Hangin' Out in the Parking Lot

It's 7:55! I'm going to be late! As I rush into the parking lot, driving wild, trying not to be seen by the cop as I fly by, I notice a group of kids huddled around some cars. They're getting in a little gossip before they start their day. They hang around the cars that are "COOL," Trans Ams and a lot of Chevy trucks! There's a wide range of cars in the parking lot, from old to new. But, everyone seems to be where the wild music is coming from! Wow, do you hear that base? Can't stop to talk; looks like everyone is heading in. It's time to stop hangin' out in the parking lot and go to school.

Doug Mitchell and Brad Vonderheide cruise to their cars after a long day.

Alicia Com wonders what she would do if it weren't for Jennifer Oeding giving her a ride to school everyday.

Jody Smith's shiny red Nova sits all alone in the parking lot.

Amy Budnick drools over her dream car.

What's your wildest experience in the parking lot?

Heather Kress: "I gunned down a Freshman with my dad's pick 'em up truck."

Steve Zehr: "A teacher came over, threw a student against a car and screamed profanities."

Chad Schnarr's monster truck dominates the parking lot.

Ryan Mehringer, Andy Kreilein, Jason Fromme, Chad Mundy, and Matt Werner get in a little chit chat before going to school.

Taking a look at. . .

Best Friends

Sharing thoughts and well kept secrets, staying home together on a dateless Saturday night or just being there when the going gets tough, all fit the well-defined description of that special person who is always there in a time of need.

Even though people sometimes change and drift from one friend to another, many conform into twins and continue to go through life side by side.

From copying last night's homework to getting a date, best friends exist as a good source of information as well as a person to take after. Common interests play an important role in the making of best friends, and most disputes make the relationships stronger.

Denise Kluesner yells when she discovers Amy Jochem's new friend, the snake.

Jennifer Oeding & Alicia Com boogy to the tunes in the parking lot.

Maria Schneider & Lynn Mendel show their talents in the Business Office during study hall.

Janet Striegel gives her friend, Carrie Schwartz, a birthday hug.

Ann Prechtel shows Tonya Meyer how light she really is.

Angie Weisheit & Kelli Evans demonstrate their togetherness at the Cheerleaders' car wash.

Laura Kunkel & Kesha Clark get a little gossip in during the passing period.

Dana Rohleder, Heidi Beck, Tonya Moore, Andrea Beard, Amy Rohleder, & April Giddens demonstrate how silly friends can be at the bookstore counter.

Passing Periods

A Time To Show Your Wild Side

The bell rings and in no time the halls are filled with laughter and various conversations among friends. Some discuss the wild parties, meeting in town, and the games coming up on the weekends. Others rush around trying to get to their class on time.

No matter what, passing periods are a time to let go of the pressure of studies and show your wild side!

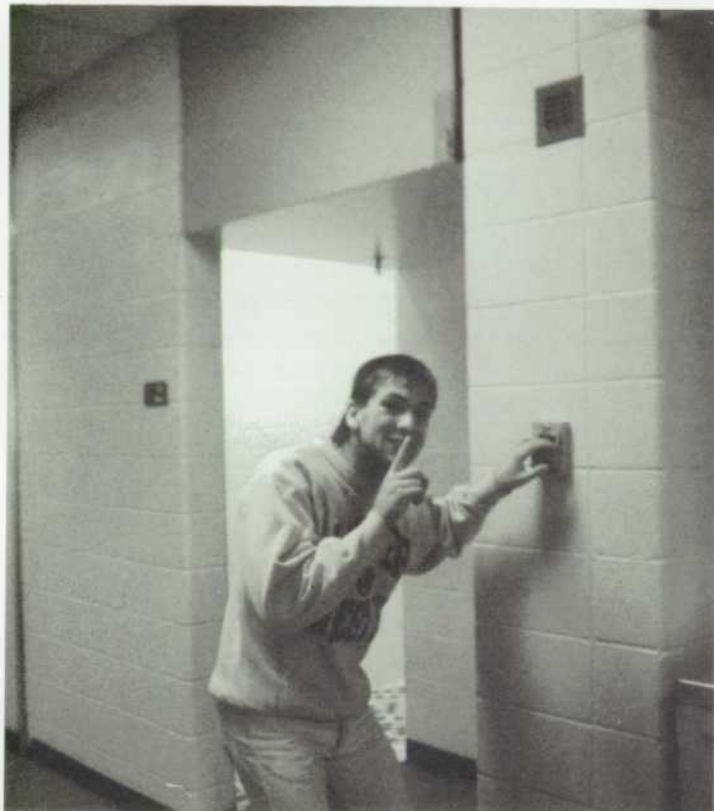

Caught by surprise, Janet Striegel hurries to get to class after coming from Health Occupations.

Craig Cook and April Giddens are excited about being voted the cutest couple as they look at their picture.

Clint Schue will try anything to get out of class.

Missy Buchta is all smiles about her first year of high school.

After a rough class in life saving, Jody Smith and Steve Zehr wait impatiently for the bell to ring.

Sherri Schneider, Manda Luker, and Denise Vollmer are up to something as Trooper Sanchez catches them in the act.

Memorable Moments

Seniors

END OF THE ROAD

It's that time once again to say farewell to a class we'll never forget. The four years of experience will help us to decide on our future goals. Should we move on to college or should we get a job right away? College will build our confidence, and help us pick a career. With a job, we could save up money, and start living on our own. Whatever choice we choose, it will affect the rest of our lives greatly. No matter what choice we make you can't deny that this was the wildest year of our lives.

"My Sophomore year, Jamie, Lynn, Chris, Nikki, Chad, and I went driving around in Pike. We got hung up going to Bear. Chris and Jamie got out to push and Chris ended up covered in mud. We walked, for I don't know how many miles, to the nearest house. We waited at the house while they pulled Chad's Jeep out with a tractor. The people invited us in, but we stayed outside because things were looking red."

ANN PRECHTEL

"My Freshman year, I was in the Art room doing a painting project. On my table, Brady Wahl had stacked five cans of white paint on top of each other. Someone bumped into the table and yes, I was covered from head to toe in white paint. It wouldn't wash off and I walked around school all day covered with paint. How humiliating!"

KURT ECKERT

"The night when Dana, Stephanie, and I went riding with Kurt, Crick, and Curt, and I fell off the horse and landed in a big, muddy ditch. I also lost my glasses. Thanks Dana, for your help! Thanks Steph, for the clothes!"

BRANDI SCHRADER

"I was late for curfew and I had to take my friends home. I was going 70 mph on River Road, and my car did two 180's. But I pulled out the greatest driving recovery of my career."

RYAN FLANNAGAN

"The night of Spring Break, Junior year, when Stacey, Natalie, Nikki, Amanda, and I attempted to find Verkamp's cabin, but ended up on back roads in Paoli. Thanks for breakfast at Jerry's, Stacey!"

ANITA WIBBELS

"That time I did my homework!"

BRADY WAHL

Sibling Rivalry

Brothers, Sisters, and Twins

Jill Schnieder shows her sisterly affections for her brother Adam.

Matt and Wendi Fuhs enjoy each other's company.

Oh brother, there he is again! This is the common reaction during times of sibling rivalries. School is a place students can learn and escape the problems of home.

Since some do have to go to school with their siblings, they have things like this to say:

Vince Helming: "I now know that ignorance doesn't run in the family."

Maria Schnieder: "Thank God, it's my last year."

Jennifer Giesler: "Intelligence comes with age."

Carey Schmitt: "He only wishes he was me."

Jason Wehr: "He's always the lucky one."

Bruce Dotterweich: "He's cool, but can be a real pain."

At other times fun and games are not there, and the siblings pass each other in the hall without a word. But still there's the family tie that bonds them together.

Maria Schnieder tries to escape the massive bear hug of her loving brother, Tim.

Twins Amy and Dana Rohleder are caught once again in the act of causing trouble.

Clint Schue tries to keep his younger brother and sister, Kelly and Jamie, all smiles as they struggle through high school.

Mary, Daniel, and Bob Vonderheide show an example of a large family.

Ryan and his sister Shannon Boehman pose casually in the hallway.

Twins Shannon and Shawn O'Conner are caught in the hall together.

Lona and Buster Emmons are all smiles.

Livin' it up on

wild weekends

Clint Messmer flatters himself as he knocks down one pin in bowling.

Kris Giesler and Francesca Del Guidice get ready for the Halloween Dance.

Jody Richardson and Jill Matheis sit and listen to a friend at a party.

Steve Zehr raises his hands to the sky, saying "I'm perfect."

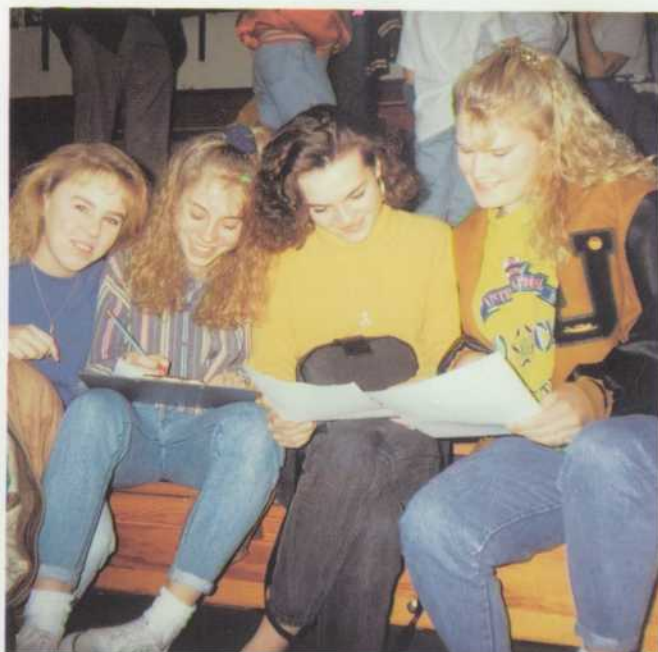

Brook Sternberg, Jill Fromme, Heather Reyling, and Kim Reckelhoff study basketball stats after the game.

Friday night comes and some of your friends are having a big party. You get there and listen to Hank Williams, Jr., Garth Brooks, and Billy Ray Cyrus. You two-step to Achy Breaky Heart with all of your friends and have a Wild Country Weekend!

Across town there is another party where the DJ is playing ACDC, Metallica, and Kiss. Everyone goes nuts and head bangs until they are dead tired; it's definitely a Wild Weekend!

After the parties, a few people will have to stay around and clean up so there is no trace of anyone having a wild time!

Denise Wilz fixes Angie Schnieder's hair as they get ready for a big party.

Sherri Schneider recovers after a wild weekend.

Lynn Mendel struts her stuff as she gets a strike in bowling.

Students at Work

Is it all worth it?

The 3:00 bell rings; students make a mad rush for their cars. Some go home, but many head to work.

One Senior girl says she wouldn't be working if she didn't have to pay for her car. "It's like having two jobs; school, then work."

According to Mr. Jessee and Mrs. Lechner, between 60 and 70 percent of the student body have at least some kind of after school job.

Trina Moyes wears her safety glasses while working at Jarco.

Eric McKim and Shaun Schepers show the art of milking cows at Mehringers' Dairy Farm.

Working at Wal-Mart can be really difficult, and Melissa Bridgewater shows how happy she is that she'll be going home soon.

While taking inventory at Watson's, Nicole Davis laughs at a joke told to be a co-worker.

When looking for Jody Smith, one can find him straightening the shelves at Buy-Low.

Bill McCart shows his enthusiasm about working at Buy-Low.

Wonderful Tonight

On the night of October 2, 1992, Craig Knies and Nancy Hopf were crowned Homecoming King and Queen by Student Council members Jill Hoffman and Ryan Flannagan. The theme song "Wonderful Tonight" by Eric Clapton, played as Heather Schnaus announced the Homecoming members. Although the football team suffered a loss to Gibson Southern the night went wonderfully and will always be a beautiful memory to all.

Jill Hoffman congratulates Craig Knies with a kiss after he is named king.

Queen Nancy Hopf is filled with excitement as Ryan Flannagan crowns her.

Basketball Homecoming

Everytime I Look at You-Kiss

Basketball Homecoming was held on February 20, 1993, between the J.V. and Varsity games. The theme was "Everytime I Look at You" by Kiss. Heather Kress sang the song while Adam Stenftenagel played keyboard, Chad Schnarr played drums, Nathan White played lead guitar, and Macy Kalb played bass guitar.

Mrs. Joan Schaeffer's son, Jeremy, was the ball carrier, and Mrs. Cathy Stradtner's daughter, Whitney, carried the crown.

Stacey Lubbers crowned Doug Mitchell king, and Craig Knies crowned Natalie Jones queen. This year's Basketball Homecoming game was played against Mater Dei. This game was full of excitement as Jasper defeated Mater Dei.

Doug Mitchell and Natalie Jones were crowned king and queen.

The Seniors on court were Doug Mitchell and Natalie Jones, Todd Bishop and Michelle Vogler, and Craig Cook and April Giddens.

Craig Knies and Stacey Lubbers crowned the king and queen.

The Juniors on court were Brian Wigand and Renee Brescher, and Mark Rubino and Alissa Becker.

The Sophomores on court were Chad Toby and Clare Meuser, and Jason Flannagan and Kelly Evans.

The Freshmen on court were Kevin Eckert and Audrey Vogler, and Chad Blessinger and Carey Chanley.

The Times to really show a wild side

Dances

A wonderful turn out at the dances became a trend. The year started off with the popular Welcome Freshmen Dance. Other dances throughout the year were Morp, the Snowball Dance, the Halloween Dance, the dance following Homecoming, Toga, and the Hawaiian Dance. At the Morp Dance, Jason Andrews and Stephanie Goller were crowned king and queen. At the Snowball Dance, Natalie Jones and Doug Mitchell were named queen and king. Some students enjoyed dressing up for the Halloween Dance. The Hawaiian Dance, held in May, was also well-attended.

Andrea Kirchoff and Kerri Hochgesang look "sweet" in their M&M outfits.

Amy Budnick, Jami Terwiske, Kim Schuler, Lona Emmons, and Keri Yarbrough protest because of the slow song.

Andrea Becker and Lyle Donan are having fun dancing with friends.

Kurt Fuhs, Nick Blessinger, Scott Hagen, Natalie Jones, Doug Mitchell, Brett Mehringer, Shane Leinenbach, Heather Schnaus, Stacey Hohl, Cory Marks, Audra Swinghammer, and Tonya Meyer represent the student body at the Snowball Dance.

Jarrod Kluesner, Nick Hostetter, Eric Mitchell, Damien Holsworth, and Brad Schmitt wait for their favorite song.

Jason Andrews and Stephanie Goller were crowned King and Queen at the Morp Dance.

An Enchanted Evening

Prom

The tuxedos are rented and the gowns are bought. Everybody is getting ready not for a wedding, for the Prom. Prom was one of the special nights for the seniors to remember all the great times they had in high school and look forward to what still awaits them in college. Prom reminds the juniors they still have one more year to have fun with new and old friends.

Erin Malone anxiously waits for her friends to join her.

Craig Cook and April Giddens dance to their royal song after being crowned king and queen.

Laura Judy and date merrily dance to a slow song.

Chad Mundy and Holly Humbert dance after being crowned prince and princess.

Jason Goeppner and date laugh it up at prom.

Carmen Young and Libby Sermersheim dance to the music of Rock the House.

Zeke Ziliak, Holly Reinhart, Jason Boehm, and David Prepster enjoy a nice glass of punch after their dances.

Jody Smith and Michelle Marsh are surprised while eating the appetizers.

Tony Bush enthusiastically tapes all the events of the night.

Jay Weisman and Audra Eckert enjoy "An Enchanted Evening."

Under the Big Top

Post Prom

The theme for post prom was "Under The Big Top." Games included a Burping contest, Lottery Game, and Wall Climb. Prizes won included cash, a computer, and a car. Post prom was organized and sponsored by the PTO so that students would have a place to go after prom.

Scott Mehninger goes to find out his future.

Janessa Sharp is thrilled to be awake this late.

Ryan Flannagan expresses how hot his food is.

The junior and senior class wait eagerly to find out who's going to win the car.

Anita Wibbels looks over her shoulder to see who has won the prize.

Trying to walk on the tightrope, Tammy Mehringer laughs at herself.

Senior Dance...

Going Out In Style

The Senior Dance was held on May 19. Nearly all seniors attended the dance to enjoy the food, music, and great times. Boogie Tunes provided a variety of music. The Seniors' parents prepared foods such as fruits, shrimp, breaded mushrooms, and mozzarella sticks.

Nancy Schnierle boogies with her friends as Amy Lorey looks on.

Brett Mehringer shows Y-Khuong the right way to get down.

Having the time of their lives, Sherri Schneider and Lynn Mendel dance to the loud music.

Waving good-bye at the end of the dance, Jill Schneider and Tara Rasche go out in style.

Nikki Davis and April Giddens are surprised at the way everyone is dancing.

Juniors

Juniors had finally reached the half-way point as the year began and were well on their way to graduation when the year ended. Everyone paid less attention to what others did and did things for themselves. Students worked hard the first two years in order to be able to relax and take it a little easier for a year. However, the year turned out to be everything but easy for the Juniors.

Wrecks

You hear tires squealing. Then CRASH! You've been in a wreck. Wrecks can be one of the worst moments in your life. You first have to call the police to report the accident. Then while you're waiting for the police to arrive, people you know drive by and stare at you to see what happened. Then when the police get there, you have to go through their questioning. After all that's done, you go home and tell your parents. They make you turn an accident report in to the insurance company in order to get the vehicle fixed. Then you go back to school and face your friends the next day. They tease you about it. That's why WRECKS are so embarrassing.

On my scale, wrecks rate as a really droopy frowny-face.
Zeke Ziliak

Sometimes you get smashed, and sometimes you don't.

Sophomores

My Monday

Morning Blues . . .

Angie Moyes: "Hitting snooze at six and sleeping for another hour. Then realizing that I'm going to be late and get dressed in the dark. When I got to school I realized that I have two different colored socks on, purple and the other one navy."

With two years of high school experiences behind them, Sophomores look to the future. Two more years to go may seem like a long time from now, but at least the first — the worst — fears are out of the way.

Mrs. Wehr was the sponsor of 232 students. They sold Christmas wreaths through Scherle's Tree Farm. That was the only fundraiser, but everyone who helped had fun making the wreaths.

Eric McKim: "Being woke up from my own little dream world to face life at J.H.S."

Jamie Sermersheim: "Getting up to have to face reality when I'd rather stay in Dream Land... The alarm clock is the worst sound in the world!!"

First Driving Experiences:

Dawn Hautsch: Allison Frank and I stole my sister's car and went to Huntingburg. It ran out of gas and we didn't have any money. We had to call my mom. My sister's car was reported stolen.

Allison Frank: My first driving experience was when I was driving Sherri Schneider's car on Celestine road at about 3:00 in the morning with her head hanging out the window!

Francesca del Guidice: Michael Bennett, Abby Bennett, Ryan Heeke, and I took Michael's sister's car on a midnight drive when none of us had our licenses. When we got back, Abby's parents were waiting for us and we all got grounded.

Corina Helming: "My worst experience was in my boyfriend's truck when I was playing hard on a rock road, caught some air, hit a tree, and left before the cops came."

Jayme Hochmeister: "My aunt was at my house one night and she wanted me to turn her van around for her. So I pulled into the neighbors drive-way. When I pulled out I ran over a huge shrub and six roses."

Freshmen

ARRIVING AT SCHOOL EARLY

Many freshmen arrive at school early because they ride the bus or depend on others for their rides. One freshman, Dana Brames stated, "I don't care what time I get to school, as long as I get there." Another freshman stated, "My ride likes to get to school early to chat with friends."

School Board and Administration

SCHOOL BOARD Members: Mr. Phil Buecher, Mr. Bill Hedinger, Mr. Ronald Himself, Mrs. Joyce Jackle, Mrs. Nancy Habig

Mr. Fred Hollinden retires after forty years in education. He graduated from St. Joseph's College in 1953 with a Bachelor's Degree in Math and Physics. He taught math one year at Shoals High School before coming to Jasper as a math teacher in 1954. He received a Master's Degree in Science Education and also a Specialist's Degree in School Administration from IU. In 1968 he was named principal at JHS, and in 1974 he filled a newly created Assistant Superintendent position. He said he will miss "getting up in the mornings and going to school everyday." He now plans to spend time visiting his five children. The rest, he said, is undecided.

Developing Research Skills in the Library

"The only way you fail is if you stop trying," said Mrs. Winter about using the library. Mrs. Winter helped students find materials for reports and books for classroom assignments. Not only a place for study, the library also served as an important place for students to go when they wanted to get away from study halls.

Many library systems, including the entire card catalog and the inventory process were computerized. Mrs. Musselwhite was hired this year to assist Mrs. Winter with various tasks in the library and A-V room.

Creativity

At Its Best

With 195 students taking art, Mr. Schum and Mr. Robbins were quite busy. Mr. Schum wrote to the Board of Education and received a grant to make a Gifted and Talented program possible. This enabled the students to hear five artists give lectures, and to take two trips to galleries and other related places. Several students entered art shows including the Lee Hamilton 9th Congressional District at New Albany and also the Dubois County Art Guild Show at the Krempp Gallery. Some pieces were displayed at the Tasters' Party held at the Holiday Inn in April.

Exploring our own Language

in the English Department

English classes enhanced understanding of our language for every student. Expanding one's vocabulary received emphasis, as did developing writing skills. Students worked on essays, research papers, poetry, and creative projects. Fun activities took place in literature classes with studies of popular stories and novels.

Speaking a different way

Foreign Language

Many students took advantage of the opportunity to learn a different language, having four to choose from: Spanish, German, Latin, and French. All of the classes were designed to teach not only the language itself but also about the customs and lives of people around the world. Each offered a club as a way of promoting activities which were associated with various cultures.

Learning Techniques for The Business World

The Business Department teaches students skills that are needed in the world today. They may learn to use various instruments such as computers, typewriters, and dictaphone machines. They are taught such skills as buying and selling, business mathematics, and shorthand. All in a Day's Work for Cooks and Custodians

When the bell signals time for lunch, students have to rush to their lockers and hurry to the lunch lines so they can find a free table to sit and rest for a minute. Lunchtime provides a few minutes to rest with some friends. On sunny days, if a student rushes a little, he can go outside to get some fresh air and then rush back into the school to finish the day.

The custodians work very hard to clean the school. The cooks work equally hard to prepare our meals. They are all friendly and do a great deal to keep this school running smoothly. One Custodian, Mr. Bob Stemle, is retiring this year after almost 24 years of dedicated service. Also, a cook, Mrs. Rose Lee Denk, is leaving J.H.S. after giving almost 16 years of devoted service.

Marilyn Schnaus and Betts Terwiske work side by side serving lunch to the students.

Janitor Gerry Wessel keeps our school clean.

Ed Schultheis makes a point to custodians Bob Stemle and Terry Wigand.

Mrs. Judy Haase, Mrs. Becky Matheis, Mrs. Helen Eckert, Mrs. Darlene Brinkman, Mrs. Mary Ann Wehr, and Mrs. Rose Lee Denk are so proud of the job they do that they enjoy it themselves.

Clare Meuser:
It doesn't really bother me as long as I don't talk to her, except during class. If I have a problem, though, at least I know she's there.

Dana Brames: I don't mind having my dad here as long as I am not in his class.

Keri Yarbrough:
It has its good points and bad points. I can get passes whenever I need them. I can leave school for any reason. The bad point would have to be that he finds out about everything, even sometimes before I do!

Leah Robbins:
It has its bad points and good points. The BAD point is that I have always been known as "Mr. Robbins' daughter." The GOOD point is that if I leave a book at school, he can always let me back in to get it.

Attie Winter:
It's nice when I need to get papers signed and I don't remember until right before that particular class period.

Julie Wagner:
I don't really mind it too much. Whenever I have a problem or need some money, I can always talk to her about it.

LeAnn Eckerle:
It is sometimes good and sometimes bad. She knows everything and more. Also, I can't do anything without her knowing. It is good because if I need something she can get it for me.

Carrie Schwartz:
I don't mind it at all. She's nice to have around when I need a little money.

Saying Good-Bye After Years of Fulfillment

Mrs. Carole Verkamp arrived at J.H.S. in 1985, teaching MIMH and Special Olympics. According to Mrs. Verkamp, the satisfaction of seeing her students do well in mainstream classes and get jobs is one of her greatest achievements. Another great achievement is the award she received this year. It was the Teacher of the Year Award, a state award in special education. She says, "The faculty here at J.H.S. has been outstanding and supportive." She offers the advice, "Work hard and be true to yourself!" to all students.

Mrs. Verkamp strives to educate her students.

Grading students' papers takes up much of Mrs. Verkamp's time.

This was Mr. Robert Verkamp's thirty-sixth and final year at J.H.S. Arriving here in 1957, he taught Wood, Metal, and Drawing classes. Helping students get jobs in the world has been satisfying for Mr. Verkamp. He says, "The thanks and the satisfaction is well worth it." He also says, "Working here at J.H.S. has been wonderful!" To the students, he says, "Be positive, keep in a good mental frame of mind, and work hard to be successful."

The Lady Cats had yet another great season. Not only did they have a 31-6 record, but they also won Sectional and Regional.

With the senior leadership of Michelle Brandes, Julie Jones, Natalie Jones, and Nancy Schnierle the Cats came together sooner than expected. The seniors showed tremendous leadership on and off the floor.

Nancy Schnierle was All State and All Conference, Gina Mehringer was All Conference, and Jill Shelton set a school record in setting.

Coach Pat Zehr commented, "Another tremendous year for JHS volleyball! I will really miss these seniors and all they gave to this program."

J.V. volleyball ended the season with a 21-2 record. Coach Joan Schaeffer quoted that, "This year's team was very hard-working and dedicated." Lisa Schuler had 176 assists and 36 service aces, Ashley Greulich had 95 kills and 85 digs, Diane Seng had 25 blocks, and Laura Kunkel had a 96.7% serving record.

This was the first freshman team ever at JHS. The team wanted to have a winning season and were pleased with their 13-2 record. Coach Karen Stenftenagel said that this year's freshmen were enthusiastic and determined. Melissa Stroud had most assists, Angie Volz had most kills, Jessica Corbin had most digs, and Stephanie Mehringer had the best serving percentage.

Freshman Team Goes Unscored Upon For An Entire Season

The Freshman team's goals were to win Big 8 Conference Championship, have an undefeated season, prevent their opponents from scoring, and improve with each game. All goals were accomplished. Coach Forler reported that he was very proud of the team for being the only team to go unscored upon. That is almost unheard of, and could mean that this group of young men will be very promising in the years to come, according to Coach Forler.

Coach Rohleder commented that he thought the Varsity Football team did an excellent job this season, especially after they lost two out of the first three games. He thought they would have given up and had a terrible season; instead they worked harder and won the rest of the regular season games.

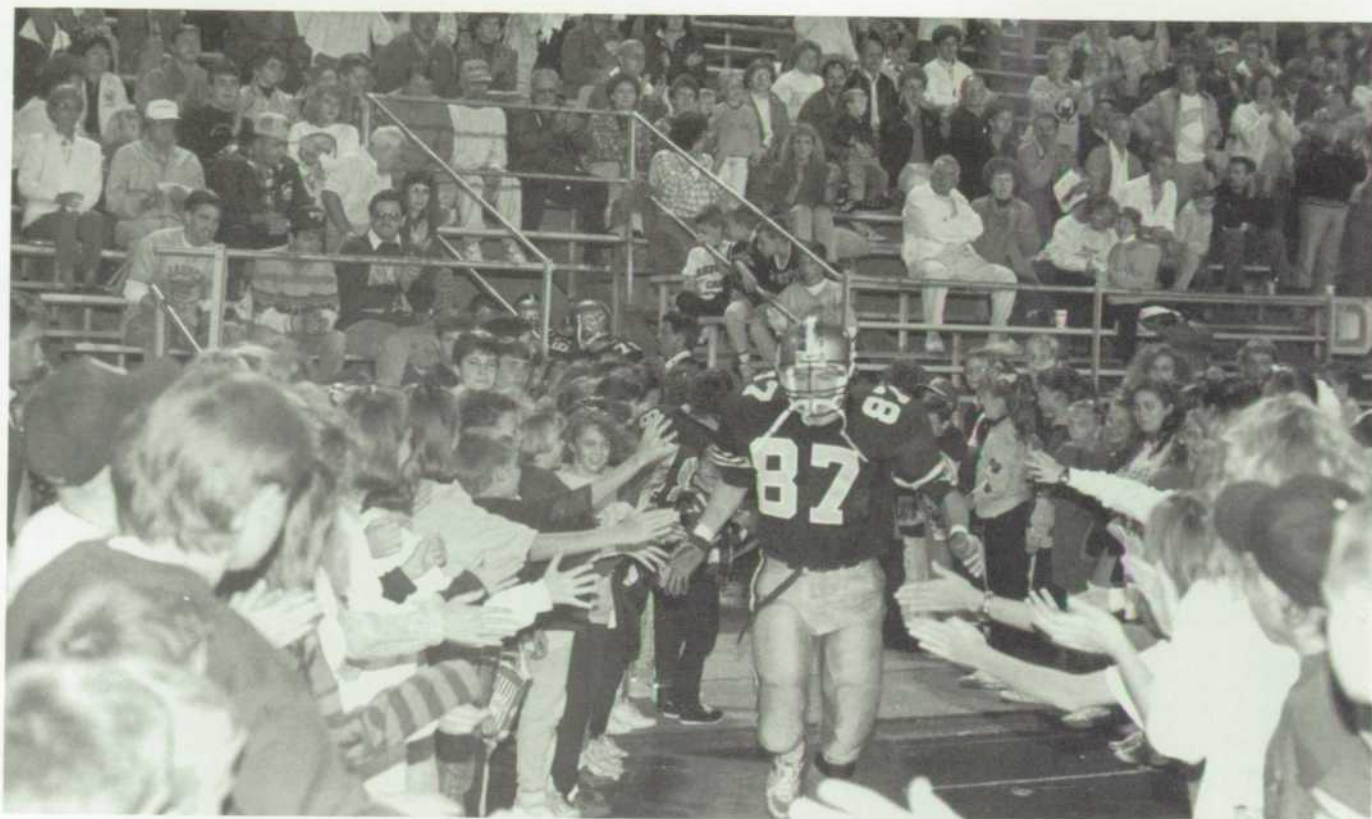

Wishing he could still be playing, Greg Schnarr rests after being injured.

The freshman team takes a time-out for a huddle to discuss the next bone-crushing play.

Cross-Country

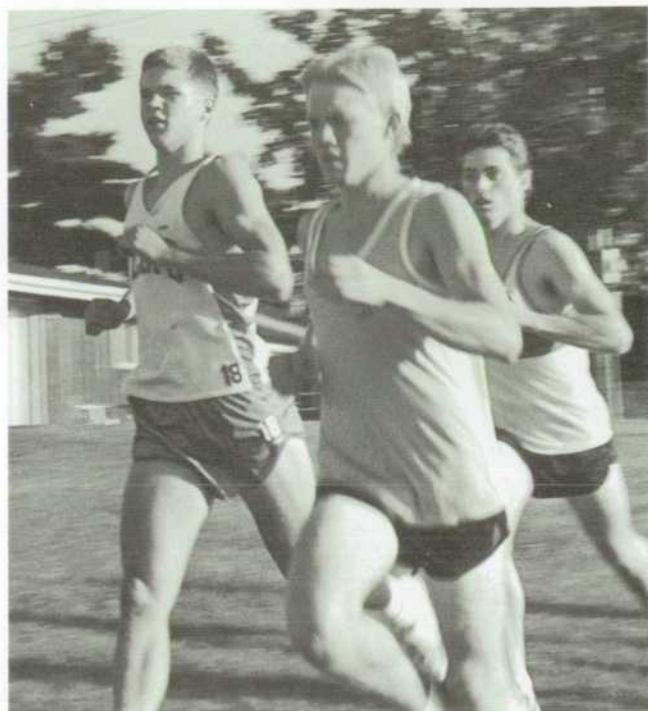

The Boys' and Girls' Cross-Country teams were both complimented by Coach Niehaus. The girls were runner-up in the Dubois-Crawford County Invitational, Big 8, and Sectional. The boys had another winning season. Andy Linette and Amy Lorey were the only two seniors to look up to for leadership. Next year's team should be an experienced team.

Girls' Golf reaches goal of Third Consecutive Year at State

The Girls' Golf team had a successful season, finishing 4th in the state. All six seniors showed leadership by encouraging the rest of the team.

Amy Streicher stated, "Our top goal was to win State. Also the other teams that had made it to the State finals received a fire engine ride when they arrived back in Jasper. We had made it to State the past two years, but never received the ride. As a result, one of our goals was to ride the fire engine this year." That goal was reached.

Shooting to Be the Best

Boys' Basketball

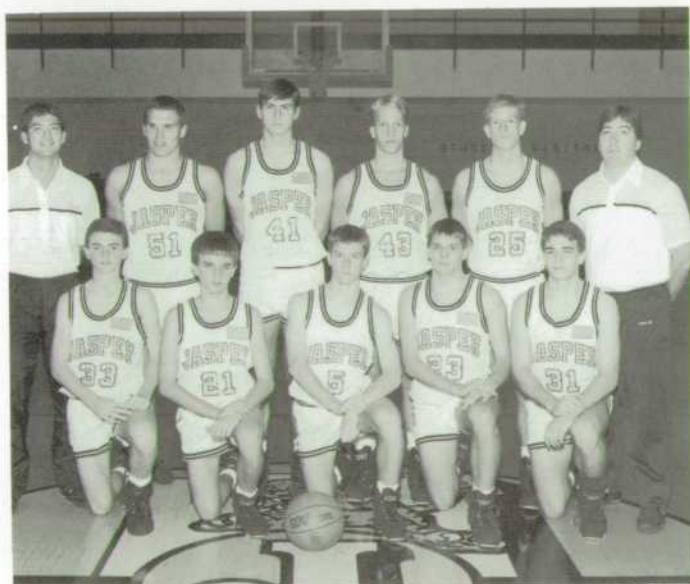

According to Coach Schultheis, "Scott Rolen and Kurt Fuhs did a great job as captains of the varsity basketball team." They helped the rest of their team reach two goals: winning 15 regular season games and being Conference Champs. Mr. Schultheis stated "This team over-achieved and that is the beginning trend for all future teams to follow." J.V. did just as well by winning the Big 8 Conference and J.V. tourney. Mr. Scherry said of his team, "these kids have a driving desire to do whatever it takes to be in a position to win."

Boys' Tennis

The Boys' Tennis team and Coach Ed Yarbrough set goals of winning the season, winning Big 8, and being Sectional and Regional champions. All of these goals were accomplished except Regional. The team captains were Scott Rolen, who led by his example with his hard work and competitiveness on the court, according to the coach. He finished undefeated in #3 singles, and Josh Habig earned the #1 singles position. Coach Yarbrough said, "Our team developed late but still built a solid team, dominating at the end of both the Big 8 and Sectional."

The goals for the girls' track team were to win the Big 8, win sectional, and for individuals to advance to state finals. "The team did not achieve the first two goals, but they had some outstanding performances from the seniors and a great deal of hard work and improvement from the younger athletes," according to Coach Pat Zehr. Nancy Schnierle made discus and shot records. Amy Lorey set a school record in the 3200 meter run.

The boys' track team set goals of showing courtesy and sportsmanship throughout theseason. Additionally, the team wanted to win the Dubois-Pike Invitational, the Big 8, and the Sectional. Although the team did place first in the Invitational, they came in sixth in both the Big 8 and the Sectional. Geoff Mauck, Jeff Schitter, and Rick Trevino "led the team well," according to Coach Ahrens. He addedthat the team "had a few talented athletes and many hard workers. Angie Moyes and Cory Marks pump up the crowd at the basketball game.

The cheerleaders started the season with major goals of getting more crowd involvement at the sporting events and receiving a bid to Nationals. Both were accomplished. Their season started out when they won top honors at the NCA Cheer Camp at Vincennes University. At camp the Freshman, J.V., and Varsity squads received all superior ribbons and the NCA Spirt Stick. At the National Cheerleading Championship in Dallas, Texas, they received 22nd place out of 143 squads. This accomplishment was the third highest among state squads. Two Varsity cheerleaders were chosen to the NCA's All-American team: Carrie Schwartz and Audra Schwinghammer. They were also chosen to be NCA instructors. Carrie, Audra and Amanda Simmers were chosen finalists for Best Cheerleader. Amanda Simmers also received the Mental Attitude Award. The Cheerleaders were coached by Belinda Nelson.

Discovering Artistic Creations

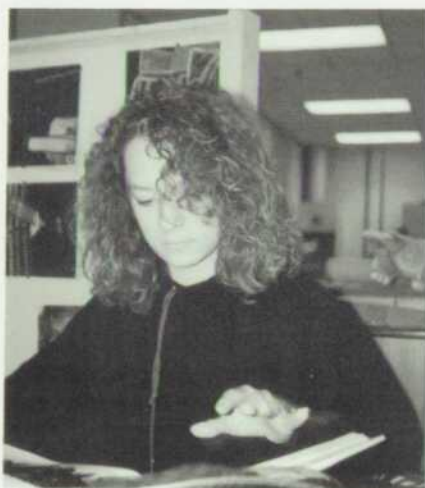

Art Club

The Art Club helped bring members into contact with artists and art forms they may not have otherwise experienced at school or at home. Several different artists were brought in to demonstrate their particular form of art. The club took tours of local showrooms and businesses. Sign designs were made for fundraisers. There were also several social gatherings held throughout the year. And of course there were parties to celebrate being a part of the club! The members got together for a Christmas party and later on a Pizza party.

Student Council

Making the Difference

Once again the Student Council played a major part in the student activities. The council added some different events to their already busy schedule. This year's council was very dedicated and as Mr. Brames would say, "Outstanding!" This year was the first year to have a Student Council banquet. All members of the council received Service Awards. Special awards were given to Attie Winter, Audra Schwinghammer, Keely Jackson, Greg Schnarr, Julie Prechtel, and Niki Hudson.

Members were involved in solving problems that challenged the community. In October a Halloween dance was held, National Education Week was celebrated in November, and in February they sponsored a communtiy blood drive at JHS.

Helping The Community

Jr. Civitan

The Jr. Civitan was one of the few clubs that still helped the community and its people. Throughout the year, they did numerous activities. In the fall, they took the Special Education kids to Holiday World. In the spring, they held the biggest community award winning project, the Radio-A-Thon. The money was collected to help fund the Handicapped Day Camp during the summer.

Working to Benefit Others

Columbian Squires

The Columbian Squires were a group of over 75 young boys who worked on projects to benefit the community and to award scholarships to members at the end of their senior year. They held two barbeques, an Easter coloring contest, and two dances. The advisors for the Columbian Squires were Mike Waddel and Marty Kaiser. The officers were President: Brad Vonderheide, Vice-President: Kurt Eckert, Secretary: Greg Freyberger, and Treasurer: Ryan Flannagan.

Don't Drink & Drive

SADD Officers Michelle Vogler, Jill Hoffman, Brian Sohovich, Kelly Gutsell, Tammy Mehringer, and Jennifer Roberts line up to introduce themselves before the conference begins.

Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) was a group of students who worked to discourage drinking and driving and the endangerment of innocent lives. Posters were placed around the school during Homecoming and Prom to encourage students to be safe, not to drink and drive. SADD co-sponsored the Snowball dance and was represented by the Angel of Death.

Jr. Achievement

Educating Our Future

This was the 18th year of Junior Achievement in Jasper. It was designed to give an awareness of the American business system, providing students with the opportunity to work in areas such as purchasing, sales, management, research, and development. Junior Achievement contained four companies: F.B.I. having 20 members, Qualitat having 23 members, Hoochievers having 28 members, and STATUS having 19.

Hosting Exchange Students

German Club

When twenty German students visited Jasper for one month in the spring, many of the German Club members acted as hosts, and other students in German class helped out. A spring activity of the club was clean-up around the school grounds. Periwinkles were planted in the flower box in order to perk up the entrance to school. During the fall, fund-raising activities including selling German candies and Advent calendars. Profits went into the exchange program fund. Members also helped the adult German Club by providing babysitting services. Officers were Molly Mehringer, Stephanie Wuchner, Melissa Holsworth, and Shawn Weyer. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Meuser.

President Amanda Kiper - Hopf, Vice - President Andy Smith, Secretary Jamy Schuler, Treasurers Lisa Schwenk and Courtney Kuczynski, and Historian Timothy Fuhrman led the Latin Club under Mr. Glezen's sponsorship. Members went to the nursing home in October to paint pumpkins with the elderly. They also worked hard during Foreign Language Week. First, second, and third year students participated in various events. Everyone made posters showing countries and illuminating Latin phrases. Third year students built a catapult, and at the end of the week, they attacked Mrs. Meuser's German class with erasers and balloons filled with sand.

Chris Williams and Craig White, students in Mr. Glezen's Latin 1 class, wear togas to celebrate the Roman tradition.

Planning for the Future

Health Occupations

Twelve girls participated in the area vocational class entitled Health Occupations Students of America. They were involved in many community activities during the first semester. One such event was dressing up in costumes for a Halloween party at Good Samaritan Nursing Center. These students also performed many tasks as they helped Red Cross with the annual blood drive. During the second semester they worked at different departments of the hospital and nursing home. To end the year, Instructor Bev Alles took members on a field trip to the Evansville State Hospital. Included among the activities at Evansville was eating at the Cafe Court in Eastland Mall.

The Academic Teams received a great deal of recognition at the Super Bowl, Spell Bowl, and Academic Decathlon competitions. These teams spent countless hours studying the topics that were given for their particular events. Mrs. Dee Ann Bell directed the Spell Bowl and Super Bowl with the help of Mr. Bob Stenftenagel. Mrs. Cathy Stradtner took on advising the Academic Decathlon team which received the award for placing third in the State.

Making the Future Bright

Ryan Fromme works on staining wood for his project.

Top: Jeremy Wagner, Adam Matheis, Andy Kreilein. Bottom: Aaron Seng, Dennis Gress, Daryl Kluemper, Ryan Fromme.

Jeremy Wagner does some paperwork for one of his teachers; he is so helpful.

Demonstrating Enthusiasm

Girls' Varsity Letter Club

Amy Lorey wonders about her evening run.

Mrs. Stenftenagel sits with Julie Jones on the bleachers.

Janelle Luegers and Nancy Schnierle show the team spirit.

Band and Choir

Producing Beautiful Music

Karla Eck and Jill Hoffman discuss their song.

Julie Prechtel and Sara Geiger practice one more time. Rachael Himself sings her song.

Winter Guard

6th in the State

Row 1: Andrea Schmitt, Tracy Harlow, Holly Reinhart, Stacy Schmitt, Jennifer Werne. Row 2: Toni Sanders, Tracy Watts, Stacey Letterman, Courtney Dunn, Melisa Schroeder. Row 3: Bridget Heichelbech, Janelle Van Winkel, Heather Kelley, Lisa Pruesz. Row 4: Nicki Schnarr, Erin Weyer, Krista Brown, Joni Leistner. Row 5: Aundrea Wright, Jill Matheis, Miranda Burger, Sylvia Pund.

Members of the Winter Guard perform during the half time of a basketball game.

The Winter Guard consisted of twenty-two members. In performances, they achieved a third place finish at Northview and another third place finish at Shakamak. They also had a seventh place finish in Prelims. The Winter Guard also presented a colorful pregame show at all the home basketball games. The Winter Guard capped off the season with a sixth-place showing at Open Class Finals at Indianapolis in March.

Courtney Dunn awaits for the signal to go ahead and perform.

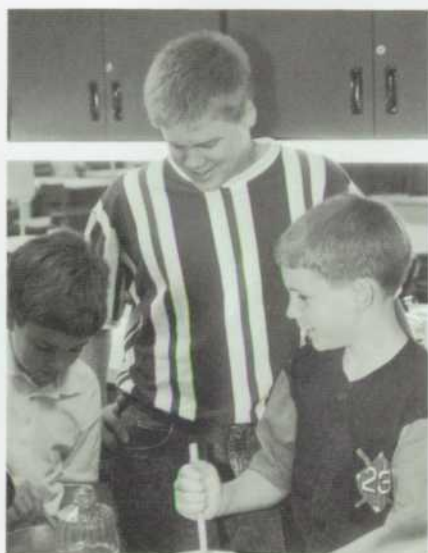

Idols For Tomorrow

All-Stars

The All-Stars had a positive influence on quite a few third graders. The All-Stars made a commitment not to go to any parties or gatherings that would have minors drinking alcohol. All-Star members brought their third grade students to JHS twice to give them an idea of what the high school is really like.

Trey Small watches over his 3rd Grade All-Star while they visited the Home Ec Department.

Jill Hoffman and Emily Forbes eat some of their trail mix they made with their 3rd Grade students.

Alison Bochstahler takes time from an All-Star meeting.

The Yearbook Staff

Making Memories That Last

The 1992-93 staff made several changes in this year's book. They added wild borders and bright colors for a whole new image. As a result, this year's book sales reached an all time high. The "J" Staff worked on captions and headlines using the MacIntosh computer. The yearbook staffers shared a great ambition to work together on ad sales, picture-taking, and designing layouts. The staff celebrated meeting deadlines with in - class parties. They also traveled to VUJC for a workshop sponsored by Herff Jones in September.

Adam Hostetter finishes his layouts to meet a deadline.

Trina Moyes, Kim Mundy, Adam Hostetter, Sherri Schneider, and Heidi Beck work on their captions using the MacIntosh.

Making the

School Newspaper

Comet staff members took Newspaper class all year, a change from previous one-semester classes. Jayme Rohlman stated, "It has been a good experience on the Comet staff, although it was sometimes hard to make deadlines."

Casey Zink is a hard working comet member.

This is a look of concentration from Kurt Heim.

Row 1: J.R. Matheis, Casey Zink, Shane Werner. Row 2: Jamy Schuler, Kurt Heim, Jamey Rohlman, Ross Miller, Adam Vaal, Philipp Gertler.

WE REMEMBER

We must live our own style of life
Even through all the struggle and strife
Of all of its turmoil, ups and downs
But still we try to smile instead of frown
For life is really worth living today
Even though sometimes
we try to run away
For through living we all suffer pain
But mostly through it we really do gain
Our friends are always with us to share
All of the pain as well as the joy in the air
So, friends are those with whom we need
To share always with love not with greed
For friends are those who stand by your side
And from them nothing can you really hide
So, it's your friends that make life worth living
By all they do in their cheerful giving.

CONGRATULATIONS LEANN ECKERLE

I wish for you a life of your own . . .
The way you want it to be.
The path you choose and where it may lead
Will not be up to me.
Wherever you go, whatever you become,
No matter what you do,
You'll always have my love and support,
I wish the best for you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, & Adam

CONGRATULATIONS TONYA MOORE

*We are proud of you.
May all your dreams come true,
now and forever.
YOU'RE THE GREATEST!!!*

Love,
Mom & Dean
