Tradition

A change of pace is important during the school day. Regular classroom routine may be broken with a field trip, movie, or snack. When study hall comes around, students head for various rooms in the building. Some get individual help from teachers or visit the library. Others watch videos, finish projects, or help teachers in different departments. All are determined to find ways to keep entertained during the school day.

Enjoying the annual Junior Civitan Fall Olympics, sophomore Susan Jerger participates in the bubble blowing contest. They hold this event in the beginning of the year to welcome their new members. Some members of Jr. Civitan are excused from school to help at special events and to attend conferences.

During her study hall, senior Kim Hoffman works hard on redecorating a vase. The vase was for an auction the Art Club held to raise money.

Working on an opening spread, junior Andy Giesler takes time out for yearbook. Many yearbook staff members give up their special study hall time to do their duty for the school.

Tradition

Gimme black! . . . Gimme gold! . . . Black, gold, black, gold. Go, Go, Wildcats! Wildcats, Go!

This is a familiar cheer chanted at every pep session and ball game. Student involvement is popular at Jasper High School. Leading our school, members of the Camo Crew have led cheers all year. Crowded bleachers, smiling faces, and loud screams are all a big part of the spirit.

Our Mascot claps to the beat of "We Will Rock You" during a pep rally.

Team co-captain Dean Jerger expresses thanks for support to the football team.

Before leaving for the Regional in Salem, the football team forms a huddle to psyche themselves up for their game.

Scared, nervous, and anxious are a few of the emotions that were felt by these JHS students: Shannon Seifert (10), Luke Verkamp (12), Alison Ackerman (11), and David Palmgren (12), when they were told about their mystery date.

This year the Yearbook Staff decided to investigate how couples spend their time together. We gave each couple $25 to show us exactly what goes on. From going out to dinner to catching a movie, they shared one another's company, while others showed us how they have fun.

This is how it went...

Junior D.J. Klem and Sophomore Chrissy Adams share a romantic moment in the kitchen.

After a hard day at school, Emily Weikert and Maria Feltner show that their boyfriends, Chris Deckard and Chad Blessinger, are good for something.

Preparing for the big night, David Palmgren puts on a charming smile before meeting his date.

While waiting for some excitement to take place, Alison Ackerman finishes her meal at Fazoli's.

R O M A N C E

Becoming better acquainted, Luke Verkamp and Shannon Seifert realize that blind dates aren't so bad after all.

At the Pro-Life Rally Tim Johanning and Natalie Hopf express their affection for one another.

At their favorite Saturday night hang-out, the bowling alley, Nathan Stallings, Stacey Letterman, Jamie Sermersheim, and Adam Schmalenberger compete to see who achieves the highest score.

Tradition

Even though most people complain about school food, Amy Stenftenagel seems to enjoy it.

Turn that frown upside down. Show those pearly whites. Laugh and the world laughs with you. If you're happy and you know it . . . smile, smile, smile!

High school is a time for a lot of studying, stress, and heartache, but there's something else--laughter. We hear it in the hallways. We hear it in the classrooms. Not a day goes by without seeing someone's smiling face. So go ahead JHS--show us your best side!

Showing their spirit, Jennifer Schultheis and Jennifer Wagner are all smiles.

Students often see teachers smiling, as Mr. Abell shows us.

Walking through the hallways, you can't help but see people smiling — just like Mike Wanninger and Phil Goss.

Sheila Mehringer contemplates what to write in one of the many year-books she signs during lunch.

LAUGHTER

How could anyone miss the smile Abby Kuntz flashes when she realizes how much her newborn "baby" weighs?

These senior girls are all smiles when they're with their friends.

Tradition

G'mon . . . just try . . . try to imagine your teachers having fun. As hard as it may be to picture your teachers out of school, teachers have lives too. Following is a list of some JHS teachers and their favorite pastimes.

Mrs. Hubers - playing golf, studying French

Mr. Musselwhite - copying 50's and 60's music onto video and cassette tapes

Mr. Glezen - traveling, taking students skiing in foreign capitals

Mr. Haycox - watching Purdue games (when they win!), visiting auctions

And you thought your teachers were boring!

Can you say ahhh? Mr. Jessee opens wide to devour a sandwich made to celebrate the baby shower in Mr. Jochem's sociology class.

An avid tennis player, Mr. LaGrange proudly displays his abundant winnings.

Grading papers may not sound very exciting, but the majority of teachers here at JHS spend hours doing it. Mr. Rohleder demonstrates this monotonous activity.

Tradition

The Gap. Goody's. Watson's. Shopping for clothes can be fun or a chore. Homeroom surveys indicated that juniors and seniors love to shop at The Gap for clothes, while freshmen and sophomores like Goody's and Watson's. Jeans that are especially popular are Levi's and Gap. Most-liked shoe stores among the students are Foot Locker, Shoe Show, and Shoe Carnival. Clearance sales tend to be a major part in shopping because student funds are limited.

Ladeling chocolate syrup on her vanilla ice cream, Courtney Doane is careful not to spill a drop onto her Mohair sweater. Arah Leslie waits behind her in line at the PTO sundae bar. They are both exhibiting a fashionable way to stay warm.

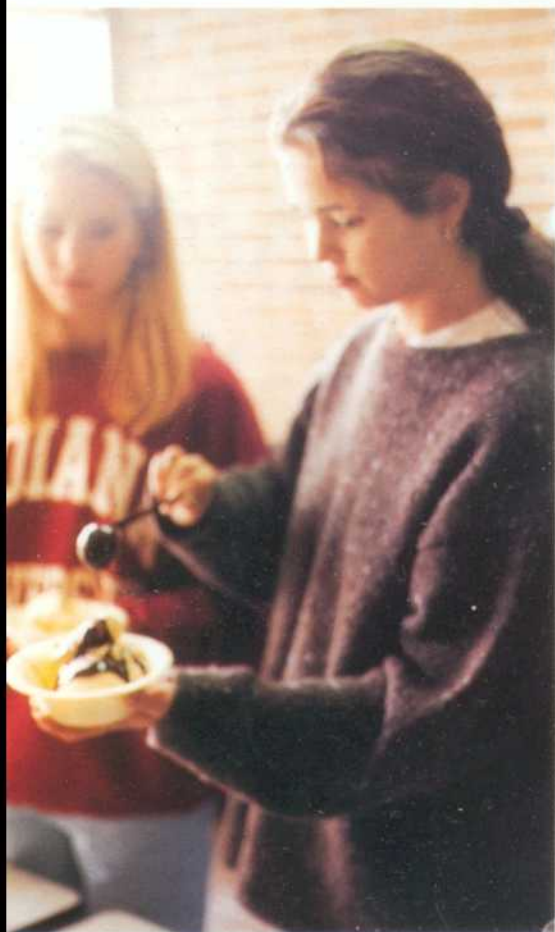

"Hey, why are you taking a picture of me? I dress like this everyday!" jokes sophomore Kristen Johanning. Actually she's dressed up for Halloween!

As Adam Matheis drinks his Mountain Dew, he displays his Reebok T-shirt.

Tradition

Open your eyes and ears, JHS! In our halls of knowledge, visitors with different views and fresh new ideas are always welcome.

Early in the year, we were being entertained and informed by such guests as Congressman Lee Hamilton and the group "Opera a la Carte." British Lit students had the pleasure of hearing about England first-hand from Chris Boote, a friend of their student teacher. In October, students welcomed more than twenty guests from the Faust

Gymnasium in Germany into their homes and lives, and helped them learn a little bit about American life. Michael Orth, an actor with the Illustrated Theatre Touring Company of Chicago, involved students from Forensic Theatre in skits involving decisions facing teenagers. These skits were performed on stage for the student body and faculty.

Convocations and visitors added a splash of variety not soon to be forgotten.

Straight from England to JHS! Chris Boote enlightens seniors with the views and experiences of someone who's been there. Scott Friedman and other class members listen with interest.

Who better to talk to our seniors in government than our very own congressman, Lee Hamilton? Thanks to the efforts of Matt Kuper, Jason Flannagan, and Kyle Kendall, our students were given the opportunity to hear an outstanding speaker.

with a splash of

What a lucky guy! Senior Jeff Harlow was chosen from the audience to participate on-stage during "Opera a La Carte." The November program was sponsored by the Jasper Community Arts Commission.

V A R I E T Y

Creative and funny, yet professional and sincere, accurately describes actor Michael Orth. Combined with the efforts of Forensics Theatre students, he presented "Food For Thought: Teen Theatre For Prevention." The skits presented a light yet serious front to issues that aren't always so funny.

Even Mrs. Lechner and Mr. Menke hopped on the welcome wagon and helped teach the visiting German students to line dance. Many other teachers, students, and members of the community helped make unforgettable memories for the Faust students.

ONE LAST DANCE

The Senior class united for one last dance on Thursday, May 18, 1995. The PTO sponsored the annual Senior Dance and provided the food. The music was supplied by Boogie Tunes. The highlight of the dance was the slide show at 10:00. Memories were relived and good times remembered by all of the Seniors who were a part of the last dance.

Doing the "chicken" dance, Seniors show their true dancing talents.

Taking a break from dancing, Pam Ard, Jami Arvin, Tracy Mundy, and Kyle Kendall talk about their plans for afterwards.

Waiting patiently for a good song, Mr. Land and friends watch everyone else.

An outgoing group of Senior girls shows how much fun the "locomotion" can be.

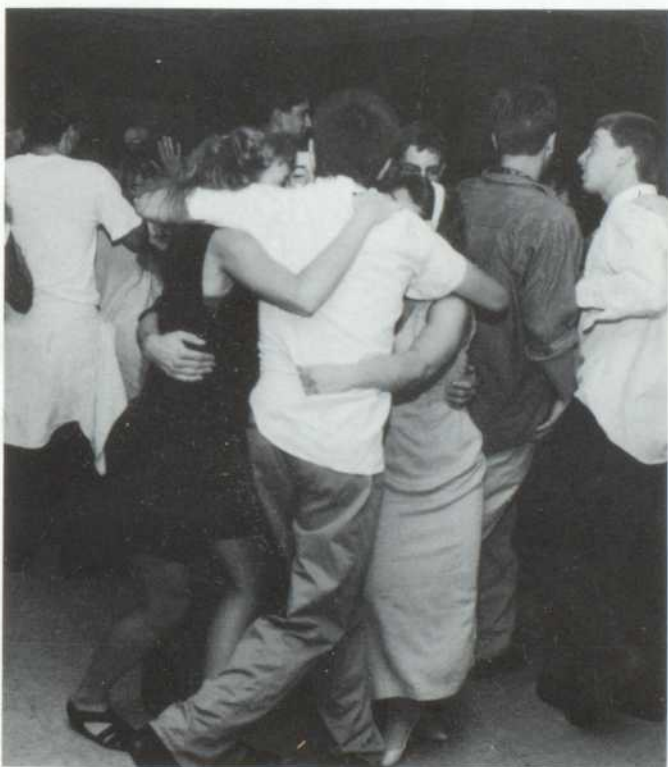

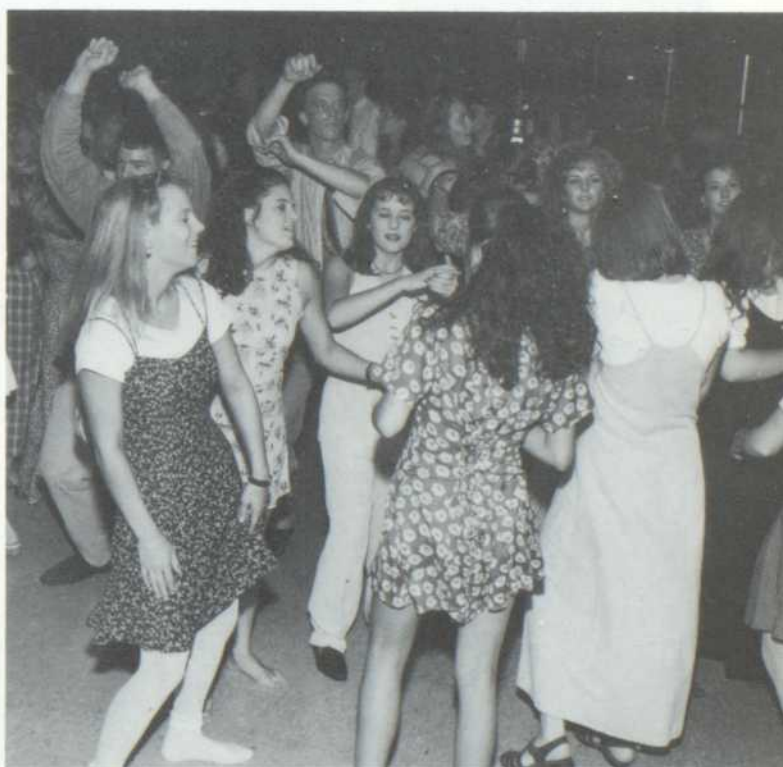

Exhaustion hits Aaron VanPelt as he dances with Emily Weikert.

Seniors crowd together to admire Brad Schmitt's "robot" dance.

Sad to see the dance and their Senior year end, Ashley Greulich, Matt Rees, Jennifer Seger, and Scott Friedman gather for one last hug.

Even though they were hot and tired, the Senior class continued to dance one last dance.

The Class of 1995

It was May 26, 1995, when 204 diplomas were handed out, a thousand hugs were shared, and hundreds of tears were shed. Seniors were excited and relieved to be getting their diplomas, but they were slightly nervous thinking about the years to come. For the graduates, JHS will not be remembered as a place of rules, tests, and teachers, but rather a building filled with everlasting memories.

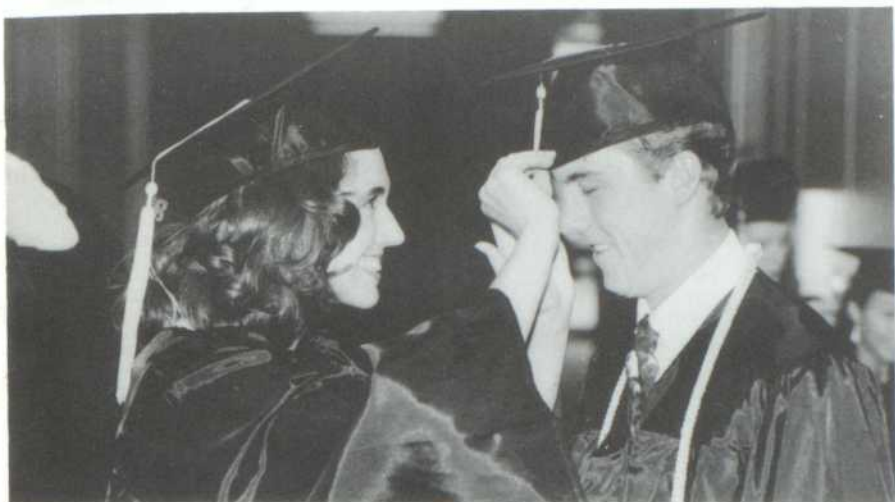

"Let Your Life
Proceed by It's Own Design..."

As Kelly Evans reflects on the evening, Niki Hudson pins her cap in place.

Gala Linette shows Josh Habig that the point of his cap goes in the front.

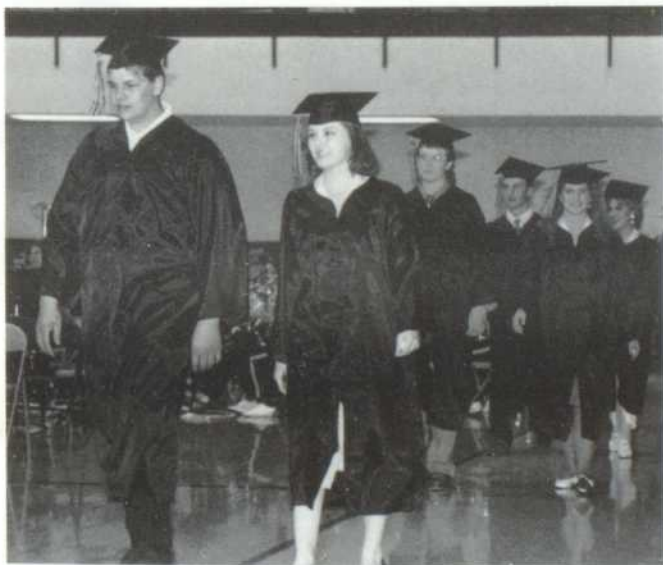

Smiling as usual, Tim DeMotte and Eric Bohnert walk to their seats.

Jason King and Eric McKim smile at the thought of graduation.

As the band plays "Pomp and Circumstance," the soon-to-be graduates walk to their seats.

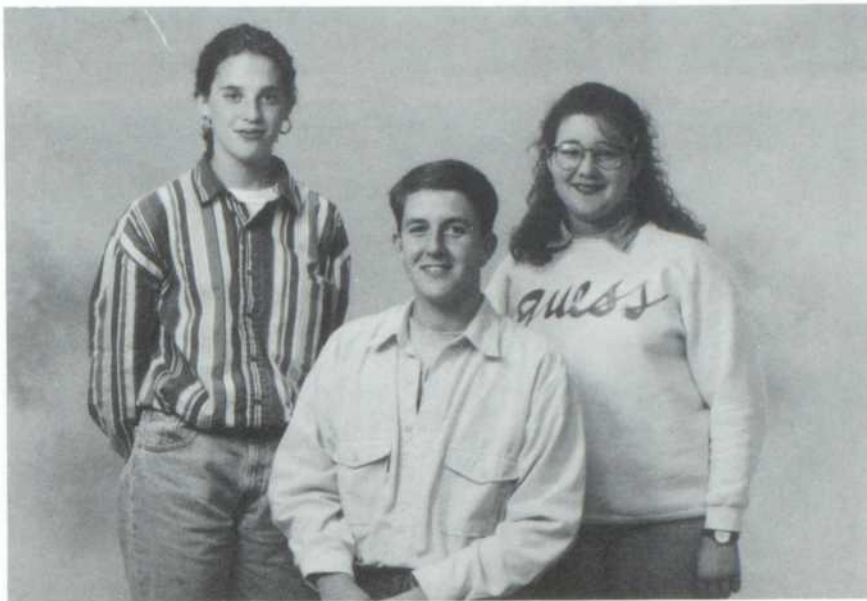

Junior Class Officers: Audrey Vogler, President; Kelly Bawel, Secretary/Treasurer; Tara Kieffner, Vice President

The underclassmen of JHS had a very busy year. Each class participated in spirit year activities like the penny jar contest, hall decorating, and Powder Puff football. The Juniors had an especially exciting year organizing and decorating for prom. The Sophomores fit in and began to see JHS as a home instead of a foreign place. The Freshmen overcame many obstacles and as the year went on became confident about their high school careers. All of the classes did a great job of coming together and making their splash for the 1994-1995 school year!

$uper Buck$

Redeemable at DR Associates' restaurants, including Jerry's, Paco's, Wendy's or Long John Silver's for any menu item. Certificate good up to a retail value of one dollar. No change given. Bearer responsible for taxes. Coupon expires 5/2/95.

Dear John,

You signed up to work at the game on Saturday. You are expected to be there at 6:30; if you are unable to attend you must find a replacement. If you do not work you will be assessed a $25.00 fine. Thank you and we'll see you at the game.

You may remember getting one of these. The junior class needed to make money for this year's prom. In addition to working at the games they also sold SUPER BUCKS. The program was a huge success. They averaged over $650 per game and made over $1,000 with SUPER BUCKS. The junior class did a great job in getting this done.

Disastrous Dates!

"When my best friend talked me into doubling with her boyfriend's egotistic sidekick and all night he kept saying "So am I cool" and "Do ya like me or what?"

Carolyn Berkman

"Shannon O. and I agreed to go on a blind date with these two supposedly cool guys. Well, one was 80% bold and the other looked like a seventh grader! We made them take us home at ten."

Carey Chanley

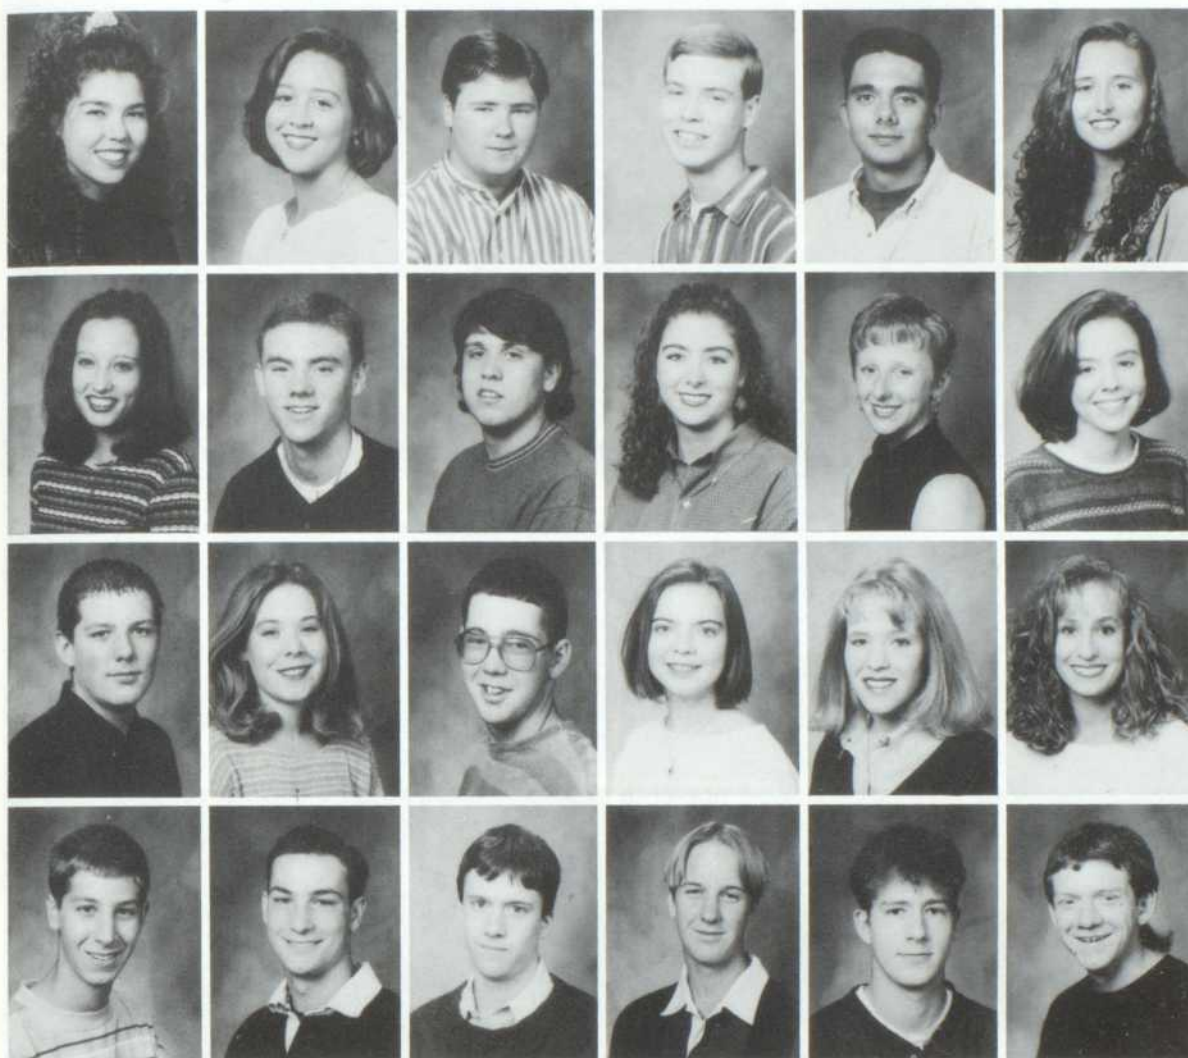

"I asked this girl to the movies who reportedly liked me, but when I tried to hold her hand ... she smacked me in the face."

Brian Gilmore

"Ashley, Lisa, Shawn, and I doubled. On the way to pick up Shawn, Lisa hit a concrete post and was afraid to drive. So Ashley drove, and after going the wrong way down a one way street and near misses, we got there alive. However, Shawn didn't have enough money to pay for his movie ticket."

What Was the Meanest Prank That You Ever Pulled on Someone

"After telling ghost stories, Angie Weisheit and I sneaked into the back of Nichole Beyke's blazer and scared her so much that she was in tears."

Audrey Vogler

"My friends and I stole a whole bunch of lawn ornament animals and stuck them all in Kyle Cook's front yard."

Danielle Shreve

"On Halloween I stole 35-40 pumpkins loaded them in the "wood" and smashed them in Craig White's driveway. He had to shovel them away to get into his driveway."

Kris Williams

"When I lived in Priceton I took all of my ex-boyfriend's books out of his locker. Then I took his clothes out and hid them down the hall in another locker. When I had cleared everything, I loaded the locker with trash."

FOOTBALL

Everyone waited patiently. The only sound was Elton John's "Can You Feel the Love Tonight" pouring from the speakers. All the seniors wished they would just announce it! Then, finally, the voice came over the loud speaker: "The 1994 Football Homecoming King and Queen are Tim DeMotte and Apryl Coleman!" Apryl and Tim put their best smiles on while the cameras flashed and Niki Hudson and Matt Kuper crowned them king and queen. This was surely a night to remember.

King and Queen: After being named Football Homecoming king and queen, Tim DeMotte and Apryl Coleman are all smiles.

Seniors: Tim DeMotte, Apryl Coleman, Andrea Knies, Neil Hopf, Jill Weisman, and Scott Hagan.

Juniors: Phil Kendall, Jenny Snyder, Audra Eckert, and Phil Goss.

HOMECOMING

Sophomores: Michael Ludwig, Holly Sermersheim, Kiersten Hile and Doug Wigand.

Freshmen: Brad Eckerle, Libby Mauck, Natalie Mehringer, and Lance Lorey.

A Night to Remember

The crowd roared at the close of the Junior Varsity game on February 15 as the 1995 Homecoming candidates entered the gymnasium. "I'll Be There For You" by Bon Jovi was played by the "Velvet Groove" bandmen Jason Knies and Andy Guard. Josh Habig sang to finish the performance. Andrea Knies and Chad Hoffman presented the king and queen with their title. Matt Rees and Angie Moyes were selected king and queen by the student body. Evansville Harrison was defeated as Jasper pulled off another victory.

DANCES

Dances offered students a great opportunity to relax and do something different. However, not as many dances were held as in past years because attendance was down, and many clubs voted against sponsoring dances.

The first dance of the year was the traditional Welcome Freshman dance. The Halloween dance gave students a chance to dress up and express themselves in a unique way. Some opted to look like a member of the opposite sex; others dressed (and acted) like animals. Snowball was the only formal dance besides Prom. Students enjoyed starting out the evening with dinner before going to the dance. It was a time to see one's friends acting a little more mature. The Toga Dance was also held, proving to students that they could have fun at school.

"To the King of Snowball!" This year, sophomore Charlie Swan was crowned King and sophomore Natalie Seidl was named Queen. Tina Hurst presents Charlie his wand.

All decked out, these girls dance the night away with their friends as they enjoy the Snowball dance.

Sharla Flack, Molly Krodell, and Angela Berger party "till the cows come home" at the Halloween dance.

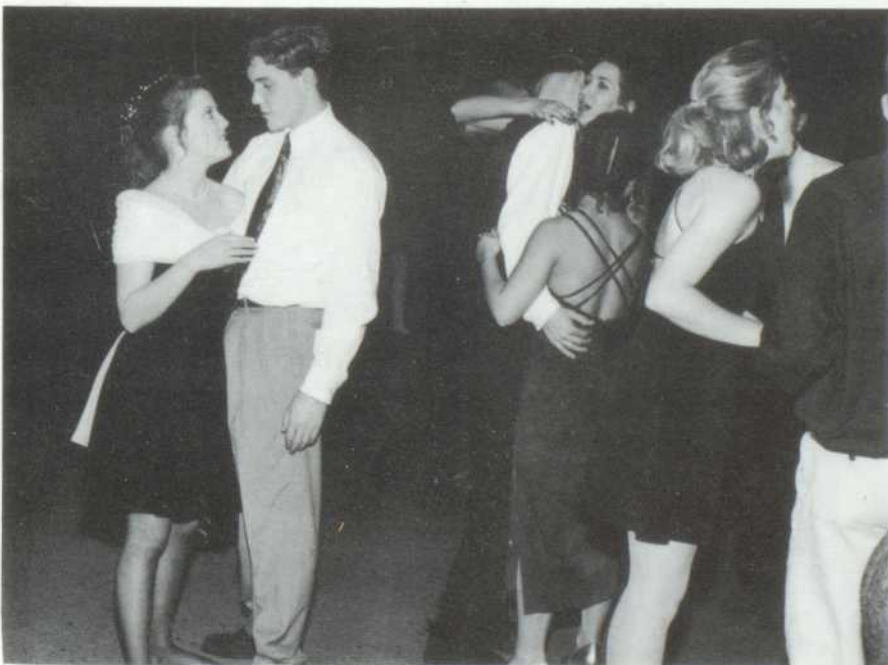

Dancing with your girlfriend or boyfriend can be a romantic moment. Tiffany Small and Scott Friedman share this special moment with each other.

Whether one is whispering sweetly into another's ear, like Nick Abbett and Erin Sendelweck, or telling his friend some shocking news, like Eric Nolan and Kurt Schroeder, dances give everyone something to talk about.

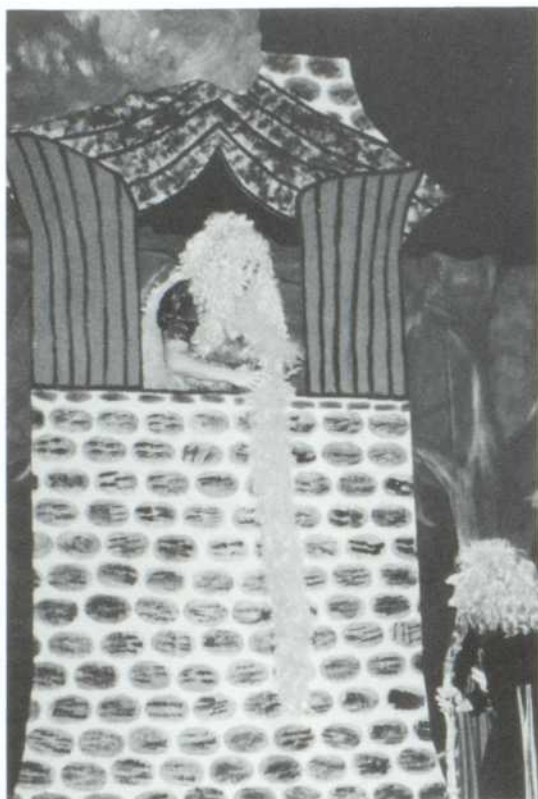

"Annie" shows up at the Halloween dance, but Mandy Mayes isn't singing; she's dancing.

Dressed to the nines for the Snowball dance, everyone has a great time relaxing with their friends.

"Rapunzel, Rapunzel, let down your hair." Laura Kunkel lets down her hair to Jill Braun.

The Wolf, portrayed by Matt Hogan, looks into Little Red's (Kelly Evans') basket in Into the Woods.

Gala Linette is the aggravated mother of Jack, Ryan Steffen, in Into The Woods.

Re-enacting the murder scene, Stacey Lettermen offers to stab Chris Schnarr in the fall play, Twelve Angry People.

PLAYS

This year some of the most talented actors and actresses gathered together and delivered some of the best performances seen here at JHS. The presentations included the fall play Twelve Angry People, the musical Into the Woods, the one acts "The Day Paul Newman Came to Call" and "Louder, I Can't Hear You," and the children's play Rumpelstiltskin.

Rumpelstiltskin (aka Gala Linette) basks in the glow of stage lights while practicing for the children's play.

Katie Weikert speaks to Chris Burger, Amy Steffenagel, and Ryan Steffen in the one act "Louder, I Can't Hear You."

The evil step-mother, Jamie Sermersheim, desperately tries to fit Cinderella's shoe on Caroline Berkman as Nicole Place and Phil Moeller look on.

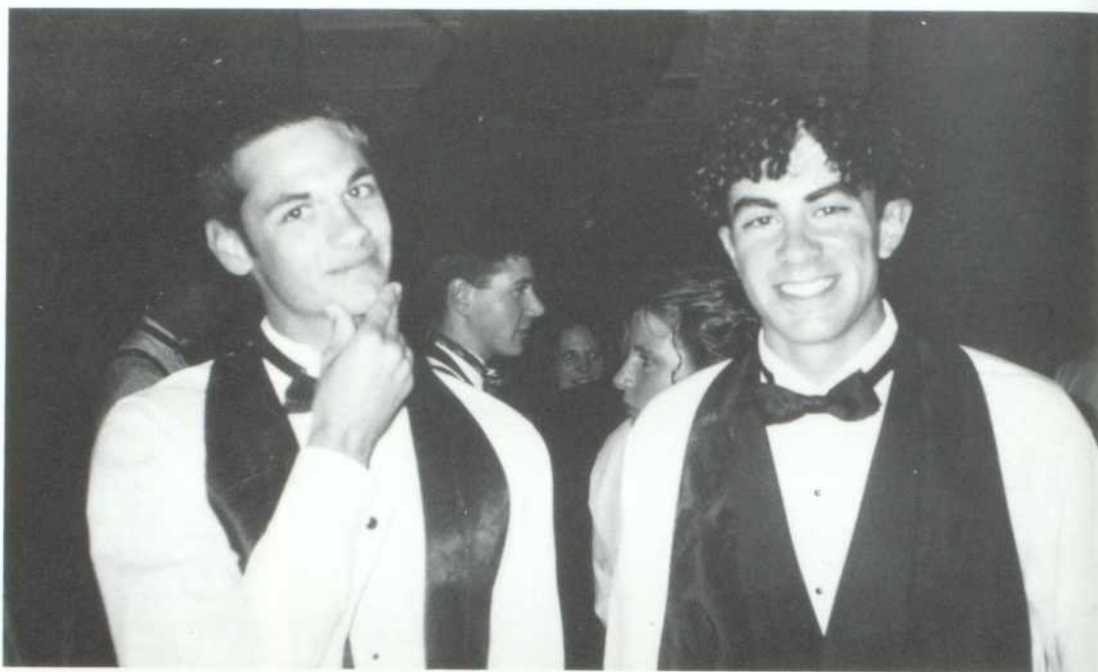

In the one act "The Day Paul Newman Came to Call," Gala Linette, David Gillely, and Stacey Lettermen dance on stage.

"OH WHAT A NIGHT"

"Oh, What a Night" was an appropriate way to describe the night of Prom, April 29, 1995. The Prom theme was carried out in the many blue and gold stars and moons used as decorations. The song was "I Live My Life For You" by Firehouse.

Trying to impress the ladies, Phil Goss and Nick Werne pose like studs.

Excited about a night of fun, Brett Hurm and Shannon O'Connor wait in line to sign the guest book.

Julie Wagner, Carrie Winter, and Jodi Vogler want a "friends" picture on Prom night.

Kyle Cook and Corina Helming dance to the music of Clear Creek.

Taking a break from dancing in the cafeteria, transformed with flowers and fountains, Sheila Mehninger and Dan Buechler make their entrance into the gym through the tunnel.

PROM PREPARATIONS

The Junior class members transformed the school into a beautiful wonderland. They worked many long hours in school during free time and out of school, staying late into the night. Junior meetings began in November; the juniors had to come early in the morning for these meetings. They found out that their work didn't end until the morning of Prom.

Helping to decorate the pool hallway, Kate Verkamp puts lights in a tube.

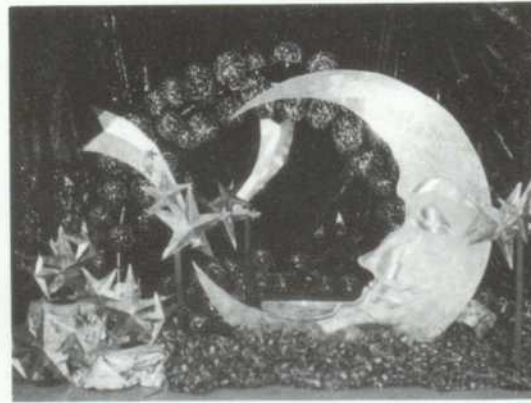

Working diligently, Daniel Buck and Adam Jahn refine the fence.

Leslie Hildenbrand concentrates on curling ribbon for the tables.

Kelly Schwinghammer carries a fence up to the dance floor.

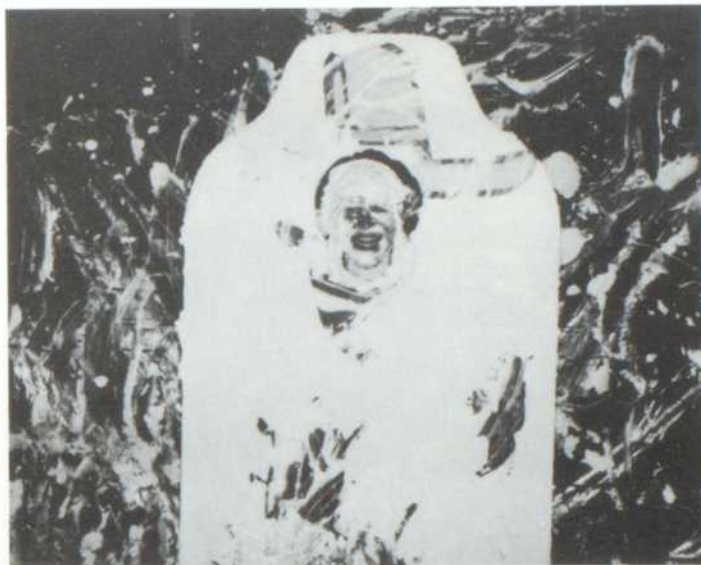

The result of all this hard work by the Junior Class was Prom '95.

SOUTH OF THE BORDER

Students traveled "South of the Border" this year for Post Prom. Some of the activities down south were pie throwing, card playing, volleyball, and wall climbing. The "biggest" attraction was sumo-wrestling, along with the great prizes and money to be won. Everyone departed from "South of the Border" at 4:30.

Throwing pies at the teachers was a favorite this year, as Mr. Gobert finds out.

Enjoying their time together, April Dosch and Trent Miller pose.

Have you ever had a bad day when nothing went right and you needed someone to talk to? And maybe you didn't feel well and needed to see the nurse? ## LIBRARY/A.V.

Research materials, magazines, copy machines, and helpful assistants. These were all things any J.H.S. student could find in the library, but now there was also something new: twenty-eight I.B.M. computers. Thanks to the I.B.M.'s many students were able to use the library more efficiently, because the computers continued to save them lots of valuable time. The I.B.M. computers definitely made a splash!

ENHANCING COMMUNICATION

ENGLISH

When the bell rang and English class began, a learning experience that was more than the students expected commenced. English wasn't just grammar and sentence structure or capitalization and punctuation. Sophomores studied cooperative learning and teamwork among other "applied communication" skills. Juniors learned the basics of composition writing. Some senior students were taught by a student teacher, Mrs. Julie Hopf. All students learned how to enhance their daily lives by bettering their understanding of their language and literature.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

What would you do if you woke up one morning, rolled out of bed, and found out that you were in Spain? It isn't very likely, but if you found yourself in that situation, would you know the key to survival — the language?

Some students learn their chosen language to aid them in their college study or in their careers: others learn it to prepare them for a trip to a foreign country. For whatever reason — knowledge or fun — six teachers made learning it a whole lot easier.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The Social Studies Department offered classes that let us take a good look at our history and our government. This year we even spent one full day discussing the history of the city of Jasper. Some students got to take a field trip to see some of the area's factories. The Social Studies Department welcomed Mr. Tim LaGrange. ## MATHEMATICS

If train A left the station at 2:00 a.m. traveling at 45 mph, and train B left the station at 3:00 a.m. traveling at 60 mph, at what time would train B crash into train A? Go figure! Not only do these teachers dedicate their lives to teaching, but they also take time for families, basketball, volleyball, and even yodeling.

SHAPING UP

P.E./LIFE SAVING

Physical Education was a time for students to relax from the everyday classes and show their competitiveness. It was a chance for students to shape up while they enjoyed a game of basketball or whiffleball with their friends.

Health, a Freshman class, was something students will need for the rest of their lives. Think about it, your boyfriend or girlfriend suddenly passes out. Without the techniques learned in Health class, you might not be able to help him. Indeed, students who have taken this class have often saved lives!

Many students who were interested in lifeguarding took Lifesaving. They learned techniques of rescuing people from drowning. Having taken this class, students can become certified lifeguards. This, too, was a very practical course.

Some students go straight to the work force from high school; the skills they learn will help them be successful in their jobs. # PREPARING FOR REAL LIFE

CONSUMER ED.

Students who took Consumer Education classes learned quickly what it would take to live in the real world. They learned to cook, sew, do laundry, and iron. They also learned about different types of houses, savings plans, family relations, and parenting. The Consumer Education Dept. gave students hands-on instruction to prepare them for the future and taught them the basics to survive on their own. Many students said they would be lost after high school if it weren't for Mrs. Hurm and Mrs. Jochum.

Molding, drawing, and sculpting and a splash of creativity add up to become art! Many students took art classes because of the fun and ability to express themselves through the skills they learned. # STAYING IN TUNE

BAND

The air was filled with tense excitement as magical music flowed through the night sky. Simultaneous with the last echoing beat of music and the final heart-wrenching pose, wild applause and screams came from the crowd. Our super Marching Wildcats had done it again. Whether they were marching the main streets of Jasper, representing our state in Arizona's capital, accepting the 8th Place State Championship trophy, or being one of the many to participate in Solo and Ensemble contests and All-State Band, our High School band program was surely something to scream for.

SINGING THEIR PRAISES

CHORUS

JHS Choir may have sung that they were "A Small Part of the World," but in fact, they were a large part of Jasper's tradition. They sang the national anthem at basketball games, participated in contests, and for the first time, the Show Choir went to the "Contest of Champions" and placed second in the varsity division. # HAVING FUN WHILE LEARNING

SPECIAL ED.

The Special Education classes once again had an exciting year of learning. Aside from regular class work, students and teachers took many field trips. Some of the places they visited included the State Police Post, Ford Motor Company in Louisville, and Executive Furniture. On these field trips students were given tours and shown what types of jobs are available. In order to pay for these field trips students sold spirit flags and towels. ## AGRICULTURE

Agriculture was a lot more than just farming. The Agriculture Education class taught by Mr. Haycox dealt with animal science, plant/soil science, and horticulture science, just to name a few. The students enjoyed spending time outside. The most beneficial project was working to better the appearance of the school by improving the landscaping.

EXPERIENCING THE FUTURE

I.C.E./H.O.S.A.

Taking classes in high school to prepare for the future puts a person a step ahead of everyone else. Students enrolled in H.O.S.A. and I.C.E. classes gained this step. Members of each class enjoyed practicing their vocation. H.O.S.A. students spent time at local hospitals, nursing homes, and schools gaining skills needed in the medical field. I.C.E. students spent a period each day in class training for today's work force and then were permitted to leave school early to experience it.

RIDDING FAREWELL . . . NOBLITT RETIRES

Mr. Don Noblitt was involved with the Greater Jasper School Corporation for thirty-one years, following teaching/coaching careers at Parker and Middlebury High Schools. He taught elementary school from 1964 to 1968, and coached baseball from 1964 to 1973. In 1970, he served as athletic director for Jasper High School until 1975. He then moved on to be the high school's assistant principal in 1974, a position he held until 1989. In 1990, Noblitt became Superintendent of the Greater Jasper Consolidated School district, and remained there until his retirement in 1995.

Noblitt liked being the high school principal best because he had the most contact with the kids. "They kept me young and fired-up!" he said. He also quoted that the most rewarding aspect of his career was "seeing little skinny freshmen turn into adults and become valuable to the community."

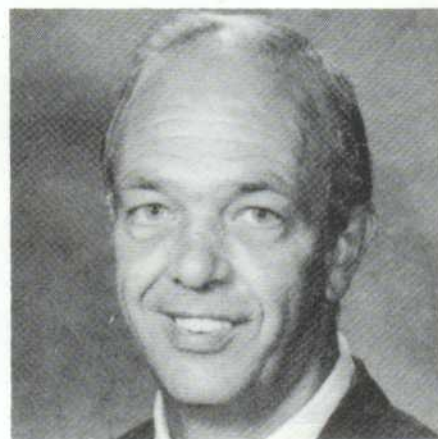

After retirement, Noblitt plans to travel with his wife, spending six months on the road and six months in Jasper. He said he has a motor home that's "ready to roll."

Don Noblitt sits at his desk during his last year as Superintendent.

For the first time in eleven years, the Student Council had new advisors. Mr. Land and Miss Jackson successfully guided the Council through numerous projects, thanking President Niki Hudson for her leadership. Some of the activities included the annual Spring Clean-Up, Slave Day, Eighth Grade Orientation, the MORP dance, and basketball and football homecomings. Besides Hudson, officers were Kristine Giesler, V-President; Angie Moyes, Secretary; and Greg Schnarr, Treas.

What? Students received money and cool prizes for turning in little gold cards from teachers? Yes, correct! Pride Cards were given out to recognize students for such accomplishments as improving their attitudes and work habits. To gain membership, a student had to accumulate ten cards. Winners were drawn weekly, and the monthly winners were students who turned in the most cards. The main goal was to be named Student of the Year. The award went to Andy Giesler; he received a trophy, a phone, and $250. Mrs. Fromme was named Pride Club Teacher of the Year.

You can never say an OM'er doesn't work hard. Working on their script for a short-term problem are Phil Moeller, Shelly Kunkel, Zeia Lomax, Audrey Huther, Chris Bohnert, and Ryan Mills.

Say cheese! Chris Bohnert and Katie Miller take time out of their busy OM schedules to smile.

After a long day of selling concessions at OM regionals, Megan Jackson takes a break to count the profits.

THE MIND

Odyssey of the Mind was an academic competition that featured creative problem solving by teams of students. Students in three divisions competed in both long-term and spontaneous creative problem solving situations. This year three teams from the high school competed in such problems as Scientific Safari, Vaudeville, and The Mail Must Go Through. All teams placed at state, and one team competed at World Finals in Tennessee. Gale Jackson was the group's coordinator.

Ryan Mattingly, Nathan Heinz, Adam Durbin, and Ben Bohnert go over their script one last time.

SUPER BOWL

The Academic Super Bowl team consisted of students interested in math, science, fine arts, English, and social studies. On April 18, 1995, the team competed at Vincennes Lincoln High School. Each individual team did well, and the math team of Michael Pilcher and Tracy Mundy advanced to state level.

Emily Wahl and Amy Stenfengel are happy that the Super Bowl competition is over.

ACADEMIC DECATHLON

Study. Study. Study. Books. Books. Books. The Academic Decathlon team, consisting of nineteen members, received many well deserved medals. They found themselves soaring to the top by dominating the district and regional competitions. On February 12th, at state they placed second and fourth overall with all members reaching goals of their own.

Discussing their strategy for the next round, Brian Gilmore and Aaron Ferley take a last look at their plans.

John Schnellenberger waits impatiently, while Emily Weikert expresses her confidence with a smile. "We love our trendy sweat-shirts," state Emily Wahl, Pamela Ard, and Nick Werne after state competition in Indianapolis.

The team may be well mannered and intellectual, but they still know how to have fun. The team was excused from school for a day to prepare for competition. Josh Habig and Tracy Mundy feel food is a necessity to studying.

FORENSICS

"Yah! It's a great big brush!" This was one of the nonsensical proverbs that could be seen on the crazy Forensic Theatre T-shirts. This year speech and drama clubs merged into a successful Forensic Theatre. Activities for the year included a rummage sale, numerous speech meets, the fall play, Twelve Angry People, and the children's play, Rumpelstiltskin. A highlight of the year was Michael Orth's presentation. Mrs. Sue Ann Burns sponsored the club.

JUNIOR CIVITAN

Junior Civitan has always been a very active club at J.H.S. and this year was no exception. The major project for the year was the Radio-a-thon. The club raised over $5,500. Other successful activities of the year included paper and telephone book recycling, the can-donation and carnation sales for Valentine's Day.

OCTAGON

No, Octagon Club was not a math club. It was a service organization. The object of the Octagon Club was to serve the community and the school. Octagon Club succeeded in doing that this year by participating in and organizing many activities. These included helping at the Girl Scout Christmas Party, co-sponsoring the Halloween dance, and arranging the J.H.S. blood drive.

KEY CLUB

What do happy children and clean highways have in common? They were both effects of the hard work of JHS Key Club members. Key Club has been one of our high school's most outstanding service clubs for years, and this year was no exception. Among their most successful projects were reading books to children at the Public Library and holding a highway clean-up. This club obviously holds the key to a bright future ahead!

Third row: Mandy Meyer, Andrea Schneider, Kari Schnarr, Audrey Huther, Jason Nord, Rachael Hopf, Ann Hulsman. Fourth row: Heather Sermersheim, Megan Kelly, Starla Sermersheim, Renae Durcholz.

"Sometimes it's just too much." Apparently, members of Jasper Jayteens never said these words. Members of this service club outdid themselves this year with activities such as a bake sale and Toga Dance, and wrapping Christmas presents for kids, holding a raffle, and opening a Karaoke machine to the public. JHS was proud of this diverse and diligent group of outstanding teens.

COLOR GUARD

The band is present at more school activities than just contests. The guard is also a part of the spirit they add. Melissa Blessinger, Tara Slocum, and Erin Frick are pictured marching at Homecoming.

What would the marching band be without the flutes? Or the percussion? Or the drum majors? The band just wouldn't be complete. And it would be just as incomplete without the skill and dedication of the Color Guard. Over twenty girls became a different person — Carmen — every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday during marching season. They also performed with the rest of the Marching Wildcats in Phoenix, Arizona. Mainly under the direction of Phil Fleming and Gary "GO CARMEN" Sprinkle, these girls added to the visual and emotional effects that are part of the magic of the Marching Wildcats.

WINTER GUARD

Double-time. Horizontals. Quads. Fifth position. Rib isolations. Are you clueless as to what these terms mean? Then ask one of the twenty-plus girls that took part in this year's Winter Guard. Under the direction of Phil Fleming, Garry Sprinkle, Bobby Watts, and Patty O'Brien, these girls spent many hours in the Fifth Street gym and at contests working these terms into their routines. Winter Guard is more than just twirling and dancing, though. It's displaying emotions and portraying characters and events. And their portrayal of Don McLean's "American Pie" won them tenth place at State Finals in Open Class.

The Jasper public was given the opportunity to see this year's Winter Guard in action. Many parents, students, and others came to JHS to view their interpretations of "the day the music died."

Row 1: Yvette Eckert, Rachelle Kelley, Erin Weyer, and Laura Schuler. Row 2: Abby Linette, Allison Werne, Chrissy Voelkel, Jessi Nolley, Angie Lampert, and Alyssa Knies. # ALL-STARS

"Just Say No." This is what the T-shirts that the All-Stars passed out to their 3rd graders said. Every 3 or 4 weeks, the All-Stars went to a 3rd grade classroom and presented programs on several different topics like alcohol and drug abuse and use, smoking, self-esteem, and being a role model for the students. They also spoke to 5th graders with the D.A.R.E. program. When students turned in an All-Star application, Mr. Jesse and a secret committee chose All-Stars by GPA, attendance at school, and extra curricular activities. Most importantly, when All-Stars were chosen, they pledged not to drink or go to parties where alcohol was served.

COMET

The Comet Staff consisted of eight members. The staff took many field trips throughout the year. Members attended the SISPA Convention at IU Southeast, toured the Evansville Courier, sat in on a Channel 7 news broadcast, and toured the darkroom at Herald Printing. John Rumbach, editor of The Herald, also spoke to the class about layout and pictures. Together, working in class and out of class, student members of the staff successfully published four editions of The Comet, with Jason Nord as editor.

Working to meet the yearbook deadline, senior Arah Leslie writes body copy.

The "J" Staff underwent two major changes, transforming from a class to a club, thus allowing upperclassmen and underclassmen to participate. The other change was the increased number of members. The staff included 18 members. The addition of students made it easier for the yearbook staffers to cover more areas more thoroughly. The staff attended a Herff Jones workshop at VU-Jasper Center, the SISPA Convention, and the Evansville Courier Press Day. Being on the staff involved picture taking, good writing skills, the ability to meet deadlines, hard work, and dedication — especially on Saturdays! Amy Stenftenagel was the editor.

MAT

Mat Club, FCA, and GVL are 3 JHS clubs that are specifically for athletes. The Mat Club's main duty this year was to cheer on the wrestling team. Other things they did to help were make scrapbooks and decorate wrestling rooms before important meets. The Federation of Christian Athletes attended a national FCA training in February. The main priority was to prepare for the expansion of the club. The Girls' Varsity Letter Club sold concessions at the girls' basketball games to help raise funds. Each of these athletic clubs worked hard for a successful year.

ART CLUB

Where can you always be sure to find someone with great perspective? The art room, of course! This year, the works of diligent Art Club craftsmen included projects ranging from original tie-dyed t-shirts to refurbished old furniture. In any case, one can bet they had a wonderful time doing what they loved most.

VARSITY FINISHES 3RD IN THE NATION

The winning tradition continued with another successful year. The varsity squad, led by seniors Andrea Becher, Angie Moyes, and Niki Hudson, won their 4th consecutive "Top Team" Award at NCA's summer camp. There they also received a bid for NCA's national championships which were held in Dallas, Texas, over Christmas vacation. The National team consisted of the three seniors; juniors Nicole Beyke, Ashley Chamberlain, Jenny Snyder, Audrey Vogler, and Angie Weisheit; sophomore Leslie Schwartz; and freshman Abby Stallings. Individually for Jasper, Angie Moyes was chosen "Best Cheerleader" at camp. Several All-American team members were selected from Jasper; they were Angie Moyes, Andrea Becher, Audrey Vogler, Annamarie Miller, and Kelly Craig.

MAKING IT WORTHWHILE

Football. Sitting on a cold hard bench huddled under a blanket, a cup of hot chocolate in hand, just for a game. Is it worth it? For the thrill of seeing young players in action, of course it is! There is nothing better than watching a football game on a chilly autumn night.

The Wildcats put on an impressive show every time they went out onto the field. With the defense shutting out the other team's offense, and our offense gaining yards on every possession, the games became almost predictable. The hard work and determination of the players were evident throughout the season. Coach Brewer stated, "It was a real treat to work with these young men."

Coach Jerry Brewer discusses the next plan of attack with his Wildcats.

REWRITING THE RECORD BOOKS

The Wildcats delivered another winning season with their hard work, determination, and positive attitudes. The team made it all the way to semi-state where they suffered their only loss of the season. Helping the records being rewritten was Kevin Cartwright with his yard rushing record, the defensive record for most shutouts, and least points allowed for a season.

This year's team showed everyone that if you mess with a Wildcat you're gonna get scratched!

Leaving his blockers behind, Kevin Cartwright runs for another touchdown.

Ready to do battle, the Wildcats take to the line against the enemy.

Our mascot takes time to enjoy the game.

Like a big cat in the wild taking down its prey, Andy Wickman pounces on a Raider.

Seniors Gavin Hile and Phil Seger rest while watching the final plays of the game.

"This season was one of the most successful in Jasper's history. Our team accomplished many goals and became a very close knit group. We wanted to win, and the records and championships just fell into place."

Scott Friedman, Co-captain

Brett Wilz kicks for the extra point as Chad Hoffman holds the ball for him.

VOLLEYBALL

BUMP, SET, SPIKE, WIN!

It seems that each year something special happens for the Volleyball team; this year was no exception. The Lady Cats set a state record with 18 sectional championships, the most in the state, not to mention the 500 wins this team finished out for Coach Zehr.

So who made up this great team? A group of dedicated, hardworking, fun-loving Lady Cats! The captains were Ashley Greulich, Dana Scherlee, Lisa Schuler, and Julie Wagner. They led the team to a 29-7 record. This team was traditional to the school, but their enthusiasm is what made them different.

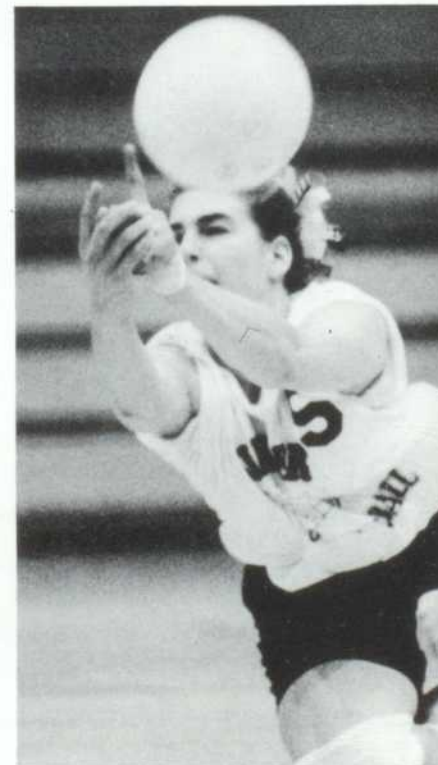

Waiting for the ball to return are Diane Seng and Laura Kunkel.

At the net, Christa Schuler and Ashley Greulich are ready for anything.

Team support is a must to these girls who know its importance for a victory.

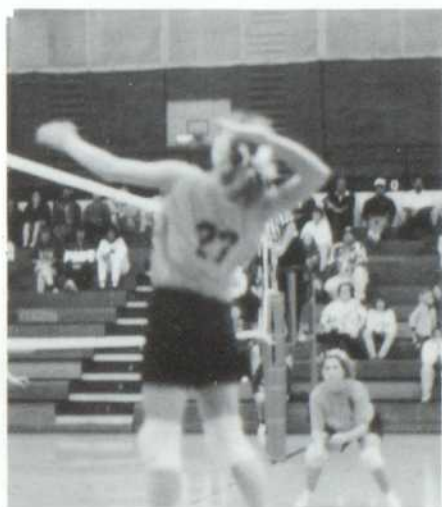

Anticipating a spike, Lisa Schuler jumps into the air to send the ball hard across the net.

The Lady Cats have many talented spikers like Ashley Greulich.

This is a perfect opportunity for Diane Seng to show her talent as she jumps into the air to spike the ball.

Coach Zehr has spent twenty-two years at JHS coaching volleyball — not only coaching, but also producing winning teams year after year. The 1994 season brought her to the five hundred win mark, ranking her fifth among Indiana volleyball coaches in number of wins. When asked what she thought about her achievement, she responded that it's "more a tribute to all the girls who have played here over the last 22 years." Her best memories include being state runner-up in 1991 and the two other times she went to state, in 1982 and 1993. Thanks, Coach Zehr, for making a splash this year!

CROSS COUNTRY

RUNNING TO WIN

"The runners' dedication and spirit has made this a good season for the girls' and the boys' cross-country teams," according to Mr. Stenftenagel.

He also notes that this was the largest girls' team he has coached in his career.

The strong leadership made the girls' team have an exceptional season. Coach Stenftenagel said, "One of the greatest accomplishments was qualifying for the Regional for the second year in a row!"

Kevin Schipp, Phil Goss, and Michael Wanninger had a "fantastic season," notes Coach Stenftenagel. Their hardworking attitude and teamwork led them to finish well at the Conference meet.

With many miles behind her, Destini Tate is determined to win.

Concentrating on the race, Megan Jeffries breezes by the competition.

SOCCER

THE DEBUT

Soccer proved to be very successful for its first year as a sanctioned sport. Both teams' coaches agreed that soccer will thrive in Jasper. Coach French said, "The girls helped establish a soccer program that has the will to survive and bring soccer to a new level." Boys' Coach Platanos stated, "This team put Jasper Soccer on the map."

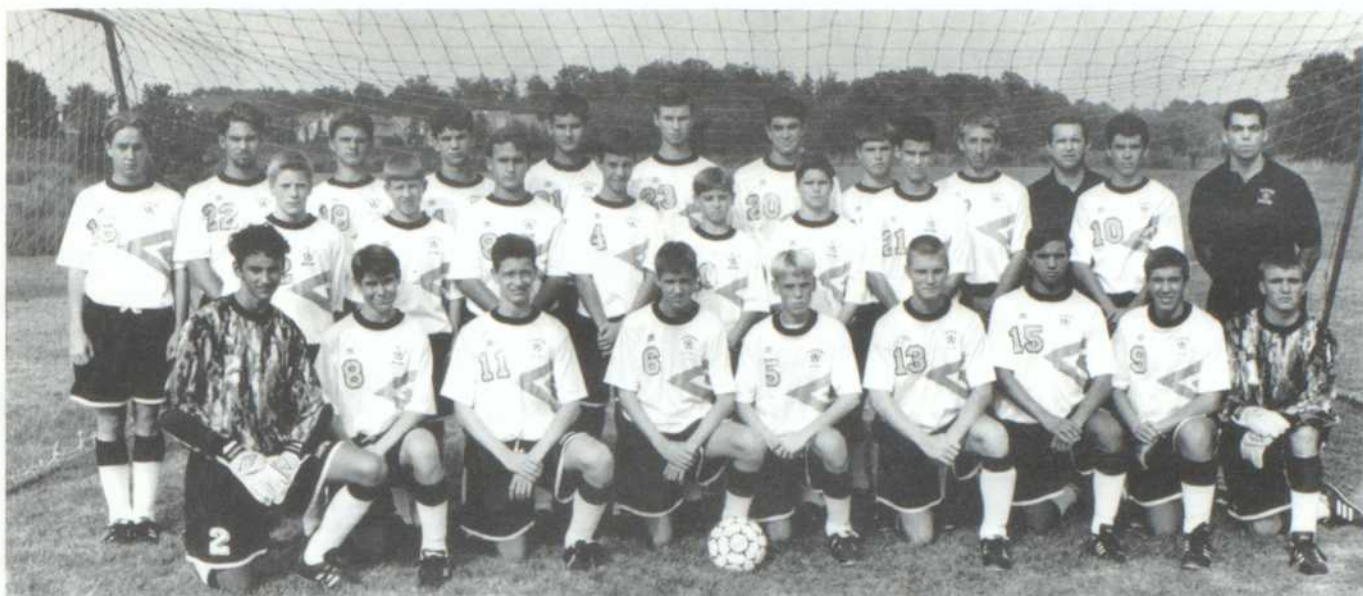

Making a break towards the goal, Adrienne Koval challenges the goalie, while Andrea Scheu supports her.

VARSITY BASKETBALL REACHING NEW HEIGHTS

The Wildcat basketball slogan, "The Time is Now," echoed throughout the season. Under the leadership of Jared Brosmer, Nick Blessinger, and Michael Lewis, the Wildcats roared through their best season in 22 years. Other accomplishments of the successful season included finishing second in the Big 8 conference, winning the Southridge Sectional, and placing runner-up in the Washington Regional. According to Head Coach Ken Schultheis the formula for victory consisted of "effort, hard work, and faith."

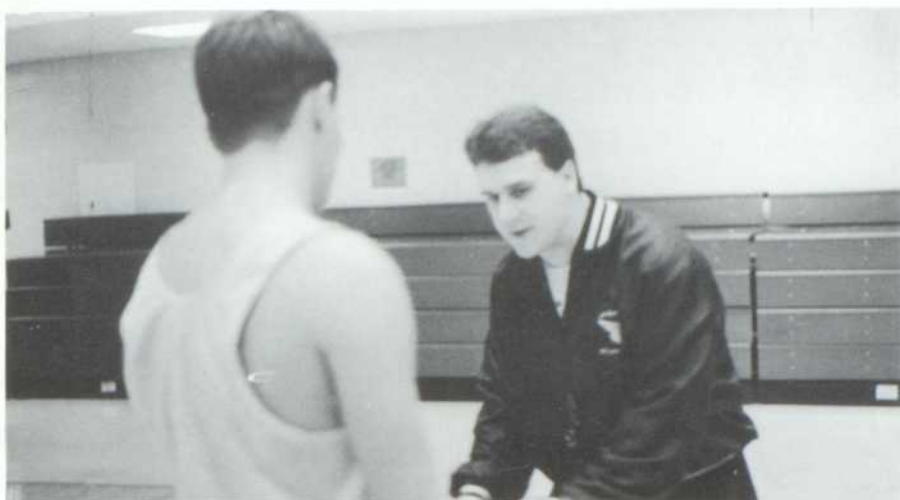

During an after school practice, Coach Schultheis talks to his team about their most recent game.

DRIVING FOR STATE

Drive. Putt. Chip.

The boys' and girls' golf teams have always practiced these shots. Since each year they get better and better, the saying "Practice makes perfect" must be true. This year, of course, was no exception. Each team had a phenomenal season. Advancing to State competition is the goal of every sports team, and both the girls and the boys made it. Each team brought home a third place victory. According to Coach Glezen, "The attitudes of both teams were excellent. The kids really worked hard."

Sophomore Adam Luebbehusen prepares to tee off on the Jasper Municipal Golf Course. The boys' team practiced at Muni and Sultan's Run daily.

Concentrating on the next hole, Senior Phil Seger tees off.

ENDEAVORS OF THE DEEP

"It was a great thrill to coach these teams," stated Kristy Fulwider, Big Eight Coach of the Year. "They had a real desire to work hard." The boys' and girls' swim teams had exceptional seasons, and both of the teams sent more competitors to state than last year. Each of the teams adjusted well to a new coach and to new rules. On both the boys' and girls' teams, several young swimmers improved significantly and the upperclassmen showed great leadership. Coach Fulwider is "looking forward to the continued success of each team."

Concentrating on her dive, Junior Laura Hurst prepares for her entry into the water.

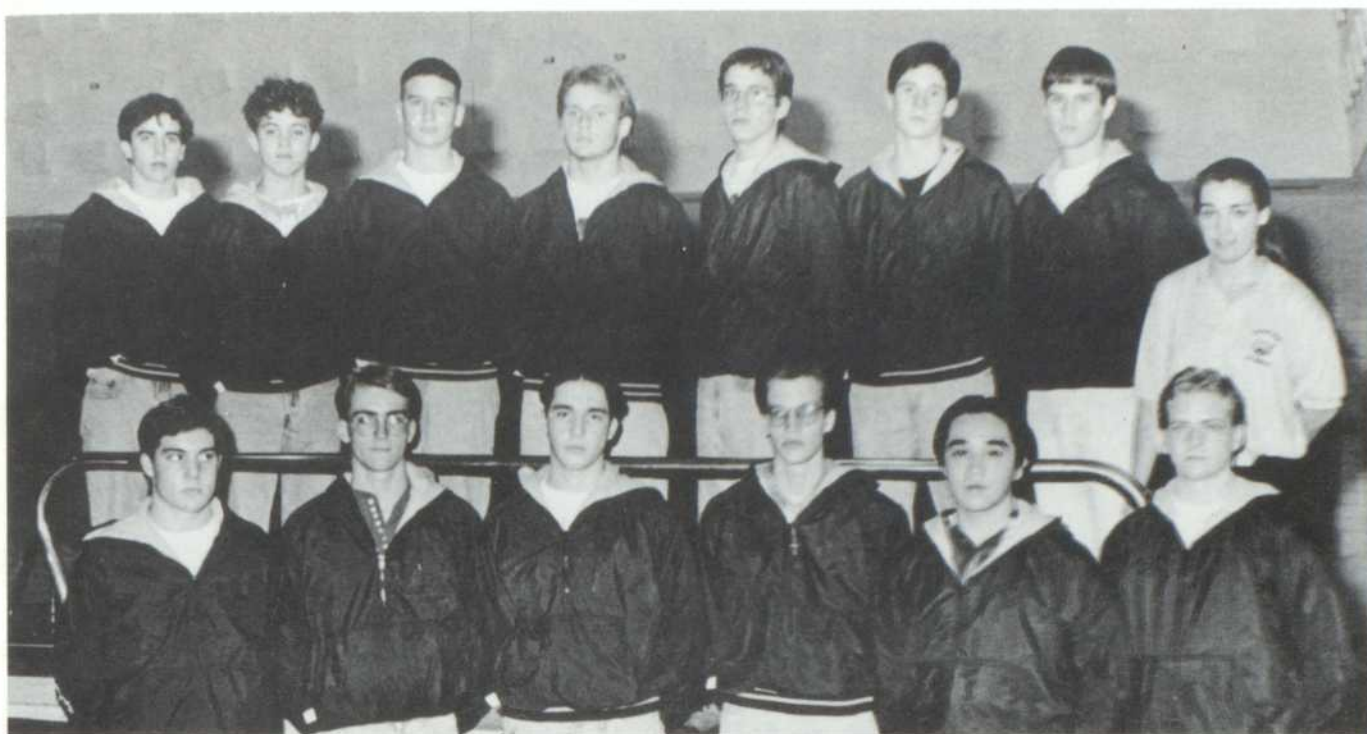

Practicing for a meet, swimmers improve their strokes and techniques.

Swimming in the 400 meter relay, Senior Brian Leon reaches for the win.

In mid-air, Senior Aaron VanPelt tries to hold his perfect form after opening from a tuck position.

TRACK

ONE STEP AT A TIME

The girls' and the boys' track teams both had outstanding seasons. The girls' team reached many of its goals by winning Big 8, finishing 2nd in Sectional, and 4th in the Regional, and by sending 6 athletes to the State track meet. Jill Fromme was voted the Most Valuable Senior, and Dana Scherle received the Mental Attitude Award. Natalie Seidl proved herself by breaking the school record in the 100 meter dash and by placing 8th at the State Meet. The boys' track record stood at 22 wins and ten losses when the season ended with a 16th place Regional finish. The team placed 5-1 at the Conference meet and 8-2 at Sectional. Coach Ahrens noted that Michael Lewis, Chad Blessinger, and Phil Goss made All-Conference and Kevin Cartwright, Luke Carrie, Brett Hurm, and Michael Lewis were Sectional champs in the 400-meter relay.

Waiting for the other runners to finish, Dana Scherle, Jill Fromme, and Heather Humbert practice for State competition.

Junior Diane Seng pushes herself to run just a little farther to ensure success in upcoming meets.

Showing grace and ease, Nick Werne and Adam Wickman fly by the other competitors.

SOFTBALL

ROUNDING THE BASES

Since one of the most popular summer sports is softball, maybe that's one reason the JHS softball team has been so successful. This season was much more competitive and tougher than previous seasons. The girls also had to adjust to a new coach, which, according to Coach Wehr, they did very well. The most notable thing about the season was the Senior leadership. "The Seniors helped the team out tremendously by showing a lot of leadership and team spirit," stated Coach Wehr.

After an amazing catch, Heather Fischer makes a throw back into the infield.

Libby Mauck, Julie Mehringer, and Lori Matthews prepare for the game by polishing up on their pitching.

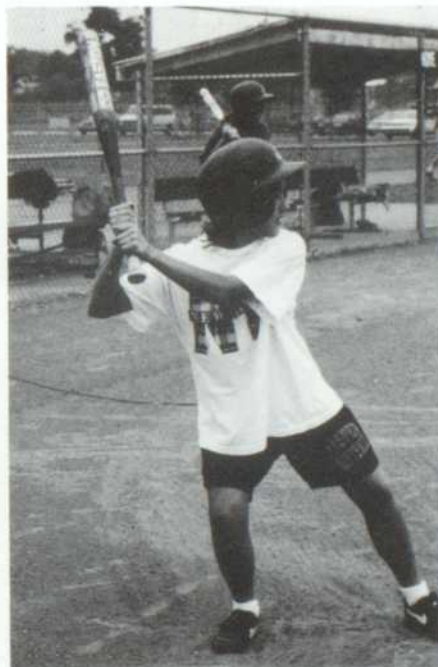

Kelli Vollmer observes as Carrie Winter starts practicing her hitting.

Front Row: Kelly Evans, Julie Wagner, Carrie Winter, Jamie Mehringer, and Kelli Vollmer, Middle Row: Libby Mauck, Emily Knies, Jennifer Wagner, Ashley Ruhe, Karen Krieg, Nicole Arensman, Kelly Wooldridge, Laura Kunkel, Julie Mehringer, and Abby Mehringer. Back Row: Coach Wehr, Nicole Butler, Shelly Kunkel, Deborah Seng, Gwen Fuhrman, Ann Hulsman, Adrienne Koval, Tina Burger, Lori Matthews, Lindsay Kluemper, and Heather Fischer.

Ready to hit a homerun, Senior Kelly Evans concentrates on the pitch she is about to receive.

Standing in a ready stance, Lindsay Kluemper catches the ball coming her way.

BASEBALL

CATS: HIT AND RUN

"They worked harder than any other team I've coached." When head baseball coach Terry Gobert said this, he said it all. The 1995 baseball team had an overwhelming season. The highlight was what every high school athlete dreams — making it to the State Finals. According to Coach Gobert the key to the Cats' success was "the excellent attitude everyone had from the first day of practice to June 24 at the finals. Senior leadership also contributed greatly to their success. Out of the seven seniors, three — Aaron Rees, Scott Hagan, and Jared Brosmer — made All-Conference. "To sum it all up," commented Gobert, "the season was very rewarding and enjoyable for everyone."

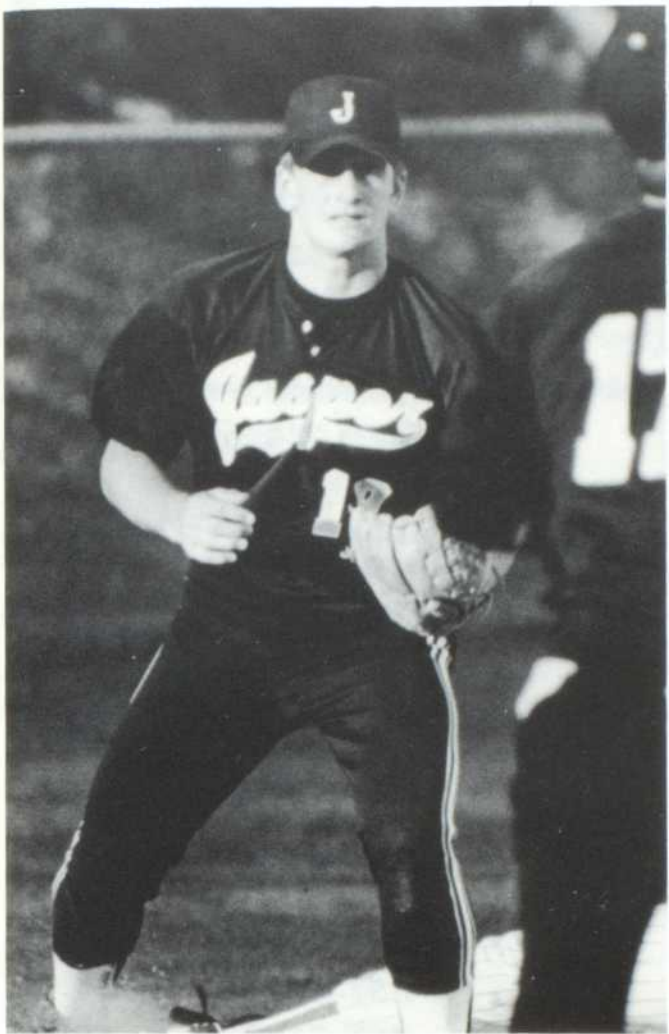

First baseman, Adam Auffart, keeps an eye on the ball and tries to keep the runner on the base.

Matt Mauck anticipates receiving the ball before his opponent reaches base.

Hoping for the best, Nick Blessinger runs towards home as Chad Hoffman observes.

Senior pitcher, Jared Brosmer proves 4 years of baseball experience really does improve a person's pitching form.

Remembering all he's learned during practices, Nathan Leinenbach tries to tag his opponent before he tags the bag.

WE REMEMBER OUR CLASSMATES

NEVER FORGOTTEN

Looking back on all we've shared through our growing years
Makes times like these impossible to escape without painful tears.

Our classmates are the people who have filled our hearts with love.
That's why they are the last ones we're ready to let go of.

We think about them often, wishing they were here.
But there are so many precious moments we'll hold forever dear.

They filled our lives with happiness, and although we miss them so,
We carry all their memories wherever we may go.

We'll remember our classmates always — though we're worlds apart.
They will never leave our minds, but live forever in our hearts.

They're looking down upon us. Their spirit is still alive.
We'll always be a family — the Class of '95.

CLOSING

The 1994-1995 school year has ended, and the JHS yearbook staff has completed yet another book of memories. I promised myself that in this final letter I would be totally honest. So, it's been a rough year for the "J" staff. Well, maybe not a really rough year. Just a year of a lot of changes and inexperience. This was the first year we became a club. "Yearbookers," as we call ourselves, used to meet first period everyday; this year we met every Wednesday after school for two hours and occasionally on Saturdays. The other major change was the number of people on the staff. Last year there were 6; this year we ended with 18 staffers. It was quite a big transition and a huge learning experience, but all in all I think we've put together a great book. Let me tell you about the staff who did it.

First we have the Seniors: Melissa, Jamie, Shannon, Arah, Tatum, and Brian. They all did a great job in helping to provide leadership for the club. Tatum was very faithful to the staff. Even though she had a job that didn't allow her to attend our weekly meetings, she was there on Saturdays when we needed her. Shannon, the Senior section editor, spent many study halls and Saturday afternoons working on the section. It looks great! Jamie was the Clubs section editor and Arah was the Academics section editor. They both were dedicated to making their sections awesome. They did it! As assistant editor, Melissa also did her share in making the book awesome. Woo-hoo!! Finally, what can I say about him, Brian? In the beginning his pictures were spectacular. He was the best photographer we had. We wish that he would have taken more pictures, though. It's O.K., Brian. Your interest in the yearbook at the beginning was great, even though it continuously dwindled down to nothing as the year went on. Hey, I told you I was going to tell the truth!

Next come the almighty Junior staffers: Andy, Megan, Stace, Angie, and Nord. These 5 also did a remarkable job. Megan has to be the most helpful person I've ever met. When all of her pages were completed, she showed real dedication to the staff and helped others. Megan, we appreciate it. Stace volunteered to do a lot of pages. In the end, with stressful work sessions and a little help from other yearbookers, she completed everything on time. Angie, the only person I've ever met with constant "writer's block," also did good work. Nordy was asked to help on the staff the last two months of school when someone dropped out. We all know it is difficult and frustrating to try to catch on to things when everyone around you is more experienced, but Nord, you did a good job. Finally, out of the whole staff the most amusing character had to be Andy. I would love to say that I can't think of anything nice to say about him, but it would be a lie. Andy, even though he's monophobic, played a major part in the creativity of the book. With all of his computer knowledge, he "messed around" with the splashes and the different fonts. Thanks, Andy, for all of your great work. The Underclassmen section and the Ads section both look fantastic. Good luck next year!

The third "bunch" of people I'd like to recognize is the Sophomores: Kristen, Rachelle, Nikki (yes, I spelled it right), and Sharla. Each of these gals amazed me in her own little way. Rachelle always had something funny to say. From "grace green" to all of her stories, she cheered us all up. Nikki was also very funny. She was constantly talking. We enjoyed it though. Even when she was ill, she made sure her pages got done. And she was a great attendance keeper. Last, but not least, two very creative writers, Sharla and Kristen. We all loved reading their copy and caption. Kristen, as sports editor, did an excellent job. She had a big responsibility and she handled it well. Go Kristen!!

Our last group is not actually a group. We allowed only two freshmen on the staff this year. Sorry, but you know how freshmen are. The lucky two were Mandy and Lindsay. In the beginning we didn't know what to expect. They quietly sat in the back of the room at our meetings. When it was time to work, though, they did a lot and they did it well. Lindsay did an exceptional job on the OM spread. The pictures and captions are great. Mandy, the human thesaurus, was a joy to work with too. Over the year I was fortunate enough to get to work with her through other clubs. She really is a great person, even though she is a perfectionist. I've never met anyone like her. Mandy redrew spread after spread. It was refreshing to see someone always trying to make their pages better. Thanks, Mandy. It's been fun!

Well, that's the staff. I love them all and am very happy we were so close. It was difficult at times, but they made it enjoyable. There are two other people who make the staff complete: Mrs. Dauby and Mrs. Fromme.

As assistant sponsor, Mrs. Dauby did more than her share. She stayed countless hours to help us. She was our computer expert and our "indexer". When we had Saturday work sessions, Mrs. Dauby drove all the way from Tell City to assist us. Mrs. Dauby, we can't thank you enough.

I never knew Mrs. Fromme before this year. I really wish I had. She is a wonderful woman, and ever since I met her, I've admired her. No, I'm not just saying this about her so I'll pass her class. The school year is over, and I've gotten my grade from her. I truly love Mrs. Fromme. We all do. I think the most admirable thing about her is the way she juggles everything. She is a mother, a wife, and a teacher. The difference between her and other women is that she's great at them all. I really mean it. Mrs. Fromme is successful. She has a terrific family and she has been a role model for us all. What more could you ask for? Thank you, Mrs. Fromme. You've taught us all so much. We'll never forget you.

O.K., that's all I have to say. I know the only people who are reading this are yearbookers, some teachers and administrators, and a few students. So those you who are reading this tell everyone else to at least skim this last paragraph. I would like to thank you all for taking the time to look at our work. We put a lot of time and energy into it. Thanks for making it all worthwhile. Just so you know, a copy of this book is going in the Library of Congress.
