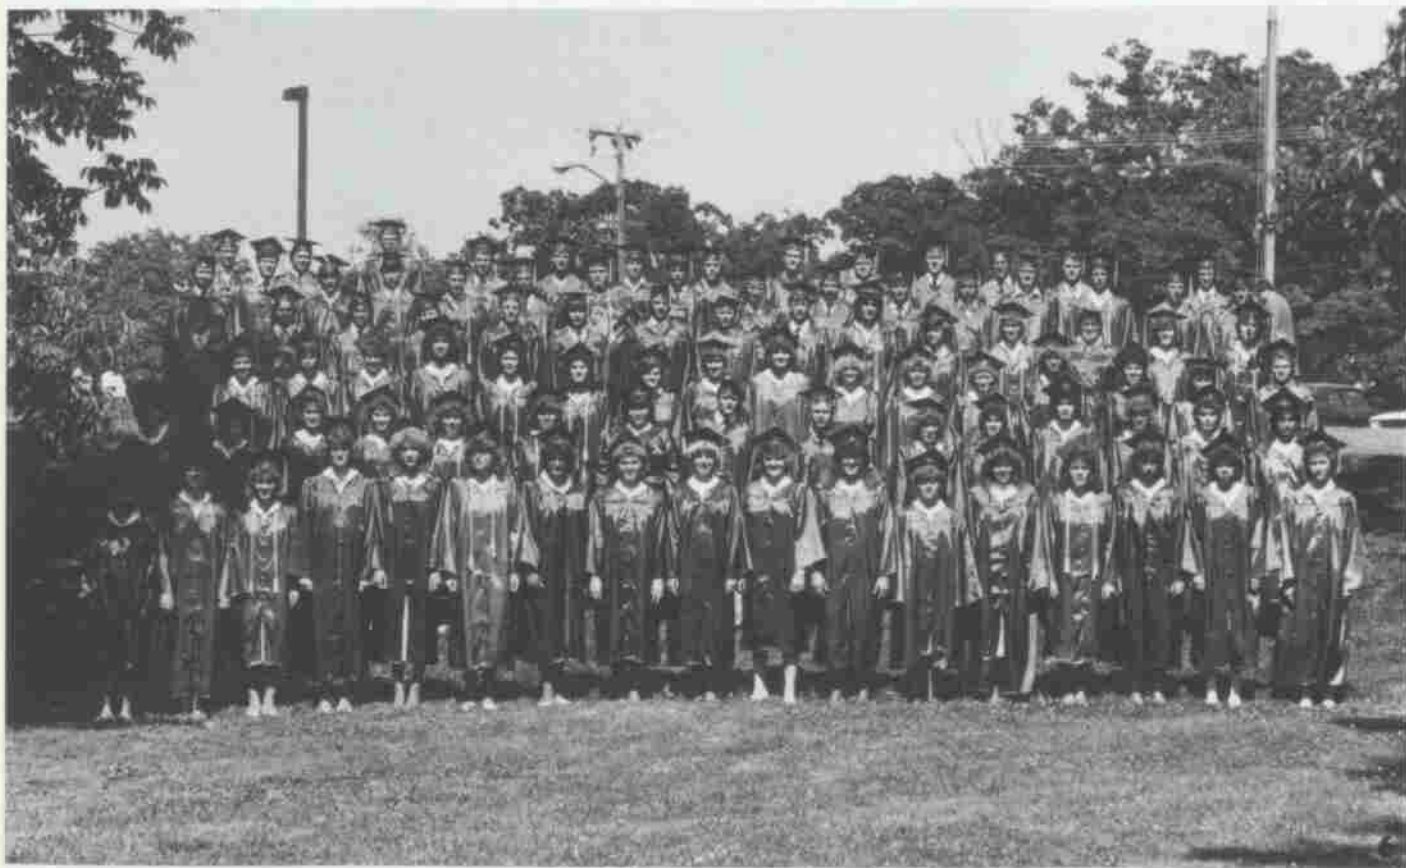

Seniors become

On May 23 the class of 1987 became graduates of Forest Park High School. The processional and the National Anthem were played by the FP band. The invocation was given by Rev. Elmer Lagenour of the Birdseye Christian Church. The senior choir members sang "That's What Friends are

graduates of FP

For." The diplomas were presented by Superintendent Ron Etienne and School Board President Pat Tretter. The benediction was given by Rev. Lagenour, and, as the band played the recessional, the class of '87 marched out of the gym as graduates of FP.

1. Miss Ellen Hendricks presents one of two Faculty Scholarships to Jennifer Birk. The other went to Lynn Wagner. 2, 3, and 4. The valedictorians for the class of '87 are Trista Durcholz, Audrey Knust and Jennifer Boeglin, respectively. 5. Joni Meyer straightens out Robin Leinenbach's tassel. 6. The class of '87. 7. Sue Buechler receives the Fritz Blessinger scholarship from Supt. Etienne.

1. Bonnie Cooper, Trista Durcholz and Jeff Egloff check out the program. 2. Matt Niehaus and Kevin Tretter march into the gym as students for the last time. 3. Assistant Principal Gene Keusch recognizes Kim Gehlhausen as salutatorian of the class of '87. 4. Principal Jim Hagedorn presents a 12 year perfect attendance award to Shelley Berg. Carol Schepers also received a 12 year perfect attendance award. 5. The seniors wait nervously as they prepare for the processional.

Academics

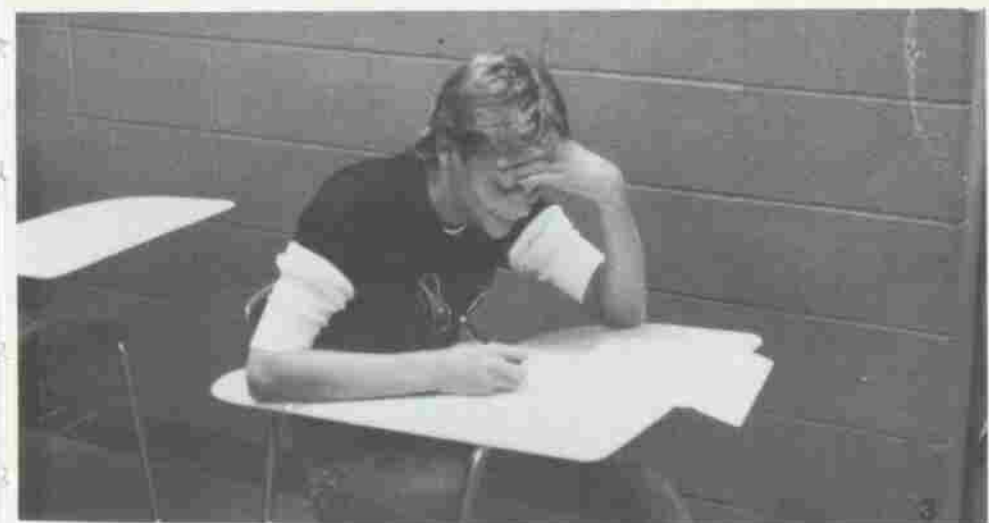

Business classes were taught this year by Mrs. Rowena Weyer, Mrs. Beth Schnellenberger, and Mrs. Alamae Walton. This year, Keyboarding I and II, data processing, advanced data processing, accounting, business survey, office procedures, and intensive office lab were offered. Students in these classes learned skills that will help them in a business career or in any other profession.

1. Barb Schnell seems pleased with her class. 2. Chris Hamilton is busy at her typing. 3. Melinda Buechlein tries to understand her work. 4. Donna Kunkler seems to be trying to figure out what's going on.

Students learn by the numbers

Math classes taught during the 1986-87 school year included general math, pre-algebra, Algebra I and II, geometry, calculus, business math, physics, analysis, computer math and consumer math. The classes were taught by Mr. Larry Klein, Mr. Jim Mehling, Mr. Don Prusz, and Mr. Tom Meyer. They teach mathematics skills necessary for every-day life.

1. Rick Klem takes time away from his test for a picture. 2. Kurt Tretter asks Mr. Prusz a question. 3. Mike Jahn is trying to look busy. 4. Kurt is in a hurry to turn his work in. 5. Mr. Klein is in a deep thought about his math class. 6. Les Schnell is finishing up her work for the day.

English classes were taught by Mr. Rock Emmert, Mrs. Peggy Lake, Mr. James Murphy, Mr. Frank Smith, and Mr. Ed Walston. The classes covered the correct use of language, written and oral, and the appreciation of good literature. The classes offered were English I, II, III, IV, advanced composition, modern literature, English Literature, and speech.

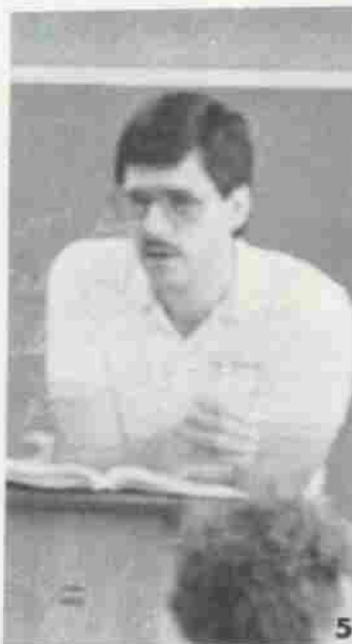

1. Debbie Kerstiens looks as if she is really enthused. 2. Could this student be cheating? 3. Jeff Temple takes it easy.

Variety of English classes offered

Studying languages helps understanding

Forest Park students have had the opportunity this year to learn either Spanish or German. The Spanish classes were taught by Mrs. Vicki Beach, and the German classes were taught by Mr. Larry Tenbarger. Learning a foreign language helps a student to understand the importance of communication between the people of different countries.

1. This class loves excitement. 2. Brian Bohne takes his class seriously. 3. Ron Kunkler takes time for a picture. 4. Mrs. Beach gets involved with her class. 4. Mr. Tenbarger lectures. 5. Christy Schlacter is hard at work.

Soc classes learn the how and why of our civilization

The social studies classes taught this year were economics, sociology, government, U.S. history, world history and psychology. The classes were taught by Miss Ellen Hendricks, Miss Marty Niehaus and Mr. Rock Emmert. Students in these classes learned about the history of civilization and about why we do what we do.

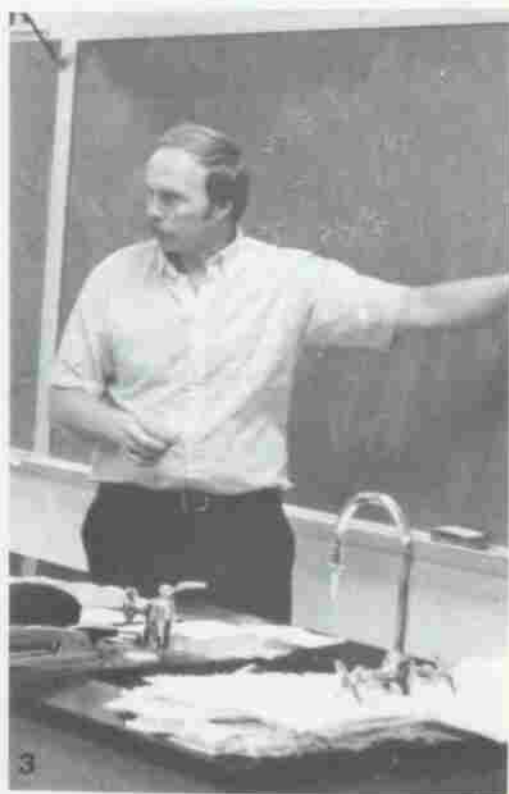

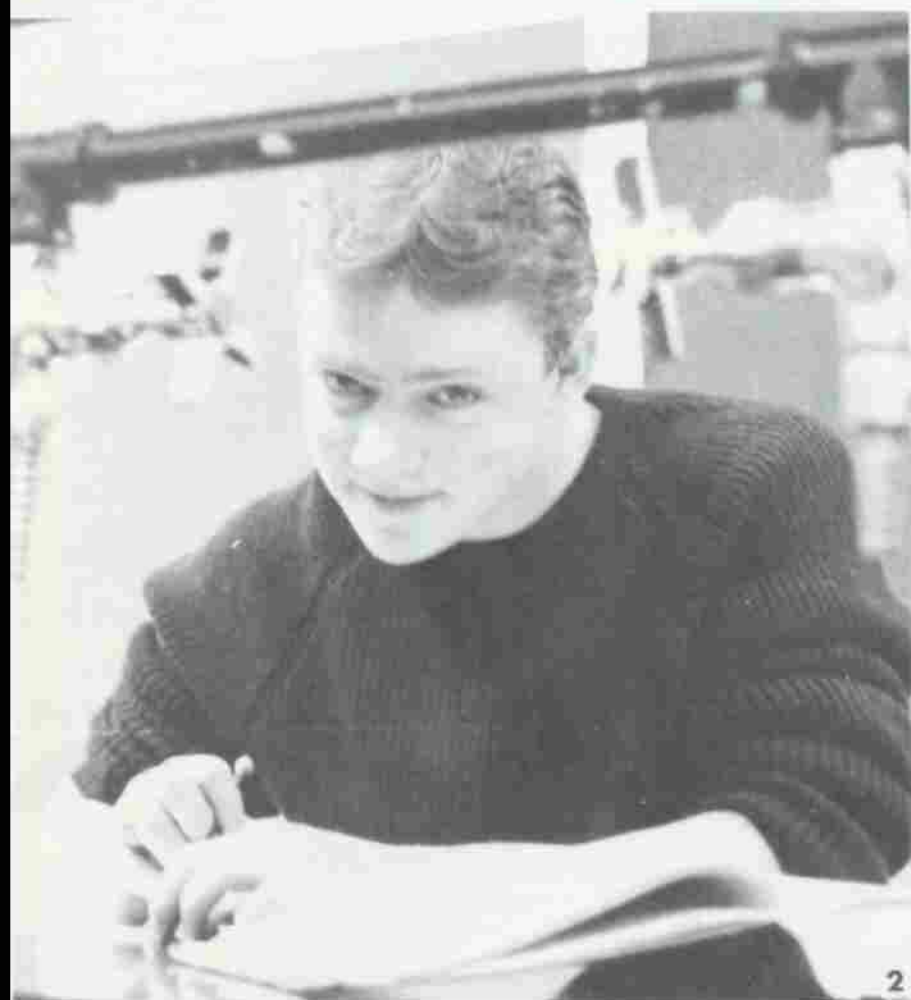

1. Miss Niehaus is hard at work. 2. Lee Roy Abell pays attention in government. 3. Jenny Schulz doesn't like her picture being taken. 4. John Haake tries to look serious. 5. Darin Blessinger always seems to have his back to the camera. 6. Steve Knust is the only one paying attention.

Science is important in 'high-tech' world

This year's science classes were taught by Mr. Tom Meyer, Mr. Nate Schnellenberger, and Mr. Kevin Wertman. In the science area students could choose physical science, general science, chemistry I and II, and Biology I and II. A good understanding of science is essential to success in our "high-tech" world.

1. "Oh, come on Kevin, what are you hiding from me?" 2. Greg Wiseman gives us his winning smile. 3. Mr. Meyer tries to get his point across.

Classes create works of art

Art classes this year were instructed by Mrs. Linda Berry. The students did drawings, paintings, and other creative projects.

1. Scott Wiseman wonders about his work of art. 2. Kateri Wessel is hard at work. 3. Mrs. Berry is amazed at what she sees. 4. Meredith Ingle shows her seriousness with her art

Journalism is rewarding

Mr. Ed Walston supervised the journalism department. The students learned about mass communication in our modern world. The students produced this yearbook, the school newspaper, and a weekly radio show.

This is what advanced Journalism did to Angie Meyer. 2. Mr. Walston gives out story assignments. 3. Journalism I takes a break. 4. They take Journalism seriously.

Graphic arts helpful during school year

Students in Graphic arts I and Graphics arts II learned about printing and typesetting. The classes were taught by Mr. Steve Stoffel. The students printed The Lookout, did the basketball programs, and did many other printing jobs for the school and the corporation.

1. Mr. Stoffel watches Gary Weyer. 2. David Nord must like what he sees. 3. Kim Denu is hard at work.

Skills are learned

Industrial arts classes were taught by Mr. Jim Johannaman, Mr. Steve Stoffel, and Mr. Jeff Johnson. Drafting I, II, and III, Metals I and II, Woods I, II, and III, and Power I and II were offered. These classes taught students valuable skills used in industry and technology.

1. Paul Hassfurther shows his smile for a picture. 2. Rodney Lamkin asks Mr. Stoffel a question. 3. Mark Mundy doesn't appreciate interruptions. 4. Duane Englert loves his woods class. 5. Rodney Mason looks confused.

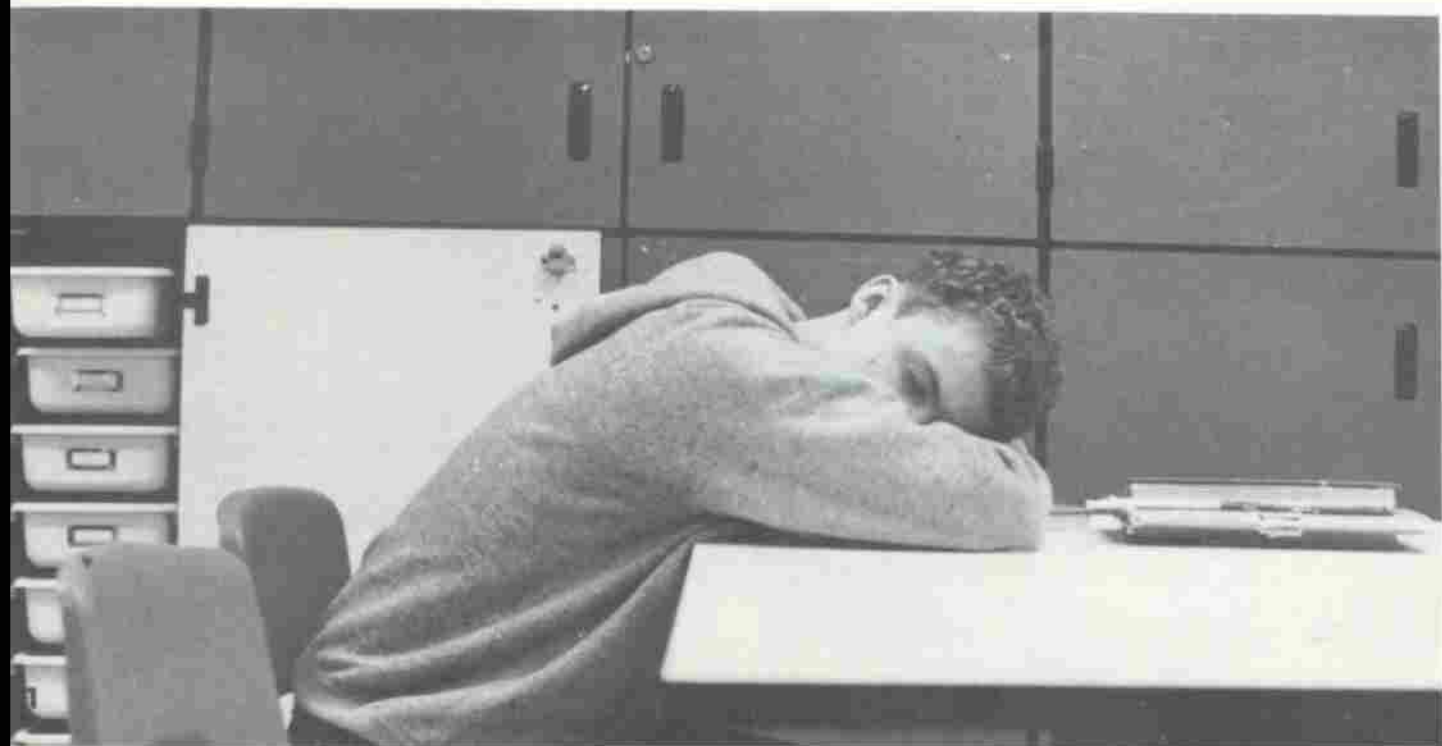

Students are taught modern farm skills

The agriculture students were taught by Mr. Rick Allen. The classes offered were ag. I, II, III, and IV, and ag. power. Students learned the theory and practical application of modern farming techniques.

1. Craig Recker wonders why he's getting his picture taken. 2. Mr. Allen explains something new. 3. He has to explain it again. 4. These three students appear to be hard at work.

In the home economics area, students choose from classes dealing with foods, family management, family relations, child development, housing, consumer education, interpersonal relations, and clothing. Teen choices was added this year. It is taught by Mr. Dennis Doutaz. The other classes are instructed by Miss Brenda Wood and Sr. Josepha Book.

1. Steve Pancake finds class very interesting! 2. Bobby Huff tries to look serious. 3. These girls seem to enjoy their home ec class.

New class is offered in home economics

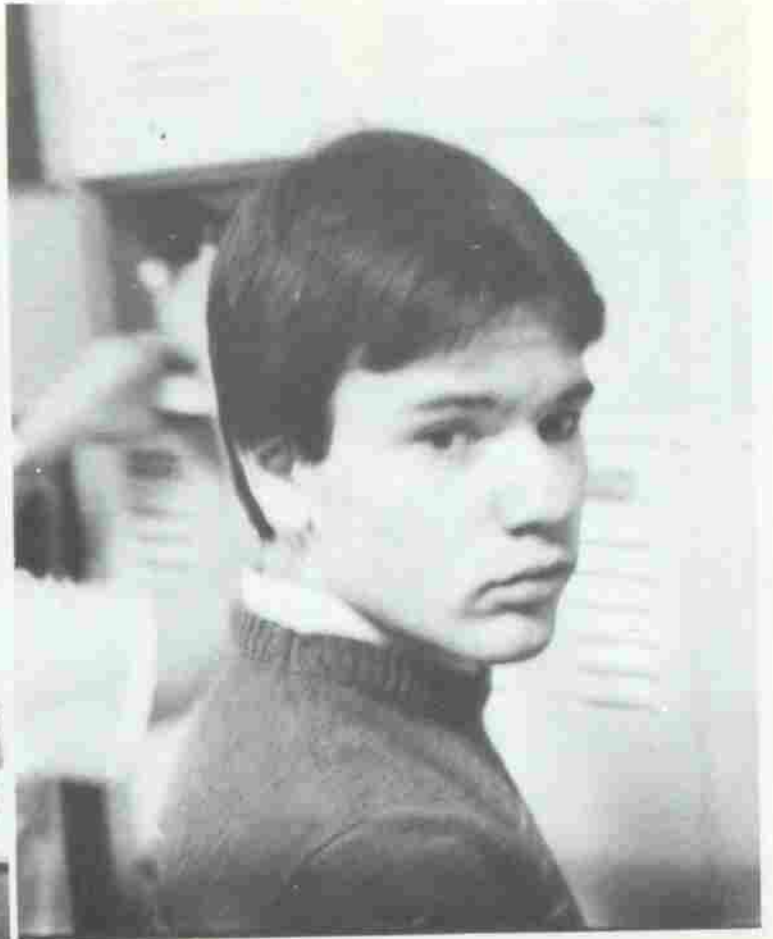

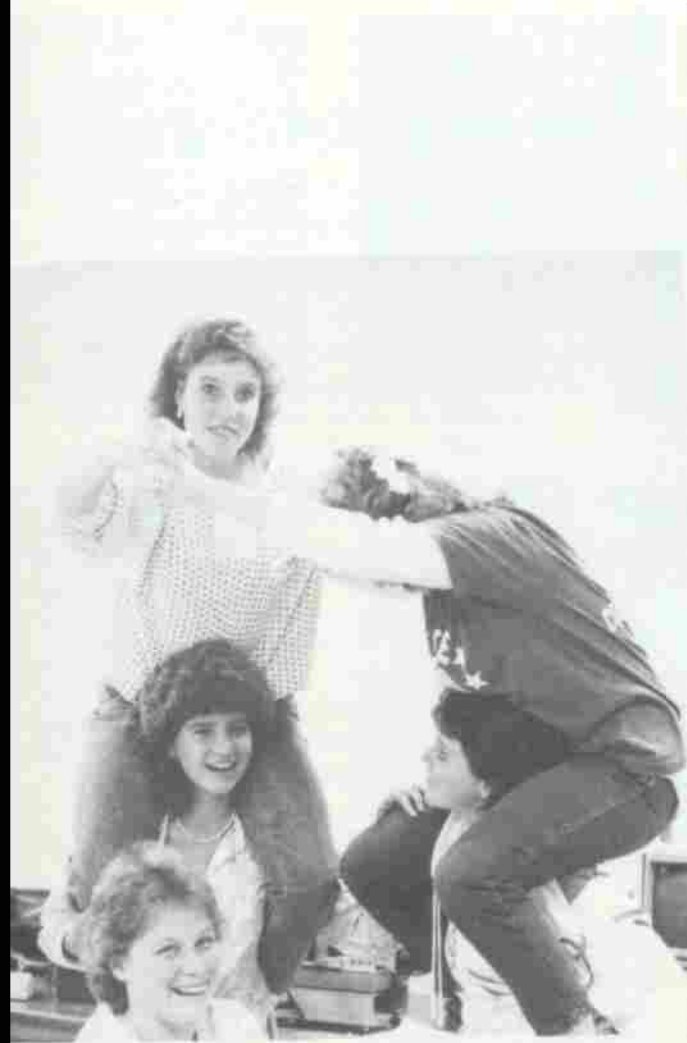

Students learn benefits of exercise

In physical education classes students learned the healthful benefits of exercise, and in health classes they learned how to keep themselves healthy through proper nutrition and hygiene. The health and physical education classes were taught by Mr. Nate Schnellenger, Mr. Dennis Doutaz and

Mrs. Vicki Beach.

1. The guys play volleyball as Mr. Doutaz officiates and records grades. 2. Doug Partenheimer lodges a protest against having his picture taken. 3. Jenny Kane and Candy Fuesler get ready for the next serve.

Personalities

Faculty and administration are dedicated

Southeast Dubois School Board members are Stan Fischer, Tom Niehaus, Pat Tretter, John Buechler and John Schnell.

The faculty and administration of Forest Park Junior-Senior High School are dedicated to providing the students of Southeast Dubois School Corporation with the highest quality education possible. It is with great pride and honor that we serve our students and the patrons of this corporation.

The 1986-87 school year of Forest Park High School has been another year of success and outstanding accomplishment. These successes and accomplishments have come in the form of individual achievements or team or group performance throughout the year. We acknowledge their successes and accomplishments with great pride for they reinforce and reward our students' and staff's dedication to excellence.

As we of Forest Park High School proceed into the future, we dedicate ourselves to serving the patrons and students of this corporation. Our efforts will be tireless as we attempt to provide the proper learning opportunities that will continue our past success and at the same time prepare our youth for the world that they will face as adults of tomorrow.

Seniors reflect on special memories

As our final year at Forest Park High School comes to an end, we can reflect on the very special memories that our years have given us. Obviously, one highlight which we will never forget occurred in the Indianapolis Hoosier Dome when we were declared the state's best band in our class. We will also remember the challenges of the sectionals, the fun at Beta Convention, and the excitement of the Prom.

But now comes the time to leave this world that we have known for so long and step beyond it to a new, far more vast universe. The journey is exciting, yet frightening. There are so many decisions that must be made, and made quickly. We are about to be tested, to be given a chance to show how well we have learned the lessons that our parents, friends and teachers have been trying to impart. We each hope that these lessons have been well learned so that we can lead happy, productive lives.

We also hope that the faculty and classes will remember us not only as the class that liked to laugh, tease and have fun, but also as the class that had a sense of compassion, responsibility and competitiveness.

The senior class officers are Dean Fleck, president, Alan Wendholt, vice-president, Shelly Berg, secretary and John Haake, treasurer.

SENIOR CLASS OF '87

MMH in community based program

This year the Moderately Mentally Handicapped Classroom participated in a new Community Based Program. The students were trained in four domains: domestic, community, recreation/leisure and vocational. Training in the classroom involved learning domestic skills. They also train in the community and recreation-leisure.

Vocational training sites were being promoted in the program because they provide access to regular interactions with nonhandicapped persons and involve meaningful work.

Juniors have many unforgettable memories

Another moment in what is proving to be four very short years here at Forest Park has come and gone so quickly for us. But it has not passed without leaving us many unforgettable memories of our accomplishments that we have achieved in our junior year as well as the other two years.

We have felt the pressures and responsibilities of being upperclassmen. We hope that we can show leadership as classes before us have done.

With our senior year so close, we have worked exceptionally hard to do our best in making this time in our lives worthwhile. We are proud to back our past and to see our senior year full of the promise of success. There are many goals we have set, and we are now achieving these goals.

The junior class officers are Cindy Wagner, president, Jill Reynolds, vice-president, Connie Luebbehusen, secretary, Angie Meyer, treasurer.

Sophomores accept challenges

We the sophomores now accept the challenges and responsibilities of being upperclassmen at Forest Park. As our friendships grow stronger and our spirits rise, we know there are bigger obstacles we must go through to graduate and be successful.

Our first two years have passed so quickly. We have the willingness to work and we have the desire to accomplish many things.

We know we can surpass those challenges and meet our goals. And we hope to set a good example to the underclassmen who are just beginning those challenges.

Freshmen learn to get involved

We, the class of '90, have just completed our freshman year here at Forest Park.

All of us have learned a lot from the challenges we have faced. We found that to have an interesting school year we had to get involved in school activities, clubs, and sports, and we had to show our pride by supporting our fellow students.

We are really looking forward to our future years at Forest Park.

'87 baseball season is rewarding

Although the record was not impressive (9-18), the 1987 edition of varsity Ranger baseball was rewarding because of the hard work and dedication which was the team's trademark, according to Coach Jim Mehling. Several highlights of the season included winning the Forest Park Invitational Tournament, Kevin Kluemper pitching a perfect game against Perry Central, and Doug Partenheimer pitching a six-hit game against Barr Reeve. Alan Wendholt received the outstanding hitter award with a .398 average, and Alan Winkler was voted as giving the most outstanding effort.

1. Ron Kunkler shows his determination as he steps up to Greg Weisman takes a good cut at the ball. 5. Kevin's pitching was one of the highlights of the season. 6. Greg makes the catch for the easy out.

JV teams have winning seasons

If experience is the best teacher, this year's junior varsity baseball team has had an advantage over teams of years past. In the six week season they played 24 games—more than any other JV season. Because of the numbers of players, two teams were formed. The A team, consisting mostly of sophomores, won nine of their thirteen games. The B team, which was mostly freshmen, also earned a winning record (6-5). They ended the season strongly with a 15-1 rout of Tell City. Line drives told the story, according to Coach Rock Emmert, as the young Rangers belted out twenty hits in this final game. With continued hard work and a gutsy desire to win, this group of athletes will be ready to carry on the strong baseball tradition here at Forest Park, according to Coach Emmert.

1. Craig Recker fields the ball and makes the throw to first for the out.
2. John Niehaus gets a solid hit.

Girls advance to semi-finals of sectional

Miss Michelle King commented on the 1987 girls' tennis season, "As the coach I was very pleased with the effort and enthusiasm that went into this season. The girls worked and showed continued progress. We opened our season losing to Barr Reeve 1-4, but six weeks later in the sectional we defeated Barr Reeve 4-1."

This was the first year the Ranger girls advanced in the sectional tourney. After downing Barr Reeve they advanced to the semi-finals, losing to Jasper 1-4. Two of the four losing matches went three sets using tie-breakers to determine the winners.

Coach King also said that this year's team demonstrated the support, encouragement and enthusiasm which helps to build each individual's confidence. "They supported each other both on and off the courts. When one member was down, another team member was there to pick her up. This characteristic stood out not only to our team but also to the other teams. This helped strengthen the 1987 team. Each player carried her own weight—if not by a point for the overall team score then through her moral support for another teammate."

The girls' record was 6-6, with two wins and three losses in the Blue Chip Conference.

1. Jenny Boeglin keeps her eye on the ball and hits the forehand winner. 2. Becky Olinger puts two-handed power into her backhand. 3. Cindy Wagner prepares herself for her opponent's next serve. 4. The girls' tennis team members are, front row, Janelle Jamniczky, Amy Olinger, Paula Brames, Heather Erwin and Tracy Heichelbech, back row, Ann Lueken, Lisa Fleck, Glenda Klem, Tonia King, Becky Olinger, Cindy Wagner, Barb Schnell and Coach Michelle King.

Golfers improve throughout 1987 season

The FP golf team won one and lost eleven matches during the 1987 season. They finished sixth in the Blue Chip Conference.

This was Mr. Bill Dittmer's first year as FP golf coach. Mr. Dittmer commented that most of the golfers were relative beginners at the start of the season, and they all improved their scores by 10 or 12 strokes. He said, "I hope we can do that again next year and keep up the improvement."

1. The 1987 golf team members are Brian Berg, Rob Hamilton, Todd Klem, Jeff Hagedorn, Jay Fischer, Pat Daunhauer, Scott Vaal and Coach Bill Dittmer (kneeling). 2. Jeff Hagedorn drives one down the fairway. 3. Scott Vaal practices his putting before the match. 4. Jay Fischer takes some practice swings in front of the clubhouse.

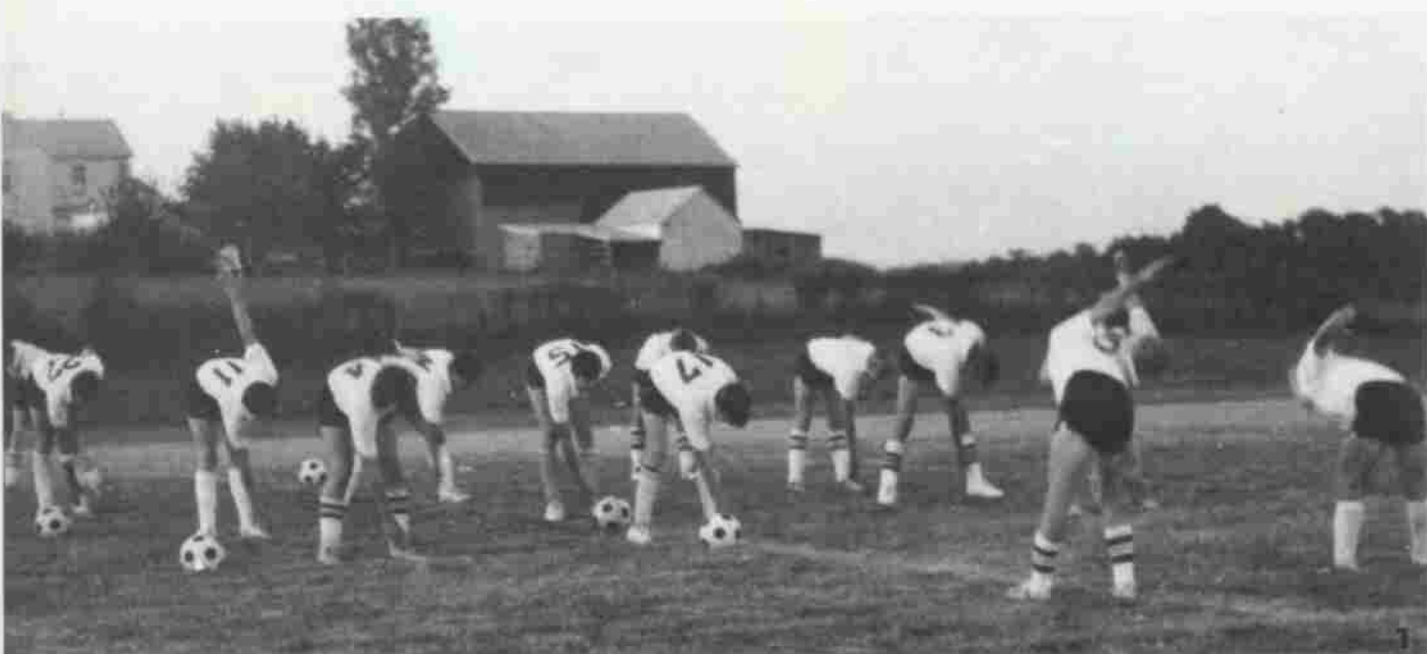

Soccer in second year at Forest Park

The Forest Park soccer club participates each fall in the Wabash Valley Soccer Association with Washington, Princeton, Mt. Carmel, Edgewood and Jasper. The team was coached by Mr. Rock Emmert and Mr. Bill Potter. Mr. Emmert said, "This was our second year, as we are still laying the groundwork for soccer at FP.

Washington defeated the Rangers 9-0 early in the season.

Later the Rangers cut the deficit a lot, losing 5-3. Neal Verkamp received conference-wide recognition as an outstanding goalie.

1. The soccer team members go through some warm-ups before the match. 2. Jeff Burger puts the ball back into play. 3. Ken Pund takes the ball up the sideline.

Outstanding athletes receive recognition

Forest Park's outstanding student athletes were honored on May 28, 1987, at the annual All-Sports Awards Program. The program was held at the St. Anthony Community Center. It was sponsored by the Lettermen's Club and the Girls' Athletic Club as well as several other local businesses and community organizations.

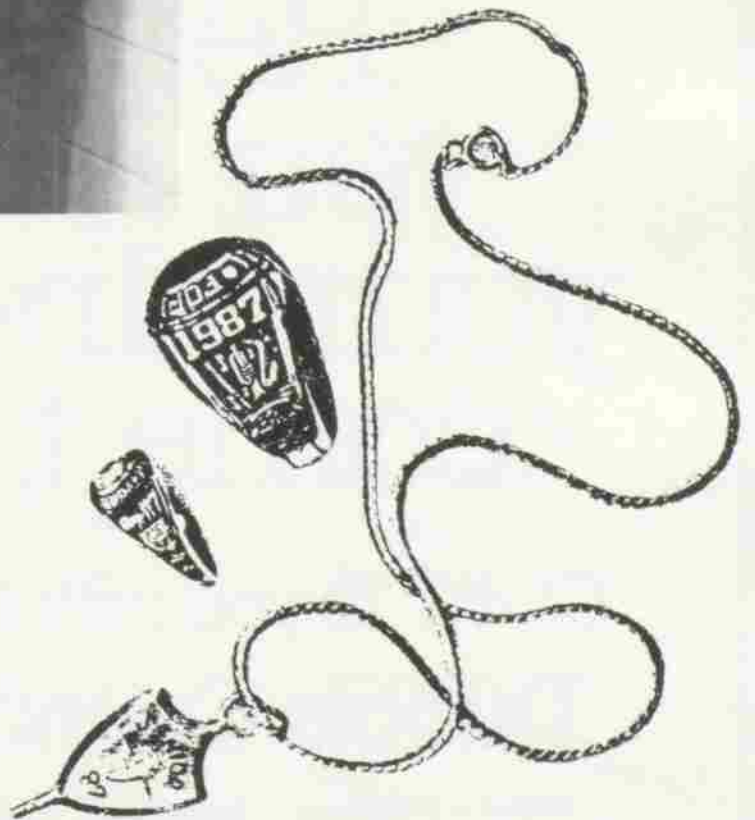

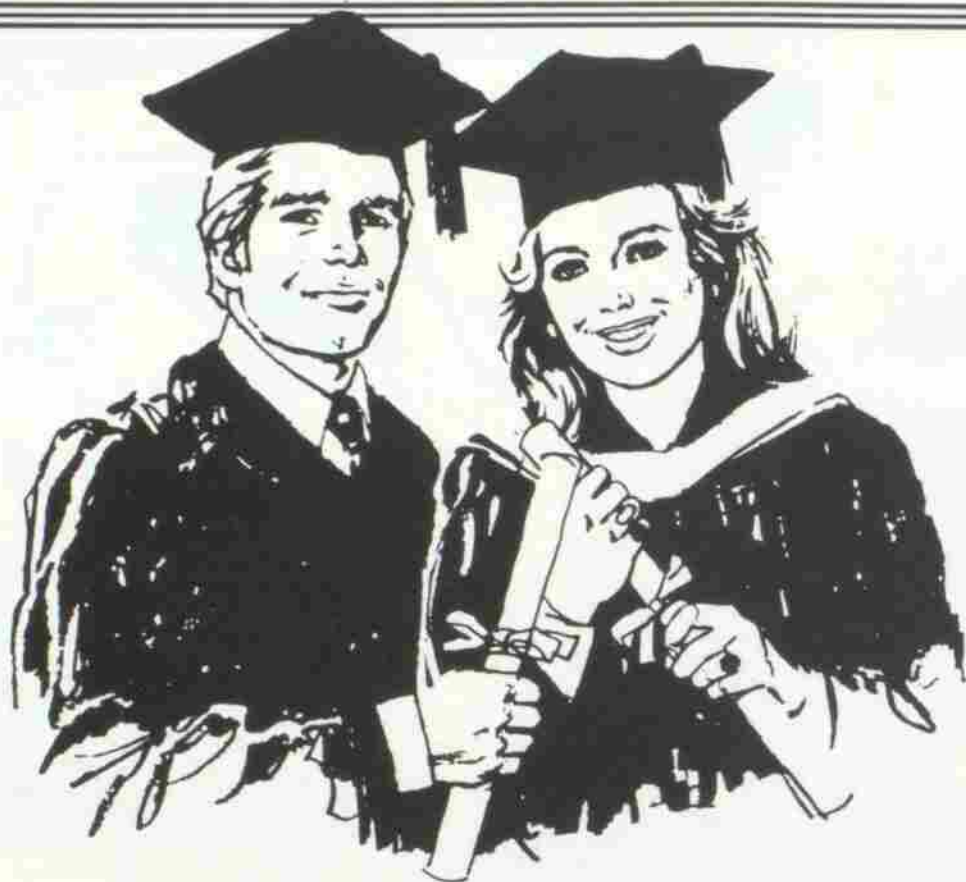

1. Carol Schepers and Kevin Klumper received the award blankets as the outstanding senior athletes for 1987. 2. The girls' most valuable player award winners are Chris Giesler, track, Sue Sermersheim, basketball, Joni Meyer, track (field events), Chris Niehaus, cross country, Carol Schepers, volleyball, and Jenny Boeglin, tennis. 3. The boys' MVP award winners are David Weyer, cross country, Rick Klem, track, Kevin Klumper, basketball and baseball, Paul Hassfurth, wrestling, and Todd Klem, tennis and golf.

Thank you

To all our advertisers

*Thinking back to the fun and friends, will we leave
it all behind?*

...All the great times that we've shared

We, the 1987 Tracer staff would like to extend our sincere appreciation to everyone who gave a helping hand in the completion of this yearbook. We would like to thank Mr. Robert McCarty, our yearbook photographer, and Mr. Steve Pumphrey, our representative of Intercollegiate Press. A special thanks also goes to The Herald and The Ferdinand News for the use of some excellent photographs. And we want to thank all the area businesses that bought advertisements in our yearbook. All the contributions in helping our staff complete this year's book are greatly appreciated.

We would also like to give a special thanks to Mr. Ed Walston, our adviser for the yearbook. He helped pull us through many struggling times until finally the book was completed.

All of us in the class of '87 have struggled through many hard battles to make it to our senior year. We have survived the struggles and have made many accomplishments along the long road. Now the time has come that we must enter a larger world with many responsibilities, and all we have left of our high school years are the memories and the pictures of all the great times that we've shared.
